MESSRS. PEASE & MAYS,
The Dalles, Oregon.

Gentlemen: We have your valued favor of recent date to hand and take pleasure in forwarding, as per request, sample No. 1½ Camera for your examination and test. We trust we may have your early report on the matter, as we permit the use of same to but one dealer in each city, believing this to be to the best interests of all.

The camera craze is now at its height, and we believe the time is ripe for using a camera as an advertising or premium offer. We are prompted in making this offer by the phenomenal success which a number of the largest merchants in the East have had using our camera in this manner. Each outfit is guaranteed fully by us, and same will be replaced if found defective in any way. We trust we may have the pleasure of allotting your territory, and await your early report.

Very truly,

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

The city dads will meet in regular consultation tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Members of the order of Elks are requested to be present at the meeting tonight.

Fred Hertz, a German, was today admitted as a member of Uncle Sam's family.

License to wed was today issued by the county clerk to Frank Heater and Mildred Linweff, both of this city.

The question now is, "What shall we do with our streets?" They are too thin for cultivation and too thick for navigation.

We regret to learn that Mrs. S. B. Adams is still very ill. So serious was her condition this morning that her son-in-law, L. Brown, considered it advisable to remain here, and therefore secured J. D. Tuney to take his place as driver of the stage to Moro.

Farmers who came in town today report the main road in a very bad condition. Mr. J. B. Haverly was considering the advisability of following Noah's example; while L. Rice was congratulating himself that his horses were tall so that their heads could be seen above the mud which enveloped them.

The services at the Methodist church tomorrow morning will be in the interest of missions and an address will be delivered by Rev. C. R. Thoburn, who is a son of the Methodist bishop now in Africa, and chancellor of the consolidated university. In the evening Chaplain Lozier, whose entertainment was so much enjoyed last night, will occupy the pulpit. All are invited to be present.

Walter McPhee, a laborer, who had the misfortune to get his toes frozen a short time since while traveling near Riparia, causing him to be unable to walk, is now an inmate of the city jail from choice. Finding himself unable to proceed further he begged leave to spend a short time within these not inviting walls in preference to wandering aimlessly about the streets.

Work on the new water mains seems to be progressing very rapidly, although it is claimed it has been somewhat delayed, material not arriving. Today they are engaged in changing the direction of the sewer on Union street, so that it will not interfere with the course which the main takes. It was expected that the ten-inch pipe on that street would be laid this afternoon.

This morning just as the Goldendale stage was loading up in front of the Umatilla House, one of the horses in the lead became frightened and started to run up Union street. The driver, who was busily engaged placing articles in the back of the vehicle, immediately went in pursuit of the rig, and with the assistance of W. H. Butts, succeeded in stopping them. The two lady occupants were much frightened, as well they might have been.

D. Solis Cohen and wife will arrive in the city this evening from Portland and tomorrow afternoon Dalles people will be privileged to hear this eloquent orator deliver the address at the Elks memorial. These exercises, which are always very impressive, are looked forward to from year to year as being an occasion upon which some very excellent addresses and sweet music are listened to and where is beautifully expressed the brotherly love which still exists for those who are departed.

Yesterday morning about 8 o'clock a strange atmospheric phenomena was noticed in the heavens, consisting of a streak of white extending from the southwest portion of the sky almost diagonally across to the northwest. So bright was its light that a snap shot taken by Mr. Brooks made a distinct impression on the plate. It was also visible this morning, with perhaps a little less brightness. No one seems to understand just what it is, as nothing of that nature has been noticed here previously.

A dispatch from Sacramento to the Oregonian on Thursday said that Sheriff Kelly passed through the city on that day with Frank Forester, and it is thought he will arrive here tomorrow evening. The dispatch also says that the reward of $1000 was paid the Nevada officer. The notice of the arrival of the prisoner is given that any ladies who wish to prepare bouquets may have them in readiness. Whether he be guilty or not guilty remains to be settled by the court; but at any rate the flowers that bloom in the spring (or fall) should have nothing to do with his case.

Northwest Dead.

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Hedges, aged 68, a pioneer of 1845, died at Tacoma on the 1st. The funeral took place at Oregon City today.

Simon Sterling Markham, aged nearly 79, died at 4 o'clock Thursday morning, as a result of injuries received in a fall on a sidewalk a week ago. Mr. Markham came to Oregon in 1848.

Seth A. Hammer, an old resident of Salem, died Thursday afternoon. He had an attack of grippe early in the fall and never recovered. During the past two weeks he has been confined to his bed.

Captain James McCulloch, a highly respected citizen of Hillsboro, died from heart failure at his home Thursday morning at 1:30 o'clock. He was born in Terra Haute, Ind., January 6, 1839. He was a Union veteran, first enlisting in company G, Sixth Missouri. Subsequently he was promoted to the captaincy of the Fifty-first Missouri infantry.

SOLDIER CLASSMATE HONORED

High School Literary Society Gives a Reception to Walter Dickey.

Perhaps the most pleasant meeting ever held by the High School Literary Society was the one of last evening, when the program partook of a patriotic nature and a reception was tendered their former classmate, Walter Dickey, who was a member of last year's graduating class, but who dropped his studies to take up arms in defense of his country's honor. Their joy at seeing Walter was expressed in many ways, the feeling being intensified by the thought that his life for a time hung by a thread. In his speech before the society among other things he spoke feelingly of the death of his comrade, Will Fields, almost breaking down as he attributed his recovery to the loving ministrations of her who yielded up his own life soon after. He also spoke of the kindness of his former schoolmate, John Cooper.

The main room of the high school was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting, while on the blackboard was a sketch of Admiral Dewey which was the work of Walter's classmate, Violet Kent. The program rendered was as follows:

- Song—Battle Hymn of the Republic..... Society
- Roll Call—Quotations from Whittier..... Members
- Sketch of Walter's Life..... Minnie Bartlett
- Recitation—Circus Boy..... Jessie McLeod
- Recitation—Blue and Gray..... Bessie Vogt
- Instrumental Solo..... Pearl Grimes
- Recitation—Yankee Girl..... Stella Darling
- Debate—Resolved, That the Life of the Sailor is Preferable to that of the Soldier.
- Affirmative: Harry Curtis and Ivan Oakes.
- Negative: Lloyd Robinson and George Ruch. Won by negative.
- Speech..... Walter Dickey
- Song—America..... Society

At the close of the program a very nice lunch was served, and for fear Walter might miss the delicacies of a soldier's life, hard tack was in evidence, upon each piece of which the soldier wrote a message for his companions. At his table were seated the members of his class present and their teacher; at the table nearest sat next year's class, while at other tables were grouped his schoolmates.

Walter's furlough lasts until December 21st, when, unless he is successful in having it extended until after Christmas, he will return to Manila. He left this morning for his home at Hood River.

APRON STRINGS.

A Witty and Eloquent Entertainment Given by Chaplain Lozier.

If the audience which attended the entertainment last night has not a much broader and better idea of mother's apron strings as they are used to convey the idea of companionship with and love of mother, 'tis not because the subject was not presented in the most eloquent and expressive manner possible by Chaplain Lozier. The entire address was a poem throughout, containing truths both novel and far-reaching, expressed in beautiful language. His tribute to mothers was grand, and as he enlarged upon a subject which is far beyond the
