AMERICAN DESTINY.

of the United States in clearer light tended to by the sheriff. than some Americans. "One good feature of the present foreign policy of the United States," says the Berlin Post, "cannot be denied, namely: The marching forward, careless of what other powers say. The framers of this policy are displaying such activity that those of other countries cannot follow them. The most nose? characteristic feature of American expansion is the effort to get command of the future commercial highways of the world." The Post ad mits that the later steps in this program have taken the world by surprise, and predicts that further surprises are in store.

Benjamin Kidd, the celebrated English economist, in an article in throat? the December Atlantic, calls the attention of Europe to what struck him as a most remarkable manifestation of ened without operation; Catara people's faith. In traveling through acts removed without a knife; Glasses the Western states just after the close fitted where all others have failed; Rupof the war between Spain and the ture and Hernia cured without trusses United States, he found the question Chronic Rheumatism cured. of annexation or control of the Philippines under discussion everywhere. ist. A friendly talk will cost you noth-When he asked a man in Illinois, or ing, and is bound to result in a great Iowa, or Nebraska, or Kansas why he favored the annexation of the Philip pines the answer was, Because we ought to have them. The people three persons making the highest everywhere seemed to believe that average scores in five successive games of providence had opened the door to bowling between now and Christmas, possession of the Philippines, and one turkey apiece. After December 1st, that as a matter of national conscience afternoon will be reserved for ladies and and duty we must hold them. They their escorts only. To the lady making believed further that it was the the highest average score in five sucdestiny of the nation to go forward cessive games between December 1st and in the Pacific. They didn't care to April 1st, he will give a handsome silver answer arguments against annexation the country and an earnest declaration of their faith.

Mr. Kidd is an Englishman who has studied the English people in every grade of social life and in every phase of political excitement and development. He warns England and the rest of Europe that this belief of the American people in the destiny of the nation is a most potent factor in the development of the Pullman United States. He points out that when a people have decided in their Elegant own minds that there is a great destiny before their country the nation itself Tourist will be propelled irresistibly along the line marked out. He found the western people not disposed to criticise, not inclined to split hairs or quibble, but ready on every occasion to put in words their faith in the greater future of their country.

President McKinley found this same strong faith, this same courage, this unwavering belief in a great destiny when he made his western Through Tickets tour. The Germans in Berlin, the Russians in St. Petersburg, the Eng-Jishmen in London, the Frenchmen PHILADELPHIA in Paris, are discovering the same BOSTON AND ALL element of strength. It is not only POINTS EAST and SOUTH the administration or the government cal on or write to that is going forward; it is the American people, resolute and progressive, believing in their destiny.

This is the result of an investigation in America by one of the most observant of English publicists and writers, and his observations are in accord with those of men who have had opportunity of meeting the people face to face. We are going forward to the control of the West Indies, to the control of the Philippines, to the control of the Pacific, to a wider sphere of action, because it is our destiny .- Inter-Ocean.

The fact that M. Steve Douglas, who recently deserted the Republican party, has repented and returned humbly to the fold is only important as indicating how even a man of Steve Douglas' fine perception may occasionally make mistakes and repent them.

Aguinaldo's Filipino insurgents threaten to make war upon the United States, it is said, but this is probably a mistake. Whatever disturbance these insurgents may create under The Berlin papers see the destiny our form of government will be at-
