WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

THE CHRONICLE
Wishes its many readers
A right "Merry Christmas."

Midnight mass at the Catholic church.
Edwin Mays came up on last night's train from Portland.

Miss Edith Fisher is up from Portland and will spend a week with her friends.
J. M. Patterson is down from Wasco to spend Christmas with his family.

Rev. and Mrs. Taylor will leave tomorrow for a visit in Eastern cities.

Remember Capt. Lewis' lecture on the 28th at the Congregational church.

Jules Bros. will give a pigeon shoot Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock on the beach.

Mrs. J. B. Crossen, who has spent several days in Portland, returned last night on the 11:30 train.

Eddy Michell left this morning for Salem to accept a position in the state printing office.

Miss Nellie Butler arrived from Portland on the late train last night, and will spend the holidays here.

Miss Laura Thompson went to Portland this morning, and will remain until Monday evening with friends.

Rev. Bernard Feeney came up from Mt. Angel last night and will visit the family of M. Thornburn at Kingsley.

Mrs. Maude Eddon came down from Wasco this morning to visit with her sister, Mrs. C. Ross, during the week.

Matthew Thornburn, a student of the Portland business college, returned last night and left for his home at Kingsley today.

Wm. Bolton, who is attending Mr. Angel college, came up last night and will leave for his home at Kingsley today.

If you want your mail tomorrow and Monday be sure and be at the office between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock, or you will be disappointed.

In the morning at the Methodist church Rev. Wood will preach a Christmas sermon from the theme "The Cradle Song of the Nations." Regular service in the evening.

Workmen are busy today putting the large window panes in the new building of Mays & Crowe. It would not be well for a person's pocket-book were he to break more than one of these immense panes.

The small boy tells us skating is good on the sloughs. It is hard to believe such is the case and the weather so balmy. If it continues until Monday what a glorious time those who are to have a holiday will have skimming over the surface of the ice.

Last night at Keller's store the following numbers were drawn as the lucky winners of the prizes to be given by Mr. Keller: 4018, first prize; 5087, second; 3770, third; 2977, fourth; 2096, fifth, and 2807, sixth. Those who hold the numbers may receive the prizes by calling at the store. M. McInnis was the trusted "artist" who drew the numbers.

The round trip tickets to be sold by the O. R. & N. Co., will be good to leave on either Nos. 1 or 3 tomorrow morning, returning on Nos. 2 or 4 Monday evening. The time will not under any circumstances be extended. Those who desire to go down for the bowling tournament may purchase round-trip tickets at the same price, ($3) good on the same trains Monday and returning Tuesday.

Did you visit Pease & Mays' store today? We hope you did and that you came away with one of those neat little match cases, if you are a gentleman. If a lady, you were lucky in being presented with a pretty note book and calendar, having an aluminum case. They are indeed acceptable souvenirs and were much appreciated by all. This firm is noted for doing things up

"brown" and are never found following, but leading.

The following exercises will take place at the various churches tonight: At the Episcopal a Christmas festival; at the Congregational a Christmas tree, with appropriate exercises; at the Christian a tree and literary program; at the Salvation Army a tree for the needy of our city; the Calvary Baptist a tree with literary program. To these services all are cordially invited.

Have you stepped into the White House Clothing store and examined their stock? If not, you have no idea of the bargains you are missing. A man can dress well these days at less expense than he dreamed of if he only knows where to look for his outfit. When you reach the three story brick, on Second street, walk in and you'll find the store not white in name only, but in its manner of dealing with customers.

The big game of foot ball at Portland on Monday is affecting no end of interest among our people. Before the gridiron is cold the result will have been bulletined by the Commercial Club for the benefit of its members and friends. Several Dalles bowlers will attend the bowling tournament there and in the evening the result of the contest will be 'phoned in by games over the long distance telephone. If Dalles wins doubtless a rocket or two may be seen from that center.

Those settlers who are claiming forfeited lands under act of Sept. 29, 1890, that are situated within the limits of the tract claimed by The Dalles Military Wagon Road Co., and who have heretofore made tenders of money on the same with a view of purchasing, need not make another tender before the expiration of the time when forfeited lands can be purchased, viz: Jan. 1, 1899. This information is made by the CHRONICLE for the benefit of its readers who are interested in the same.

One of the neatest and yet most artistic holiday numbers of a newspaper we have yet seen is that of the Telegram, which reached us this morning and put all other exchanges in the shade. The cuts of Portland and scenery throughout the state are well chosen and some of them are very pretty. Portland is particularly beautifully situated and the view from some of her buildings is grand. This number of the paper is just the thing to send to friends in the East; as it gives such a good idea of Oregon and its industries.

Before leaving Manila Arthur Stubling made it a point to call on each one of the Dalles boys and received any messages they might care to send home. He left them all well, except Jim Elton, who was in the convalescent ward of the hospital; but as his card (which they are compelled to show) said "full diet" Arthur thinks he must be getting along all right. He also says "Fatty" Brown (who can no longer be called Fatty) is the life of the company, and succeeds in keeping up the spirits of the other boys. They are anxious to come home and will receive the news of their muster out gladly.

Mrs. L. Armstrong was delighted this morning to receive from her two boys, Alexander and W. E. Bonner, who are now at Manila, a long letter, enclosing pictures of them both and a beautiful silk handkerchief, on which were the likenesses of McKinley, Dewey and Merritt. Mrs. Zirka also received a handkerchief and letter from her two boys. The latter said that when the articles sent by the emergency corps here were delivered to them, he was given what they call a housewife, containing pins, needles and necessary articles, which was made by Constance Whealdon.

Yesterday S. L. Brooks received a letter from Mr. P. H. Cummings who now resides in Fredonia, California, but who will be remembered by old Dalles residents as having lived here in the early '60's. Mr. Brooks had not heard from him since '71, when he met him in San Francisco. He wrote to inquire concerning friends here and mentioned the names of Robert and William Grant. The former died in Scotland several years ago, while the latter is now in Dawson City, Alaska. Mr. Brooks in answering gave a very flattering, but deserved compliment to The Dalles and the improvements made since Mr. Cummings' residence here.

From Mr. H. Richards, who is in today from the Liberty district, we learn that the funeral of Mrs. Reese was held at A. C. Rice's place on Thursday and the body taken to Dufur for burial. He says the services were doubly sad, taking place in the room where Mr. Gardner, who was badly injured, was lying. Mrs. Reese was 45 years old and left four children, the eldest a son 21 years old and the youngest a little girl of 5 years. A strange incident was that some time before the fatal trip Mrs. Reese had expressed a wish to her son that if anything should happen to cause her death before she was married she wished to be buried in her wedding dress, which wish was granted. The dress was a dark one, but in her hands and on her breast were placed some white chrysanthemums which had thoughtfully been sent out by Mr. Buchler. Mr. Gardner who was removed to Dufur, is getting along remarkably well and will no doubt recover.

Postmaster Crossman having been requested, in the interest of relatives and friends of soldiers in the Philippines, to furnish the Oregonians with dates on which steamers carrying mail for Manila will sail, and the hour and date on which mails will close at the postoffice here, in order to catch such steamers, the following in regard to this matter was furnished by Chief Clerk Cotterman, of the railway mail service: A steamer will leave Vancouver, B. C., carrying mail for Manila, January 2d. Mails to go by her will leave here at 10:10 p. m., December 29th. The next steamer to carry Manila mail will leave San Francisco January 7th, mail to connect with which will leave here on January 5th, at 6 p. m.—Oregonian.

CHRISTMASTIDE.

Let It Be a Merry, Not a Burdensome One.

To most of us it seems but yesterday since we were celebrating the glorious Christmas tide, and yet 'tis but the night before Christmas and tomorrow we again enjoy its cheer, for it should be the happiest day of all the year.

If to some it seems a burden it is because they themselves have made it so, and instead of making it a time for gifts of love, they have changed it into a day for the display of costly presents, and therefore for weeks previous to its arrival rack their brains in the endeavor to find something which will be expensive enough to offer as a Christmas gift, forgetting that the smallest remembrance is fully as adequate to express the love which prompts the giver. The same spirit is displayed in remembering the little ones on this occasion, until they are so loaded down with toys, etc., that the real pleasure is lost.

Were the articles less plentiful the enjoyment of those received would be the more noticeable. Even the little ones appreciate the fact that it is more blessed to give than to receive, and they are never too young to be taught taught this truth, which it is to be hoped that the older children have so thoroughly learned that not a needy one in our city will be overlooked tomorrow, and therefore all will have a merry Christmas.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

Kindergartners Enjoy Themselves.

No company of children in the city understands the art of enjoying themselves better than those of the Kindergarten school, this Christmas their teacher, Miss Taylor, secured a tree for them and left its arrangement to the Kindergartners, who fixed it up to suit themselves and placed thereon gifts for mamma and papa, which they had made. Yesterday afternoon the children and parents gathered at their school room in the Baptist church, and after Kindergarten exercises by the pupils and singing by Mrs. Woodworth, the little presents were distributed. Then to the surprise of the children a tree was displayed, which the teacher had arranged for them, and each little one received a book from her, and a bag of candy and nuts, and Miss Taylor explained to them that Mr. J. C. Hostetter was the Santa Claus, who had brought the latter to them. The idea of Santa Claus is not overthrown, but they are taught that they too may be a little Santa Claus, which helps them to be generous and loving.
