

THE DAY FOR STOCK-TAKING COMES

On apace, and we discover odd lots of goods that require the pruning knife. We are not loath to give them their just desert, for these things must perish; if not by the aid of the knife, then by the dust of summer; so we give the knife preference.

Ladies' Wrappers for Winter.

We have not talked these goods to you so we will ask your attention while we tell you of some good things.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

The county clerk announces the assessable property of the city at $1,110,000.

L. E. Crowe is today confined to his bed, with what is supposed to be a case of the ever present grip.

Remember the Dalles City leaves the dock at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning, a half-hour earlier than usual. Read THE CHRONICLE and you won't get left.

Mr. R. J. Gorman has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Brookhouse, deceased. He left the city this afternoon for Tygh Ridge for the purpose of making an inventory of the estate.

J. C. Pierce, one of Wasco county's poor, who has been under the care of Marshal Lauer for several days, was today taken to the poor farm, near the city, where he will be a ward of the county.

Will Hoering came up from Portland last night, having been in the hospital there for the past month. Having had to undergo two operations, he is still in a weakened condition, and will not be able to resume work for a month at least.

On the whole, nothing pleases an audience so much as a hearty laugh; and there is one continual laugh of three hours when Chas. E. Blaney's big extravaganza success, "A Boy Wanted," will be presented at the Vogt, Saturday 21st, by one of the strongest and largest company of players ever gotten together for farce comedy, including a host of pretty girls, bright comedians and high class vaudeville artists. It is just what it is advertised, two shows in one. Its big success in the various towns where it has been presented testifies to its worth.

The funeral of Leo Harkness took place from the Catholic church this morning at 10 o'clock. Pease & Mays' store, in the shoe department of which Mr. Harkness is employed, was closed from 9:30 to 12 o'clock, to enable the employes to attend the funeral services.

Last Tuesday morning Ross Field, the 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Field, formerly of The Dalles, died at Washon, King county, Wash. He was sick but about six hours, his death being caused by spasms. He was a stepbrother of Wm. Field, who died at Manila.

Have you read S. L. Brooks' new ad, in another column? Mr. Brooks has recently bought out the store of E. J. Collins & Co., and is now engaged in cutting prices with the view to laying in a new stock and otherwise renovating. Great bargains can now be obtained at that popular dry goods and grocery store.

A. S. MacAllister has purchased the boiler which was formerly used by the Crystal Ice Company, and this morning it was moved from its station in the burnt district to the laundry on First street. The boiler which has been used at the laundry proved insufficient for the amount of work it was required to do.

Tuesday night some unknown person or persons entered Marsh & Medler's drug store at Wasco, through a back window and broke open the till, but obtained only 15 or 20 cents. No goods have been missed. It is thought some one who knew the run of the store hoped to find the safe open. But they "had but 15 cents."

The Dalles City no doubt has seen a "peck o' trouble" today in reaching her present position, which, as we go to press, is between this city and Crate's Point, where she was having a heavy tussle with the ice jam. She was reported at the locks at 8 o'clock, and if all had been clear sailing she would have reached here about 11; but as large chunks of ice were floating down the river all day, she must have had a time holding her own. Doubtless she'll come out on top and make her trip tomorrow, leaving here at 7 o'clock.

Chancellor Thornburn, of the consolidated university in Portland, has been appointed pastor of the Centenary Methodist church, on the East side. Rev. Thornburn visited this city a month or so ago and spoke on the subject of "Missions," in the Methodist church. He is one of the best speakers that has ever preached in The Dalles.

Americans who have failed to secure property and take out a license to mine in British Columbia, are out and injured on the Atlin proposition, as the act to prohibit aliens from owning placer mines in that country has passed the provincial legislature. Those who were already property owners will be allowed to work that property, but cannot acquire other property; and no one outside of citizens will be allowed to work the mines unless a license has previously been obtained, which license is good for but one year.

For some months past two characters have invested The Dalles, who are not only a burden to themselves, but an eyesore to everyone who meets them. One of them has been collecting "old rags, old iron and old bones" or any old thing which he can turn into money with which to purchase the "drug," and how either of them exists is a mystery to those who have watched them. Last night Nightwatchman Phirman arrested one of them, E. Russell by name, for vagrancy. What to do with him is now the question. Marshal Lauer has determined to compel him to move along and leave the city, but at the same time can not help wondering where the fellow will move to. He is really an object of pity; but one whom no one cares to take charge of.

A special meeting of the city council has been called for this evening, to consider the new city charter, which will be sent to the legislature, after being presented to the council. The city tax will also be levied. Under the present charter a regular levy of five mills may be made and a special of a mill and a half. It is required that the levy be made before February 1st. Among other changes the new charter will admit of a three-mill special levy. It also authorizes the council to put aside and loan $1000 a year as a sinking fund to meet the bonded indebtedness of the city amounting to $57,000 and changes the boundaries of the corporation so that the western line of the "Methodist mission" shall be the western boundary of the city.

The fortieth anniversary of the admission of the state of Oregon to the Union will be fittingly observed by the two departments of the Oregon legislature, assisted by the residents of the Capital City, on Tuesday, February 14th. In fact the celebration will be of a dual character, inasmuch as February 14th marks the fiftieth anniversary of the extension of United States laws over the then territory of Oregon. It is proposed to hold the exercises in the legislative chamber of the house. There will be a morning session, for which three addresses have been arranged, one each to be delivered by representatives from the executive, judicial and legislative departments of the state. In the afternoon it is proposed to have an oration delivered, the exercises including vocal music. A banquet will probably be held in the evening.

Extra Pay for Capt. Lewis.
A dispatch from Washington to the Oregonian has the following concerning a claim of Captain Lewis for extra services during his term as register of the land office here:
"Commissioner Hermann, of the general land office, has just returned to the president, through the secretary of the interior, a report upon the bill which recently passed congress, granting to Captain J. W. Lewis, former register of the United States land office at The Dalles, Or., a payment of $521 for extra services rendered by him during the vacancy in the office of receiver occasioned by the death of Colonel Thomas S. Lang. As technically constructed, the existing law refuses compensation to the register for the amount of fees which he otherwise would have been entitled to receive had the receiver lived, and this bill is to compensate him for that which he would otherwise have received. The commissioner of the general land office recommends the approval of the bill."

We are informed the statement is in a measure incorrect, the services being rendered after the death of Receiver Slusher, and before the appointment of Col. Lang, whose death occurred two years after his term as receiver had expired.

Grand Opening.
There will be a grand opening of the new Midway, on Second street between Federal and Laughlin, Saturday evening. A splendid lunch will be served, both before and after the theater. Wm. Marders, the proprietor, invites all to be present at the opening. 19-2t

NIGHT SESSION OF THE SENATE
Lobbies Crowded With Persons Pushing Pet Schemes For Consideration.

CAPITOL, Salem, Jan. 20.—The senate held a night session last night, when routine matters engaged the attention of the senators.

This morning the senate passed two bills. The first provides for the right of county clerks to administer oaths when required in pension matters. The second names moneys in which taxes are payable.

After holding a forty-minute session the senate adjourned till 2:30 Monday.

The house today passed a bill providing for letting the contract for boarding prisoners in Washington county. Also one doing away with the custom of paying fees to private attorneys for collecting moneys due the state, and providing a method whereby state attorneys shall do the work.

The lobbies still continue to be crowded with people nursing pet schemes. District and deputy district attorneys are much in evidence at the state house lately.

The sugar beet bill will come up for consideration Monday, the house having adjourned until 1:30 Monday.
