

Time is Brief.

The days of the Clearance Sale are fast drawing to a close, and you should make hay while the sun shines. These rare bargains that we have been presenting you are not to be sneezed at. Don't think because we are having a few pleasant days that we are going to have spring at once. One bright day does not make springtime any more than one swallow makes a summer time. We have offered you a full line of reasonable and serviceable goods. You have shown your appreciation, as our fixtures will testify. We will add a couple of lines to make the list complete.

Dalles Club Minstrels
At the Vogt opera house Jan. 28th. Reserved seat sale commences Jan. 24. Additional local on fourth page.

The Washington and Oregon interstate fish committee will meet in Tacoma next Saturday evening.

The lecture to be given at the Baptist church this evening has been postponed. On account of sickness in the family of the lecturer, he was unable to reach the city.

Tomorrow evening a social will be given at the Christian church by the Christian Endeavor and Ladies' Aid societies, jointly. Admission, 20 cts. Let everyone attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Butler have rented the MaGee property on the corner of Fourth and Union streets, and we are pleased to say, will remain in The Dalles for a few months at least.

Secretary Fred W. Wilson has just received word as we go to press, that Captain Ormsby, who was to be present at the Woolgrowers Association would be unable to reach the city until the 5:30 train tomorrow afternoon.

The teachers of the public schools of our city spent a delightful afternoon with Mrs. Wilson and Miss Wrenn at the home of the former Saturday afternoon. After a week of extra hard work, the afternoon spent in pleasant conversation and in partaking of a fine lunch, was doubly enjoyed.

F. P. Mays, one of the attorneys in the Forester case, is in the city today, and this morning the judge set the date of the commencement of that case for the afternoon of the third day of the next term of court, which is February 16th. No doubt this will be one of the most interesting and hotly contested cases which has occupied the attention of the court for years. W. H. Wilson, H. S. Wilson and F. P. Mays appear for the defense and A. A. Jayne and A. S. Bennett for the prosecution.

Rev. Poling being unable to fill his pulpit yesterday, Rev. D. B. Gray, who fifteen years ago was pastor of the Congregational church in this city, conducted the services. His many friends and former parishioners were pleased to greet him again and listen to his counsel. In the morning his text was "Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven;" in the evening, "Am I my brother's keeper?" His audiences were deeply interested and hope to hear him preach in The Dalles soon again.

This morning a few minutes after J. T. Peters had left his home, the sitting-room was found to be on fire, and what gave promise of being a serious conflagration was discovered just in time. In a few minutes the fire would have been beyond control. It started from a quilt which had been placed to warm near the fire, and the children in being called to breakfast, had overturned it on the stove. It had been burning briskly for twenty minutes when discovered. The damage is confined to the carpets and walls principally.

Saturday evening Marshal Lauer arrested Ernest Patton, the other and worst of the two morphine fiends whom we have spoken of recently. This morning he was taken before Recorder Gates and fined $20 or ten days in jail. He chose the later. Although the most repulsive and pitiable object imaginable, he is said to be a very intelligent man, and a member of one of the best families in Salem. He claims to have been given the drug by doctors when being treated for rheumatism. Says he has been addicted to the habit for eight years and does not hope to ever be cured of it.

On account of the illness of the pastor Presiding Elder Warner ably filled the pulpit at the Methodist church yesterday, taking as his morning text, "He that is not for me, is against me, and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad." In the evening speaking from the words, "Behold I stand at the door and knock." The evening services were of a revival nature and will continue during the week. Wednesday evening it is expected that John Naegle, the famous "Campmeeting Johnnie" will conduct the meeting. Next Sunday Chancellor Thoburn, of Portland, will preach both morning and evening.

The new county of Wheeler, the bill providing for which has been introduced in the legislature, is to be 54 miles in its greatest length north and south, and 36 miles east and west, taking in the towns of Mitchell in Crook and Fossil in Gilliam county. The Statesman says: "The residents of the territory named want the new county. Those of that part of Grant are about 90 miles from their present county seat, those of Crook being also a long distance by circuitous route from theirs and the southern portion of Gilliam being similarly situated. It meets principal opposition from the northern portion of Gilliam county."

The ladies of the Commercial club will now have an incentive to bowl such as has never been given before. Saturday we were shown a beautiful trophy which is the handiwork of Mr. J. C. Hostetler and will be given by him to the most successful lady bowler. It is an ornament in bent iron work, consisting of a gilded pin set in scroll work, above which is a ball, also gilded, and crowning all, the emblem of the club—white wings, extending from the arrow point. Around the pin are arranged the gilded letters "D. C. A. C." Altogether it is a beautiful design which must have required much skill and work. Any lady would be proud to own it as an ornament.

At this time of the year the sidewalks are necessarily in a bad condition before the snow is entirely removed and the chinook has gotten in its cleansing work. There is much that can be done in an individual way toward keeping the sidewalks and pavements of our city in such a condition that pedestrians are not sickened by passing over them. In Astoria and other cities there is a law against expectorating on these highways and such an ordinance should be passed in The Dalles. It is fairly nauseating many times to be compelled to walk along after some consumptive or other person has made a cuspidore of the sidewalk. Besides, physicians tell us that this is a most effective way to spread tuberculosis and other diseases broadcast. Something should be done to compel the use of the sewers or street for such purposes, leaving the walks as clean as possible.

On account of the ill health of their daughter, Dr. Gertrude French, Mr. and Mrs. S. French have prevailed upon her to take a trip to New York City, in the hope that the change will benefit her. The time for departure has not as yet been fully arranged, but will probably be some time this week, when Mr. and Mrs. French will accompany her. They will remain for a time, their return being determined by the benefit derived. Yesterday during the session of the Methodist Sunday school, Rev. Wood announced the necessity of electing a superintendent to fill Mrs. French's place during her absence. He also spoke of the efficient work done by Mrs. French in that capacity, of the affection of the school for her, and the regret felt at her departure, calling for a rising vote expressive of the feelings of the school. All present arose en masse and tears were seen in many eyes as each considered the sorrow which has seemed to overwhelm their superintendent during the past few months.

Legislature Again at Work.
CAPITOL, Salem, Jan. 23.—The assembly convened at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, after an adjournment since Friday. After convening Myers presented Speaker Carter with a hugh gourd to be used as a defensive weapon, making a very humorous presentation speech. The weapon is four feet long. Several new bills have been introduced. One by Myers amending the law relative to the punishment of ghouls, which provides for penal servitude for from five to ten years. The pilot bill is beginning to assume greatness. Comment on both sides is warm.

Our Minstrel Show.

J. F. Hampshire made a flying trip to Portland yesterday for the purpose of procuring costumes for the minstrel show to be given by local talent Saturday night at the Vogt. While most of them will arrive later in the week, the reporter has been permitted to see those to be worn by the principal characters, and they are "beauts." So handsome is the white velvet suit of the interlocutor that it might put all the others in the shade were the rest not loud enough to make themselves seen.

The opening scene cannot fail to be very striking if the costumes give any idea of its appearance. In fact, the whole performance is to be costumed to the queen's taste.

The show opens with a grand first part, with N. J. Sinnott as interlocutor and Clarke, Hampshire, Crossen and Hollister as end men, supported by a large chorus of our best male voices. The jokes are all new and the musical selections the most catchy. This part closes with "Did you hear about Brown."

The curtain then rises on the little mascots, Lola Kelsay and Hazel Waud, who give a song and cake walk, which is said to be "too cute for anything."

Next comes a male quartet, in costume, and after a short intermission the last part opens with a tumbler act by Ballard and Kelsay. A similar performance last year was considered one of the best on the program, and is equally as good this year. Dawson and Heroux will also be seen in a leger main act, which is excellent. Frank and Crossen will appear in the dude black-face sketch, and their reputation as singers assures a fine turn.

Then we are to see Hampshire and Clarke in a turn which surpasses anything they have yet attempted. This announcement is sufficient to pack the house.

Baldwin's darkey band is a prominent feature of the evening, while many other sketches, etc., not mentioned, will be in evidence. Not to speak of the grand cake walk as a pleasing finale.
