WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Patterson accompanied the minstrel boys to Heppner last evening.

Ed M. Williams returned Sunday evening from a few weeks visit with his mother and sisters in Portland.

Jackson Engine Company will hold a meeting tonight at the council chambers. All members should be present as election of officers will take place.

The ladies of St. Paul's Guild are preparing for their fourth annual Easter sale, and will take orders for fancy or useful articles from any one wishing to aid them in their good work.

Miles Kyger, who died at Manila a few days since, was a popular Walla Walla boy, and his death has caused widespread grief throughout that city. He is the third Walla Walla boy to perish in that far distant country.

"Do you believe in hypnotism?" "Yes. Did you notice that young woman who just passed out of the office? Well, she got me to subscribe for a $4 book that I shall never want, and that she knew I'd never want."

We feel that we owe an apology to the young ladies of The Dalles for allowing our type yesterday to say that Will Crossen would take a carload of young ladies from Ione to Heppner to attend the minstrels. Not that Will has not the good taste to do so; but in this case it is Will Corson who has the honor.

If the weather at Heppner is anything like it is here, 'tis not likely that our boys kept step to the music of the young ladies' band today. From reports some of them could not any way, as it is said they were placed under arrest by order of citizens here who declare their silk hats are missing since their departure.

Capt. P. S. Davidson and son have written from their home in Wisconsin that they will be in Hood River Feb. 10th, and will be ready to make a start toward building their mill as soon as the sidetracks are completed. Their mill machinery is ready for shipment and only awaits the construction of the spur.

Last night the thermometer stepped up a little and stood at 15 degrees above.

About 10 o'clock snow began to fall, and at noon today five inches had fallen. The "beautiful" is all right, but is making its appearance a little too often to be appreciated, especially by stockmen, who fear the result of such a protracted winter.

Secretary Batchelder, of the Oregon-Trans-Mississippi and International exposition committee, is in receipt of a notice from State Treasurer Moore to the effect that citizens holding certificates of the commission for money advanced by them can have face value of same returned by presenting said certificates at his office in Salem, or by sending same through any bank, properly endorsed.

In spite of the inclement weather, a large number gather at the M. E. church each evening, and much good is being accomplished, every meeting witnessing some conversion or visible signs of penitence. The ill health of the pastor has thrown the responsibility of the work on the shoulders of Presiding Elder Warner, who has been untiring in his efforts, and therefore very successful. The meeting will continue during the week.

T. T. Nicholas & Co. have secured an option on all lands included in the coal belt on Chenoweth creek, and as soon as spring opens developments will be made which will surprise the most sanguine. The following deeds and contracts were filed in the clerks office today. From Max Vogt et al., a mineral deed; H. B. Halvor and wife, agreement; Andrew Ganger and wife, contract lease; A. Y. Marsh and wife, contract lease; W. H. Vanbibber and wife, mineral deed; O. R. & N. Co., contract; G. B. Halvor, right-of-way deed.

With the pleasure of skating at The Dalles, usually comes the inconvenience of walking almost a mile before good ice is reached and many who would otherwise enjoy it, are compelled to forego the sport for lack of time. Yesterday this difficulty was obviated, and a large crowd of skaters found the ice at the edge of the river at the foot of Washington street in good trim, and made the most of it. It was of short duration, however, for had not the skating been spoiled by the channel for the Regulator, the snow would have done the work. We should not complain, though, for this has been an exceptional year in this line.

It is gratifying to parents and friends of our boys at Manila that among the names of the dead and wounded of the recent conflict, not one of the names of the Second Oregon appears. Yet we imagine we can hear the boys saying "Oh that we might have been in the thickest of the fray," for their discontent has been caused from the fact that there was no fighting to be done; the inactivity of the situation seeming to be unendurable. No doubt they will yet have an opportunity to show their metal, if they are not now in an encounter. And when they do, Oregon will again be among the bravest. While the sympathies of the entire state is with them, and hopes and prayers are that not one will be numbered among the slain, we would not see them shirk a single duty nor fear the foe. And they will not.

The workmen engaged in cutting a channel for the Regulator to pass through in reaching a nook further up the river, where she will be secure from the ice jam, have undertaken a difficult job, but expect to see her in a safe position by tomorrow afternoon. They are at present sawing off immense chunks of ice and with the aid of large hooks, pulling them under the body of ice, well out of the way. It is no small task to manage ice of the thickness of five or six inches, and as a number of skaters watched them yesterday they expected each moment that some workman would lose his footing and fall in, as they worked on the very edge of the ice. This has been an extremely hard and expensive winter for the D. P. & A. N. Co., which has been compelled to encounter the inconvenience of three winters in one.

A queer character has been making the rounds of the city for several evenings past, and inquiring at the various homes for a night's lodging. He has a weird appearance, is tall and thin, with bushy brown whiskers, and has long hair. He claims to be an evangelist and that the Lord requires his people to make provision for his wants. At one place he surprised the man who answered his knock at the door, by exclaiming "Peace be unto this house," and with the next breath asking for a bed. The gentleman refused to admit a stranger into his home, but offered him money with which to procure a lodging; but his visitor refused saying, "Bless you, man, I can't take your money, The Lord will provide." He seems to believe that the Lord takes care of those who depend on their neighbors, and has since been doing the town, frightening many ladies whom he has demanded conversations with. No doubt he is insane; but although the attention of the authorities has been called to his queer actions, he has succeeded in eluding them.

WHAT THEY ARE DOING.

Our Correspondent Aims His Views Concerning Legislation at Salem.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 6.—[Special to THE CHRONICLE.]—The press statement here that Jos. A. Wright, of Union county, was to supersede the present superintendent of the penitentiary, is very premature, and, in fact, is liable to be altogether talk.

The facts of the case are that Governor Geer has promised no appointment in that direction, and all such rumors emanate from those who believe that they have all power with the state's chief executive, and by their wind and gall can force or coerce him to do their bidding. We do not doubt that Mr. Wright would make an excellent officer at that institution, yet we are inclined to distrust the statement of such choice as being a little short of the truth.

The past week has been taken up at the state capital by measures, the more pointed of which have been either backed or bucked by lobbyists. Among the most conspicuous cases were the Daly school bill, the sugar beet bounty bill, the bill fixing salaries of district attorneys, and the great medical bill. This latter measure is a scheme, whereby the so-called "regular school" physicians were to be declared by law "the only" doctors which might practice medicine in the state. The matter will be properly set upon when it reaches the house.

The district attorneys are very eager for that law to be enacted whereby they can receive more money for their services, from the public treasury, but they may get a dampener put on their unholly ambition when an august assembly of lawmakers says "nit."

This will apply also to the gang that is trying to run the sugar beet bounty steal through the senate. It won't go, unless your correspondent has counted some member against it twice.

The Daly school bill will undoubtedly become a law, although a dozen representatives of the book trusts are urging every available means to, in some manner, cripple the measure, so that it might become inoperative.

Several meritorious measures are up for consideration, relative to the fishing industry, educational matters, and revision of laws relating to election, but the remaining days of the session are few, and it is hardly presumable that much will be done outside of considering the general appropriation bills, which will be introduced Wednesday.

HOUSE PASSES TAX LAW.

Railway Must be Fenced Between Huntington and Portland.

STATE HOUSE, Salem, Feb. 7.—The mortgage tax law passed the house this morning. It provides for the exemption of indebtedness. Although it had little opposition, it caused much debate.

Flagg's bill appropriating $2000 relief for Magnes, who was injured in the penitentiary, has passed.

A general appropriation bill for the expenses of the state for two years was introduced yesterday and carried for nearly a million, a third of which the asylum gets.

The senate today is busy with local measures and routine work.

The house yesterday passed a measure relative to placing district attorneys on a salary. Also one requiring the fencing of the railway between Portland and Huntington.

Police Patrol.

Last Saturday evening an organization known as the Police Patrol was perfected and its work in the future will no doubt prove of great benefit to residents of this city who have previously had no protection for goods carried out of buildings during a conflagration. Their purpose is to prevent pilfering of furniture, etc., which is carried out and left to the mercy of passers by. At the time of the fire in the Mays & Crowe block, many articles were saved from the flames which were never afterward seen by their owners.

In the future the following patrolmen, appointed from each company, will act as a police, and prevent any theft which would otherwise occur. The marshal will act as chief. The patrolmen are: East End No. 3.—J. L. Thompson, C. B. Fleurer, D. Wilder. Jackson, No. 1.—J. W. Fisher, John Crate, A. Sandrock. Hook and Ladder, No. 1.—H. Liebe, T. Ward, V. Marden. Columbia Hose—H. A. Falk, J. C. Hertz, W. A. Johnston. Mt. Hood—C. L. Phillips, Ben Eben, James Harper.

It has been suggested that the various insurance companies provide badges for the patrol, which will protect their interest as well as those who insure with them.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with the transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently overcome habitual constipation, well informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system. Buy the genuine, made by the California Fig Syrup Co.

For the past week there have been two men advertising and introducing a new kind of soap among our citizens. It is known as Blue Mountain toilet soap. The above named soap is made from the product of a mineral soap mine located in Eastern Oregon, and is without a doubt the best five cent soap on the market. It is put up by the Columbia Star Manufacturing Company of Portland. Their Sunshine scouring soap is without an equal for cleaning or scouring of whatever nature, and is harmless to the skin, as it contains no acids. For sale by all up-to-date grocers. Ask your dealer for it.

To the Public.
