WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Tomorrow is the day when love-sick swains give vent to their feelings in sentimental verses, and the postmaster wishes St. Valentine had died a bornin'.

W. S. Geary, the piano tuner, will be in The Dalles the first week in March. Orders left at either Jacobsen's or Nickelsen's will receive prompt attention. 10-td

This morning, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. A. M. Walker, Mrs. Mary Josephine Headley, wife of T. L. Headley, of Boyd, passed away. She was 41 years of age, and leaves a babe ten days old.

On next Tuesday evening the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church will give a valentine social at the church. A basket lunch will be the feature of the evening, and a general good time is expected.

We are requested to say that ladies, unattended by escorts, will not be admitted to the Elks' ball tomorrow night. No information has been given us as to the gentlemen who may seek for admittance unaccompanied.

It is a difficult matter to keep track of the trains these days; that is those from the East. No. 1, which should arrive at 3:30 p. m., is today fifteen hours late. The Umatilla and Snake rivers are now booming, and the Short Line track is suffering in consequence, the ice from a slough being jammed onto the track, causing a complete blockade.

The beautiful burial services of the Masonic order were conducted over the remains of F. A. Abernethy yesterday afternoon at Odd Fellows' cemetery, M. Z. Donnell acting as worshipful master. A number of the friends of the deceased were present at the obsequies, and the pall bearers were: Messrs. M. E. Montgomery, Capt. Sherman, W. J. Sherman, E. Phirman, Harry Clough and James Harper.

Yesterday was one of those beautiful days which entices everyone out for a promenade, and naturally many were attracted to the banks of the Columbia, so strange did it seem to see the blockade of ice, with everything else about one indicative of summer. While the ice on the edges of the river is slushy and unsafe, the blockade in the center is several feet thick and strong enough to bear tons. All day long people were crossing back and forth, while others who watched were expecting to see the ice give way. While the ice is broken above and coming down lodges beneath, banking up at this point, it is said to be clear below Crate's Point. Unless a raging Chinook makes its appearance soon, there is no hope of the river clearing.

Through the kindness of Representative Roberts we have received an invitation to be present at the capitol tomorrow to join in celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the extension of the laws of the United States over the Oregon country and the fortieth anniversary of Oregon's admission to statehood. The exercises will be held in the hall of representatives beginning at 9 o'clock and a splendid program will be rendered, addresses being delivered by Ex-Gov. Lord, Hon. L. B. Cox, Hon. Geo. Williams and Abigail Scott Duniway. The best of music will also be rendered.

And still The Dalles heads the list; this time in the oratorical contest held at Eugene Friday evening, for the purpose of determining who will represent the university in the coming intercollegiate contest which will occur at McMinnville on March 10th. Among the five contestants were two seniors, which makes the victory for Homer Angel, a junior, more complete. His subject was "The Spanish War—Justice, Motive and Effect." The Guard says Homer is "known to college fame as a most heady worker on the gridiron, and the applause which greeted the judges' decision indicated that it was a popular one with the audience." In a letter written home Miss Daisy Allaway says when his Dalles friends searched for Homer at the close of the contest in order to congratulate him, he was no where to be found, which is characteristic of the young man, who never seeks popularity.

These Received Certificates.

Out of the sixteen applicants for county teachers' certificates the following were successful:

First grade—T. M. B. Chastain, Victor; Bess Isenberg, Hood River.
Second grade—Frances H. Foutz, The Dalles; Cora L. Copple, Hood River; F. A. Beatty, Wamic.
Third grade—Job Crabtree, Wamic; Elsie McAllister, Mable O'Brien, and Maud Sigman, Dufur; Jennie Parsons, Hood River; Frank Woodcock, Jr., Wamic; Ina Marsh and Retta Taylor, The Dalles.

Mrs. Kate Roach was recommended by the board for a state diploma; Misses Mary Frazier, Minnie U. Michell and Anna Lang for state life diplomas, and Miss Catharine Martin for state certificate.

First Oregon Newspaper.

Among the various belongings of F. Abernethy, deceased, was found a copy of the "Oregon Spectator," of Oregon City, the first newspaper published in Oregon, and edited by T'Gwillt. It was dated Feb. 5, 1846, fifty-three years ago, and was Vol. I, No. 1.

Among other interesting articles, was an editorial on Morse's "late discovery" of telegraphy and prophesying great things for it. Beside, there was a copy of the code of laws which had been drafted for the territory of Oregon, and which was to be voted on, and a notice of the appointment of the editor as postmaster-general and also attorney-general, which shows just how important an editor was in those days.

Another item which makes the Oregonian of today smile, is a notice headed "Mail Contract to Let," which contract provided for the carrying of mail between Oregon City and Vancouver by water every two weeks.

Many other items of interest were contained therein, and the paper is a valuable one as a relic of former years. Mr. Abernethy bequeathed it to Abernethy Cabin, No. 1, Native Sons of Oregon, and his brother carried it to Portland today to present it to that order.

Saturday evening Mr. E. Nosworthy arrived in the city and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Peters. Yesterday, accompanied by his wife, who has been visiting here for several weeks, he left for Portland, where they will remain a few days, returning to spend some time in this city with Mrs. Nosworthy's brother, J. T. Peters, and family.

A GOOD LIFE ENDED.

Arthur Walker Passes to the Great Beyond.

So often are we called upon of late to chronicle the death of pioneers, that it seems there must soon come a time when the "last leaf" upon the pioneer tree will drop and we shall miss from our midst each one of those whom we have been accustomed to see come in and out among us as land marks pointing to days long passed and gone, when their steps were as light as ours.

Such a one was Father Walker, who it has seemed for years could last but a few weeks longer. And yet there have been but few Sundays when he was not seen in his accustomed place in the Methodist church, for his life was noted for its Christianity and his devotion to its doctrines. Yesterday his companions were constrained to turn their thoughts to the congregation on the other shore, to which he had been called on Saturday evening about 6 o'clock.

His last sickness was of short duration, the ravages of gripe proving too much for one so enfeebled, his health having been broken down by a life of hardships and continued cares.

Arthur Walker was born in Illinois 78 years and 2 months ago, and came to this coast in May, 1858. His home for many years was on 15-Mile, and later he came to this city to reside. His first wife died about forty years ago, and in 1873 he was married to the wife who now survives him. He had but one son, James, who several years ago died from injuries received by being kicked by a horse.

For nearly fifty five years he has been an ordained minister in the Methodist church, being an earnest worker in the same when his health would permit, and a class leader up till the time of his death.

The funeral took place from the M. E. church this afternoon, and was largely attended by those who have always had the greatest respect for the aged pioneer.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with the transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently overcome habitual constipation, well informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system. Buy the genuine, made by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Notice.
