THE PINCH OF POVERTY.

That trains should cease to run business be in part suspended; or congressional and departmental work at Washington be carried on under difficulties-these are not the distressing results of the unprecedented storm along the Atlantic seaboard.

But that the mothers of poverty abould weep while the tears freeze on their hollow cheeks; children moan through the dark night, and fret through the biting day from lack of warmth and nourishment; and homeless persons of both sexes and all ages perish in the poor shelter of doorways- these are the tragic horrors of life in the great cities when blizzards blow and frost converts the earth into ringing iron.

At such times the matter of bare, comfortless existence becomes a frightful problem with several hundred thousand people in the great cities. The blame of it falls in part on the sufferers themselves, and in part on the selfish, heedless middle and upper classes. When several in Oregon and Washington.

Collections made at all points on favhundred thousand people in a great city are content to go on living from hand to mouth, without so much of providence as is shown by the birds of the air and the beasts of the field, there must needs be deep suffering in times when the great machinery of civilization comes to a temporary standstill.

For the able-bodied men and women who wantonly neglect their opportunities to make some provision against a few days of idleness and severe winter weather, no great amount of sympathy need be wasted. But there are other sufferers who can not be blamed for their destitutionmen and women thrown out of em ployment through no fault of their own; others incapacitated from long sickness; and sadder still, hosts of illclad, ill-fed children, who are dependent by decree of nature on the thrift and providence of those who have brought them into being.

But in emergencies like this, true charity will not pause to ask whether the suffering is due to ill fortune or improvidence. It is enough that a great host of God's poor creatures are in the deepest distress and danger; that bank vaults are filled with gold.

Harmon S. Cheesman, of The Dalles, Oregon, H. E. No. 5046, for the lots 1 and 2, and the E ½ N W ¼, Sec. 21, Twp 1 north, range 12 east, W M. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: J. W. Johnston, W. H. Calvin, D. Bunnell, H. Readel, all of The Dalles, Oregon.

JAY P. LUCAS, Register. that bank vaults are filled with gold, oregon. and coal bins with fuel, and granaries with a surplus which can not be consumed by both the home and the foreign markets .- Spokesman-Re-

Only two Republican senators voted against the peace treaty, and both are being denounced all over the country by nearly every respectable newspaper as traitors, upon whose head rests the blood of the soldiers killed at Manila. Every other vote against the treaty, besides these two, was cast by a Democrat H.A. STURDEVANT, or Populist. But it is a little singular that only the two adverse Republicans are characterized as traitors and held responsible for the death of our troops in the Philippines. It seems to be taken as a matter of course that Democrats and Populists should be disloyal to the country, but such conduct is held highly reprehensible in Republican senators. Here is a lesson in politics that should not be lest on the rising generation. Can it be wondered that so large a majority of the young men reaching voting age ally themselves with the Republican party?

The effort to send female convicts to the state reform school, instead of Office hours, 2 to 4 p. m. caring for them at the penitentiary, which is argued as a feasible plan by Superintendent Gilbert, of the prison, is not looked upon with favor by those connected with the reform B S HUNTINGTON school, and those who have taken an interest in it. They say the school office over First Nat Bank.

was instituted and conducted for the purpose of training youth so they may never go to the penitentiary, and that it would be utterly repugnant to every idea connected with the school and the pupils thereof to have female criminals brought in among them, thus tainting the whole institution with the name and attributes of a prison for felons. They claim that A good all that is necessary to be done is to fence off a portion of the state prison grounds as the exercise yard for female prisoners, and then furnish them with work in the line of sewing for the other inmates, just as must be contemplated for them if sent to the reform school. This question is worthy of serious consideration. There is no doubt that it would be difficult, with present facilities at the reform school, to enforce that complete isolation of such women from the boys there as would be dictated by propriety and the rules of safety.
