AGUINALDO'S END NEAR.

It is evident that the end of the Filipino rebellion is near at hand. The re-enforcements for Otis which have just arrived and those which are expected to reach him in a few days will give him the force which he needs to permit him to make the advance which will crush the rebellion in the only part of the islands in which any armed resistance to the United States is expected. The capture of Malolos, the capital of the so-called Filipino Republic, which is likely to take place very soon, will not have the moral effect which such a conquest would have among civilized persons, but it will have this effect that it will show the Filipinos that no position which will be of any importance to the Americans can be held by the rebels.

The fact that no vestiges of an insurrection are found in any part of the islands except in the one in which Aguinaldo is now fighting is of the utmost consequence for the Americans. The only resistance they will encounter is that which they are about to crush when the re-enforcements needed are landed. Luzon has the only Filipinos who are friendly to Aguinaldo's cause. Moreover, only one part of Luzon is in rebellion, or shows any disposition to rise. When the rebel chief is driven from the towns in the neighborhood of his present location the end of his career will come, so far as he can be of any possible menace to the United States.

This is one of the reasons for the rumors that the president is not going to use the option given to him by the army bill to raise the force of volunteers provided for in that measure. He thinks, or is said to think, that the force of regulars which the law furnishes will be adequate to meet all demands until the present congress next winter passes the sort of an army act which he desires. The outlook in the Philippines and the other islands which have come into our possession is certainly much brighter than it promised to be a few weeks ago, and this circumstance will probably have some influence in determining the number of troops which will be enlisted under the new law. With the rebellion crushed in the Island of Luzon, and that consummation seems to be not far away, the situation for the country would be greatly improved. It is evident that the United States will soon have leisure to give to the purely administrative part of the work of setting up a civil authority in the Philippines.—Globe-Democrat.

A Vienna professor of economic science declares that American exports threaten the commercial life of Europe. If our products and manufactures are better and cheaper than can be obtained in Europe, the Austrians will be apt to order them if they get a chance. In some lines of production the Americans are unrivaled.

When anything ruffles some of the Cuban editors they threaten to go off to the hills and become bandits. There is no guessing what will happen to the emotional Cubans when left to quarrel among themselves.

A Berlin committee formed to encourage the Czar's peace conference has disbanded. It concluded that with the work of armament going on everywhere the era of universal peace is not yet in sight.

It is stated that the Cuban postal expenses under American management are fully met by the revenue. The recipe ought to be respectfully forwarded to the United States.

La Grippe Successfully Treated.
"I have just recovered from the second attack of La Grippe this year," says Mr. Jas. A. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days against ten days for the former attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" A good drug sign.

You well know that a good drug sign is the patronage which is bestowed on the store. It is the purity of the goods handled and the manner of doing business that makes and keeps this business. We are pleased with the result of our efforts to supply the best drugs at the best price. We are particular about the compounding of them.
