DEWEY.

Admiral Dewey has emphatically declined to become a candidate for the presidency, and the sincerity of his refusal will not be questioned.

For example, Washington. In his address to congress, taking leave of his military command, he said: "Having now finished the great work assigned me, I retire from the theater of action, and bidding an affectionate farewell to this august body, under whose orders I have long acted, I here offer my commission and take my leave of all the employments of public life."

Jackson was more vehement in his refusal to become a candidate for president. His secretary quotes him as saying: "Do they suppose that I am such a d---d fool as to think myself fit for president of the United States? No, sir. I know what I am fit for. I can command a body of men in a rough way, but I am not fit to be president."

Thus it is seen that two of our greatest presidents were unconscious of the true measure of their greatness. Dewey has the Washingtonian and Jacksonian attribute of modest worth, and it may be that history will repeat itself in his case.

It is glorious that the navy has its Dewey of tried worth and greatness, but 'tis a greater glory that action has shown the presence of a host of men endowed with the qualities which Dewey has disclosed.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised 'Electric Bitters'; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed, at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store.

We are authorized to guarantee every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and if not satisfactory to refund the money to the purchaser. There is no better medicine made for La Grippe, colds or whooping cough. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. Try it. Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

Deafness Cannot be Cured. by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. 6-10
