NOTICE. BIG PROFIT FOR FAST BOAT.

A Maine-Built Ship Earns $100,000 Gross Receipts in Fifteen Months.

We find in the Lewiston Journal of the 15th inst. "the record of a Mainebuilt ship," which is very pleasant reading, for it furnishes conclusive proof that shipbuilding in the United States is a profitable industry under judicious management. This ship is called the Dirigo, and appears to be worthy Until March 21st, the Oregon Tele- of her proud name. She was built, the Journal says, by the Sewalls, at phone & Telegraph Company will re- Bath, and is the largest steel ship affoat bearing the stars and stripes. It is probable that no steamship in the freight business exclusively has earned so much money in a year as this sailing vessel has placed to the credit of her owners. The record published in the Journal shows that the Dirigo left New York for Shanghai on January 9 last with a cargo of general merchandise, which brought in a gross amount of $35,350 After discharging at Shanghai she came across the Pacific in ballast to Puget sound and immediately picked up a coal freight for San Francisco, which added $11,000 more to her receipts. freights paid so well then that the shir made two voyages in the trade.

She has just been chartered to load wheat,on the Puget sound at 33 shillings 9 pence. She can carry 4,700 tons of cargo, and at this rate the gross be $38,070. She is a fast boat, but if she could make only an average voyage she will reach Liverpool by April, so that her gross receipts for 15 months' work will amount to nearly $100,000, about one-half of which will be profit. Our Lewiston contemporary finds in these figures an ample exposition of the reason why Arthur Sewall, "the Bath shipbuilder and the owner of the Dirigo, goes right along building sail-ing ships, while less enterprising cap-and bought lots in Lonesomeville at two per cent."—Washington Post, Before the discovery of One Minute
