WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

F. S. Gunning is busy today placing the fire escapes on the Umatilla House.

Today Sheriff Robt. Kelly turned over $5,084.84 to County Treasurer Phillips. Taxes are being paid rapidly, as they become delinquent April 1st.

Several of our local barbers have received their certificates from the state board of barber examiners, permitting them to practice the tonsorial art.

Horse feed is so high in the Atlin region that it is said a man can carry $40 worth of hay in his hands. The poor horses there will regret they ever went to Alaska.

Next Saturday the ladies of the Lutheran church will have a sale of all kinds of pastry—bread, cakes and pies in the store of I. C. Nickelsen. Call on them and get something good to eat.

The Perkins hotel in Portland has been leased by C. A. Harrison, formerly proprietor of the Rainier-Grand hotel at Seattle and the Hotel Chibberg at Tacoma. He will take charge April 5th.

Commencing this evening the Christian church will hold a series of revival meetings, which will be conducted by Rev. Gentry Rasing, of La Grande, who will arrive on this afternoon's train. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

Captain John W. Lewis, a veteran of the civil war, has been invited by a number of prominent citizens to deliver an address in this city on his experience in the civil war. He has accepted the invitation, and suggests the night of April 5 as the time, and the Armory as the place.—Telegram.

Monday evening in Portland, Dr. A. W. Botkin, formerly of The Dalles, and Miss Mable Delano, of Portland were united in marriage. The doctor, who has been practicing in Arlington for the past few months, intends making his future home in Athens, Umatilla county. His friends here wish them much happiness and success.

There will be a sale of useful and fancy articles at the Salvation Army hall on Thursday afternoon, March 30, commencing at 2 o'clock. The proceeds of sale will be devoted to the self denial fund. On Wednesday evening the officers and soldiers will bring their offerings to the meeting and relate their experiences in raising the same. On Thursday evening everything left from the sale will be auctioned off after the meeting. Everybody welcome.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Evans, father of Si Evans, of 3-Mile, died at the residence of his son on 3-Mile. Last summer Mr. Evans came to this place from the sound to visit his son, with whom he has since made his home. About a month ago he was taken with la grippe, and seeming to be unable to take nourishment enough to support him, he finally succumbed to the disease. The funeral took place from the Calvary Baptist church this afternoon at 1 o'clock and the interment was made in the city cemetery.

Quite a number of people were attracted last evening by the sweet sounds of music issuing from Jacobsen's store, where Prof. Baldwin and Frank French were giving some pleasing piano selections, comprising some of the latest catchy airs. They were ably assisted by Charles Twineham, the genial and popular steward of the Regulator, and Chas. Threadbare, who played the mandolin with very pretty effect. These young gentlemen are abundantly possessed of unusual talent, and judging from the comments heard last evening, should they appear in public they would be given a hearty reception.

The meeting of the order of Eastern Star last evening was a short one, and emerged into a reception in honor of one of its members, Mrs. Levi Clark, who will soon leave to make her home in Hood River. One of their famous banquets was served, and the arrangement of the tables was particularly novel and pretty, being so placed as to form a star, each point of which was decorated in the various colors—blue, red, yellow and white, while the center was in green. After the banquet the time was spent in guessing games, which were greatly enjoyed. During the evening Mrs. Clarke was presented with an immense bunch of violets.

Travelers in the East are always pleased to find along their route in the railway stations views of the wonderful scenery along the Columbia river and proud to point to them and say these belong to our grand Columbia. We have seen many beautiful views, but never have we seen any that equal those taken by Moore, of Portland, and which are to be hung up in the Regulator. They are 18x22 inches in size, and are so perfectly clear and real that every leaf of the foliage and every waterfall would seem to be standing out in distinct view. One of Oneonta Gorge is particularly fine, as is also that of the falls at the Cascades. They are perfect.

The mystery of the valise which was found along the river bank a short ways below the city about a week ago, has been solved. It was feared that investigation might disclose something very sensational—a drowning or like disaster; but it has proven a simple case of theft. A young lady who came up from White Salmon about a month ago placed her valise in the hall at a private residence in the city, from which place it was stolen. This morning the valise and contents were identified; but a man's hat which was taken at the same time was not among the articles found. The tramp or whoever stole it, finding there was nothing in the valise which would be of value to him, cached it among the rocks on the river bank by way of getting rid of it and covering his crime.

WEDDED.

Dr. James Sutherland and Miss Ursula Stella Ruch United in Marriage.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon Dr. James Sutherland claimed as his bride Miss Ursula Stella Ruch, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ruch, the wedding ceremony being performed by Rev. J. H. Wood, of the Methodist church, at their residence on the corner of Fourth and Court streets.

The decoration of the parlors for the occasion was conspicuous for its daintiness, palms and potted plants making the scene an attractive one, while cut flowers drooped from numerous vases. Lohengren's wedding march was played by the bride's sister, Miss Louise Ruch, as the bride entered the parlor, leaning on the arm of her father, and accompanied by her bridesmaid, Miss Rose Michell. The groom was accompanied by W. A. Campbell, who acted as best man.

The bride was very pretty in a silk gown worn by her mother on a similar occasion thirty years ago. Over it was draped white mousseline de soie, with bow knots forming dainty trimmings. She carried an immense bunch of pure white rosebuds. The bridesmaid was attired in light green silk moire and carried pink carnations.

At 3:30 o'clock a wedding dinner was served, at which the following beside the bride and groom were seated: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ruch, Misses Louise and Jane Ruch, George Ruch, Jr., Hon. and Mrs. John Michell, Miss Maude Michell, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Michell, Miss Michell, Misses Rose, Annette and Myrtle Michell, Miss Nellie Michell, Miss Clara Grimes, of Portland, and Mr. W. A. Campbell.

The large number of handsome presents received conveyed to the young people the congratulations and good wishes of their friends, who took this means of expressing them.

The bride, who from her infancy has grown up in The Dalles, is too well known to its people for THE CHRONICLE to add anything as to her sweetest of character and womanliness. The groom, also so well known to every resident, having been a practicing physician here for a number of years, needs not our praises as to his worth and integrity. We can only extend our share of good wishes.

Dr. and Mrs. Sutherland will leave on the evening train for their future home in Spokane, where the groom has an extensive practice, and where we trust success will attend them.

Surprise Party.

On Saturday eve, March 25th, Mr. Roberts, with his Sunday School class of the U. B. church, called at the home of Miss May Barzee, to surprise her on her 13th birthday.

Those present were Mr. Roberts, Geo. Betts, Oscar Anderson, Earl Roberts, Hallie Rice, Loyd Barzee, Misses Ninon Oakes, Mable Anderson, Martha Bartell, Myra Bonner, Nora Barzee and May Barzee.

A program was arranged by Mrs. C. L. Engly while Mrs. Barzee rushed to the kitchen to pat on the taffy. All took some part in speaking and singing, and playing games. Mr. Roberts appeared on the program with some very nice comic selections.

About 10 o'clock all marched to the kitchen to take part in the taffy pulling. Everyone apparently had a good time.

Thus a pleasant evening was spent and Miss May was completely surprised. Nine beautiful and useful presents were received by Miss May.
