WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Ice cream soda now on sale at the Palace of Sweets. 4t.

Frank Menefee has been confined to his bed for the past few days with what it is feared would prove to be pneumonia. The Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. M. Wilson tomorrow afternoon.

Carey Jenkins, who has been attending the dental college in Tacoma, arrived in the city last night and is visiting his sister and relatives.

Many have missed the pleasant countenance of W. H. Butts on our streets for the past few days, and we regret to learn that he is confined to his home by illness.

We are to have a splendid play at the Vogt next Monday night "The Doll's House," which has so delighted the people of Portland, is to be put on the boards on that occasion.

It speaks well for a town when its citizens are planning to erect neat residences on their lots throughout the city. We have heard of several who are now having plans drawn for homes to be built at once.

Among the many other exciting occurrences today, Cupid stole around to the clerk's office and obtained his share of attention. Accordingly, a marriage license was granted to Harry C. Inlay and Emma L. Ehrck, both of Wasco county.

Mr. John Stevens, of Dufur, accompanied by his bride, arrived in the city last night from Portland and spent the day here. Mr. Stevens was married in that city Sunday night to Miss Lila Z. Evens. THE CHRONICLE extends congratulations to the young couple.

Job Heroux, of the Times-Mountain force, suffered a painful accident this afternoon. While using the cutter at the office the index finger of the right hand was cut almost off at about the first joint. He immediately went up to the doctor's and had the wound dressed.

Next Friday is the time set for the sale of fancy and useful articles by the ladies of the Episcopal church at the K. of P. hall. A splendid program is to be given during the evening, and, while the ladies are desirous of disposing of the articles on sale, they are also anxious for those attending to have a good time, and therefore, request all to be present and enjoy themselves as they see best.

Rev. Gentry Rushing has been extended and has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Christian church of this place, his work to commence in about one month. We are convinced that this church will prosper under Rev. Rushing's able leadership. The revival services now being conducted by him bear evidence of his scholarly training and superior attainments as a preacher and pastor, and we will be glad to welcome him and his family to this city.

By a change of time to go into effect a week from yesterday the Southern Pacific train for San Francisco will leave Portland at 7 p. m., instead of 6, as at present, and will reach San Francisco at 7:45 a. m., instead of 8:15. The northbound train will leave San Francisco at 7 p. m. instead of 8, and reach Portland at 8 a. m., instead of 9:30. Dining cars will be put on between Glendale, Or., and Redding, Cal., and the eating stations at Ashland and Sisson will be discontinued.

Last evening Nightwatchman Phirman came across an old man wandering around near Brooks' store, in the East End, and seeing that he was unable to account for himself, took him to the city jail. This morning the county judge inquired into his case, and found him to be one J. H. Richardson, who for some time has been an inmate of the poor house. A few days since, he came into town with Mr. Cushing and wandered away. After diligent search Mr. Cushing failed to find him, and thinking he was with friends here started home without him. While he does not seem to be entirely insane, he is much enfeebled in mind. He will be returned to the poor farm tomorrow, unless on further investigation he is thought to be too feeble in intellect to be further cared for there, when he will be sent to the asylum.

In speaking of the recent occurrence in Portland, when it was discovered that several shop girls had been found to be dishonest and to have been pilfering from the store where they are employed, the Telegram aptly says: "When department store keepers refuse to pay girls who work for them more than three or four dollars a week, and yet require that these same girls must be well and neatly dressed, they put a premium upon dishonesty, and that girls of none too strong character should succumb to such temptations is not at all surprising." While there is really no excuse for dishonesty, at the same time the wages which these girls are required to work for is entirely out of reason, and such as no employe could live on. However, the girls themselves are in a great measure to blame and should make the initiatory steps toward bettering their own condition by uniting to demand better wages.

Yesterday evening Deputy Sheriff Sexton and Constable Hill went up to Cello to inquire into the Indian murder case and if possible capture the murderer. Upon going to the scene of the murder at Dee Chutes they found that the Indian Jack, who was supposed to have committed the crime, had started for Cello, and they were compelled to walk back three miles. Reaching Cello they found the man and arrested him, although he protested his innocence and concocted a very plausible little story to the effect that four of them had been drinking cider and the two other fellows got into a quarrel with the boy. His mother wanted Jack to separate them, but he refused, and when he looked around one had him in his arms and the other was cutting his throat. He also schemed to get rid of his blanket, which had blood stains on it, saying some one had exchanged blankets with him. The Indians say there is no truth in his story, but that 'tis likely he got into a quarrel with the boy who may have accused him of killing his uncle, Indian Jim, last winter. The officers brought him to town and he is now in the county jail. The Indian boy was taken to Yakima for burial.

ANOTHER MURDER AT ANELOPE

F. N. Spicer Shoots and Kills W. D. Jones Yesterday Afternoon.

Dalles residents were again startled this morning, when upon reaching their various places of business they were informed of another dreadful tragedy which had occurred at Antelope, seemingly the seat of so many terrible murders. As in the last case, the victim is a man well known in this city, as is also the man who did the shooting.

The news came through a telephone message received by A. M. Kelsay this morning informing him that his father-in-law, W. D. Jones, had been shot and killed by F. N. Spicer at Antelope last evening.

The information regarding the affair was very meager; and nothing very definite can as yet be given regarding it. Rumor, however, has it that the difficulty arose from an old feud existing between the two men. Yesterday Spicer came up to Jones' place with a load of furniture for a family who was to move into the place, and Jones being there, a dispute arose, which became very warm, and finally Jones was shot in the head by Spicer, causing instant death. When the shooting occurred one was standing on one side of the wagon and the other on the opposite side.

Spicer at once gave himself up, and as officers started immediately for this place with him, he is expected to arrive tonight. He is quite well known in The Dalles, having married Miss Eva Rogers, a daughter of the late Alex. Rogers.

Mr. Jones is also known to Dalles people, having resided here with his daughter for some time. His remains will be brought here for burial.

The terrible affair is deeply regretted by everyone, and people are beginning to wonder when these awful tragedies will end and peace reign in that neighborhood.

"Frenchy" a Victim to Alcohol.

All residents of the city, especially those who have occasion to be around the business portion of town, were accustomed to seeing a little short Frenchman about the streets at most any time of day, and to hearing him called "Frenchy". His real name was Joe Martin and having no relatives here, he made his home in the old brick building at the foot of Washington street known as the Miller brick, but spent much of his time working about a number of saloons. He was a hard drinker; in fact was seldom known to be sober.

Last Sunday about 8 o'clock in the evening he went into Frank's saloon and claiming that he was sick, went to a bed room in the back of the saloon and lay down, saying it was too cold in his shack. Yesterday afternoon he came out and told Charlie Frank he was very sick, who gave him a small glass of wine. He was also offered some hot coffee, but refusing it, went back to bed.

At quarter to 6 Frank went in the room to get his bicycle and found him dead in bed. The coroner was sent for, but as he was ill, Ned Gates, the recorder, had the dead man taken to the coroner's office, and this morning held an inquest over the body. Nothing is known regarding the man or his relatives, other than that he has been in the city about five years. The result of the inquest was as follows:

In the matter of the inquest over the body of Joe Martin:

We the jury, summoned by Ned H. Gates, recorder of Dalles City and ex-officio Justice of the Peace, to inquire into the cause of the death of the body now before us, find the following facts, based upon the evidence produced before us.

That the name of the deceased was Joe Martin, aged about 48 years, and that his residence was at Dalles City, Oregon, and by occupation a laborer. That he came to his death on the 3rd day of April, 1899, in Dalles City, Ore., and that the cause of said death was heart failure due to chronic alcoholism and la grippe.

Dated at Dalles City, Ore., this the 4th day of April, 1899.
