BOOKKEEPING B. C.

Discovery of Ciny Records of Business Transactions, Temp. Darius II.

An American archaeological expedition excavating at Nippur discovered recently in a room 20 feet below the surface some 700 clay tablets, the business records of a rich firm of merchants, Ulurashu Sons. These documents are dated in the reigns of Artaxerxes 1. (464-424 B. C.) and Darius 11. (423-495 B. C.). The tablets are of various sizes, some resembling the ordinary cake of soap of commerce. They are covered with cuneiform characters clear and distinct as when the bookkeeper of Ulurashu inscribed them 2,500 years ago, says the New York Commercial Advertiser.

Among them is this guaranty for 20 years that an emerald is so w-'l. set that it will not fall out:

"Bel-ahiddina and Bel-shumu, sons of Bel, and Hatin, son of Bazuza, spoke unto Bel-nadinshumu, son of Morashu as follows: "As concerns the gold ring set with an emerald, we guarantee that for 20 years the emerald will not fall out of the ring. If it should fall out before the expiration of 20 years Beahiddina (and the two others) shall pay to Bel-nadinshumu an indemnity of ten mana of silver."

Then follow the names of ten witneses and of an official who is described as "the scribe of the Concordance of Proper Names." The document concludes with the thumb-nail marks of the contracting parties.

There are also leases of various kinds and contracts for the sale of sun-dried bricks and other merchandise, and for the loan of seed corn and oxen for plowing.

These Children.

And there was a certain man who being a merchant with trade to look after, was a member of the church, in fact an elder therein. One day he invited his pastor home to dinner, and while they sat in the parlor waiting for the call to table he began to tell of a brother elder's misconduct and grievous sin. "I only tell you this because you are the pastor and I think you ought to know it. I never mention it to anyone else." And he repeated this several times during his recital. As it Washington street.

reach the diseased portion of the ear There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
