NEXT ENGLISH QUEEN

The Princess of Wales in Line of Succession.

Life and Habits of the Popular Daughter-in-Law of Victoria - Will Live Up the Royal Court.

Queen Victoria recently admitted that of all the members of her royal family, excepting only her youngest daughter, Princess Beatrice, she has most love for her probable successor, the beautiful princess of Wales.

Alexandra, the next-queen of England, will enjoy in a way all the power wielded by her husband and will have the full social prestige now belonging to her mother-in-law.

For this reason and perhaps because she likes to keep herself young enough to enjoy the life the princess of Wales devotes a portion of her time to athletics.

Her waist is a marvel of neatness, and she a grandmother with five children. To secure this sylphlike figure, which she has preserved past middle age, she resorts to the same means as were employed by the late empress of Austria.

The princess of Wales has never concerned herself with state matters, although she must know what is going on. She has always been absolutely indifferent to such things, unless swayed to one side or the other by personal favoritism.

She exercises constantly, and one room at Marlborough house is filled with automatic side saddles, stationary bicycles and all sorts of athletic aids.

She rides horseback—indoors and outdoors—two hours every day and weighs herself night and morning to be sure she is not gaining.

It makes no difference how bad the wound if you use DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve; it will quickly heal and leave no scar.
