The idea was recently advanced to build a warship to be called "The American Girl." The Salem Statesman suggests that it seems but natural to think of a strong armor round its waist.

John Riggs is today minus his buggy horse, which he thinks must have been stolen last night from the lot adjoining his place on the hill. Last evening at sun-down the horse was in the lot, securely hobbled, and as it has been his stamping ground for the past seven years, they were much surprised to find he had disappeared. Thorough search for him has not revealed his whereabouts.

Every day now the O. R. & N. runs the new tourist sleeping cars through The Dalles, the new vestibuled cars that are to run between Portland and Denver. They are very finely finished, and will no doubt be patronized by persons who object to paying the fare on the standard Pullman sleepers, but who have not regarded the regulation tourist sleepers as good enough. The service on the new tourists will be kept up to a high standard in every particular.

As we were attracted to five or six cars which came through this morning on a freight train, looking as if they had been through the war, we were led to inquire what wreck had occurred up the road; but were informed that they had come all the way from the scene of the riots at Wadner and were a portion of the train which had been blown up by the strikers. One of them had the top completely torn off, while the rest were nearly as badly demoralized. They were being taken to Portland for repairs.

An effort is being made in Portland to induce the business houses to close for the entire day on the 30th. Decoration day this year seems to have a renewed significance. Not that the dead heroes of earlier wars are the less honored, but the more so as we realize from a more recent experience what the horrors of war really are, and how much they gave to their country. While many do not spend the half day as it was intended, were the whole day a holiday surely a portion of it would be devoted to the real spirit of what Decoration was designed to be.

The members of the club have decided to make the meeting Saturday night at their rooms an open one, which every citizen interested in the welfare of the town may attend. Surely it will be a rousing one. The question spoken of in this paper a few days since, in regard to assessing property owners, business men, and other residents in order to raise a sum of money to be held in reserve for the purpose of inducing manufacturers to locate in our city, will be brought up. Every citizen should attend, so that they may voice their sentiments regarding the question.

"A Summer's Fancy," which will be given by our home talent, assisted by Mr. Levin, is a very pretty as well as catchy play, and the cast is doing some hard work in preparing for its rendition next Wednesday evening, at the Vogt. The announcement that our home talent is to appear has always been received very enthusiastically by Dalles people, and this will certainly not be an exception, although the fact has not been so thoroughly advertised as has been their plays on former occasions. Bills will be posted tomorrow and further notice given later.

A telephone message was received this morning from Hood River telling that a body had been found in the river at that place, and asking that the coroner come down and hold the inquest. It was supposed to be the body of Frank Combs, who was drowned about a month ago at Arlington. As Mr. Butts is unable to make the trip, word was sent for Justice of the Peace Geo. T. Prather to attend to the matter, and the inquest was held by him this afternoon, when it proved to be the body of a man who was drowned at Wallula.

Mr. P. DeHuff returned this morning from Lewiston, having left The Dalles Monday evening for that place on a business trip. Since the new steamer Spokane has been placed on the route, a trip to Lewiston can be made in much faster time and with splendid accommodations. Mr. DeHuff says the weather at that place is perhaps slightly warmer than in The Dalles, and that the Snake river began to raise yesterday. In conversation with Charley Bunnell, who now lives in Lewiston, he told him that the miners in the Buffalo Hump region say there has never been so much snow in those mountains at this time of the year as at present. Lewiston people, like Dalles people, expect a flood, but have only the reports of those who have been in the mountains to depend upon. That place, which has been very lively of late on account of mining excitement, is somewhat quieter now, although in a very healthy state of progress.

Let The Dalles Co-operate.

When the industrious industrial agent, R. C. Judson, happens around, everybody knows "there's something in the wind," and where there's as much wind as The Dalles has been having, there's plenty of capacity for all sorts of schemes. Anyway, whenever you see Mr. Judson, just make up your minds things are going to "hum."

Well, he was in The Dalles last night for a short time, but in that short time he made it known that if our people would co-operate, we can have an industry here which is worth the while fostering, in the shape of a fruit drying and evaporating plant. What better suited to The Dalles' needs? for while as many men may not be employed as in some other industry, the benefit to our fruit growers will be great.

Mr. Judson does not think it will require over $3000 or $4000 to start it, and with that nucleus, no doubt a cannery and other adjuncts will follow in its wake, which will employ many workmen.

Now is the time to make a substantial beginning in the matter of industries, and would be a splendid opportunity to invest some of the subsidy money we are about to raise. Mr. Judson will return in a short time to put the matter before the people. In the meantime they will have a chance to consider the question thoroughly.

Thoroughly Subdued.

A very subdued-looking boy of about 13 years, with a long scratch on his nose and an air of general dejection, came to his teacher in one of the Oregon public schools and handed her a note before taking his seat and becoming deeply absorbed in his book. The note read as follows:

"Miss B.—Please excuse James for not being there yesterday. He played trooant, but I guess you don't need to lick him for it, as the boy he played trooant with an' him fell out, an' the boy licked him, an' a man they sassed caught him an' licked him, an' the driver of a sled they hung onto licked him also. Then his pa licked him, an' I had to give him another for sassing me for telling his pa, so you need not lick him until next time. I guess he thinks he better keep in school hereafter."

When Nature

Needs assistance it may be best to render it promptly, but one should remember to use even the most perfect remedies only when needed. The best and most simple and gentle remedy is the Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Steam Saw Notice.

On account of the dull season now being at hand in the wood sawing line, Wm. Cates has decided to run the steam saw but two days in the week, Tuesdays and Fridays. Patrons will, therefore, govern themselves accordingly and prevent friction in the matter. Call up Phone 201.

HIS HEAD ALMOST BLOWN OFF

Hugh Hoffman Accidentally Shot at 15-Mile Yesterday.

A very sad and fatal accident happened yesterday afternoon at 15-Mile, news of which was brought to the city last evening by a neighbor, who came in to inform Mr. Hoffman of the terrible death of his son, Hugh, at that place last evening, between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock.

Hugh Hoffman, who was 12 years of age, and who has been making his home with the family of C. W. Emerson on 15-Mile, started on horseback about 4 o'clock for Moe's place, some miles distant, on an errand for Mrs. Emerson, who had been called to Rockland on account of the illness of her little grandson, and which she asked him to do before leaving.

Although being warned frequently, he took his double barreled shot gun with him. He reached his destination and accomplishing his errand, started away in good spirits. Toward evening one of the Moe boys saw his horse standing near by, and fearing something had happened to Hugh, he at once went in search of him, and found his father's body lying by a marking machine, and the top of his head was about blown off, a shot having entered just above the left ear.

As he had told one of the boys that he had left his gun lying on the machine, it is supposed as he attempted to lift it up one the cocks got caught and was discharged, with the dreadful result.

Word was immediately sent in to his father, who is a laborer in this city, and he left last night for Mr. Emerson's.

Justice Bayard left this morning for the scene of the accident to hold an inquest, the result of which will be published tomorrow.

With each returning season the Loxier Manufacturing Co. show something new and desirable in Bicycle construction. This season finds them with more good things than ever. One of these good things is the BURWELL BALL and ROLLER BEARING. Examine the illustration—notice particularly that the little steel Roller between the balls transfers the motion without interruption and the Balls cannot grind together as in ordinary bearings.
