WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Junior League entertainment at the Methodist church tonight.

Do not fail to see the goods displayed in east window of Pease & Mays' for Saturday.

Red crush hats, blue crush hats, white crush hats are all the rage. New lot just opened at A. M. Williams & Co.'s.

Old and young, big and little should see "A Summer's Fancy" next Wednesday night at the opera house.

The bicycle repair shop of Mays & Crowe, or "hospital," as they call it, is finished and they are today moving in.

If you fail to be on hand for Saturday's sale at Pease & Mays you will need the balance of the year to express your regrets.

We ask our readers to be lenient with us for a few evenings if the CHRONICLE calls at a late hour. A rush of job work which requires the use of our cylinder press, prevents our getting out at the usual time.

For the past three days examinations for teachers' certificates have been going on at the superintendent's office. There are eighteen applicants for county certificates, four for state life, and three for state diplomas.

The production of a play by home talent for our citizens to entertain the National Editorial Association should be well patronized. Under the auspices of the D. C. & A. C. the affair will be the event of the season.

Tomorrow night at the Baldwin the contest dancing for the medal will take place. All who have been accustomed to attending Smith Bros.' soirees are invited to participate. This will be their last soiree for the season.

In spite of the fact that the physicians in Portland gave Mr. A. Bolton no encouragement and claimed they could do nothing for him, he is now much improved and will be able to be taken to his home on 15 Mile tomorrow.

The Woodmen of this city have chartered the Dalles City to take them to Portland on the 30th, where they will participate in a four-days "blow-out," the proceeds of which will be used for the benefit of the monument fund.

Mrs. Smith of the Farmers' Hotel, has just had the bodies of her father and mother, her former husband, Mr. Obarr, and little daughter, Maude, who died about a year ago, removed from the Dufar cemetery to the Odd Fellows' cemetery here.

Governor Geer is already receiving invitations to deliver orations on the occasion of the Fourth of July, and various towns desire to have the honor of listening to the chief executive of the state on that date. To all the governor replied that he was unable to accept the invitations, having previously made arrangements to spend the national holiday in Portland.

The young ladies are now organizing and preparing themselves to act as nurses to the wounded in the contest on the 30th between the base ball nine. From what we learn there is already plenty of material on which to practice, as several fingers have been knocked out of joint and the players have been otherwise demoralized merely from a few games of "catch."

"The Avenger," which is announced to appear at the Vogt on Monday night, is, in spite of its melo-dramatic title, a historical romantic play of the seventeenth century, and was written by Messrs. Anicet Bourgoise and Fetal. It is built of material that appeals straight to the heart, which will never cease to be captivated by the old, old story of love. The stage pictures are pronounced to be marvelous in their blended beauty and effectiveness. Action is said to be conveyed in every one of them, and the spectator feels that they are not arranged simply to be looked at, but are of vital importance in carrying the story forward. There is an atmosphere of romance about it, and it seems to call into actual being the wash-buckling bullies, lazy varlets, daring solders of fortune, and the beautiful maiden of olden times.

What could be more changeable than is the weather this spring? While a few days ago winter seemed to have slid off spring's lap and taken to parts unknown, leaving summer undisturbed, yesterday a sprinkling of snow was noticed on the Klickitat. Reports from the English place, near the city, this morning said frost visited that section last night, while the minimum thermometer here was 38. Really Spring seems to have taken the role of Hamlet and to be questioning whether "to be or not to be."

The ladies of the Eastern Star entertained a number of guests at their lodge rooms Saturday evening, the occasion being in the nature of a farewell reception, given in honor of Mrs. J. H. Hudson on the eve of her departure for her new home at The Dalles. A pleasing program was rendered in the early part of the evening after which the company spent an hour or two in social enjoyment and the discussion of a most dainty and appetizing luncheon. The Star members, and other friends of Mrs. Hudson here, will much regret her departure from our city.—Condor Globe.

Robert Shepley, was found dead at his home fifteen miles from Antelope on Monday afternoon. His wife and little boy had been away from home for several days, and upon their return discovered the father's body hanging from the bed-post. The body was hanging so low that the knees touched the floor, but there were no signs of a death struggle. No cause for the suicide is known. The only writing found was a small slip of paper, dated May 6, containing the words: "The cow and calf belong to A. Beard." Shepley was about 56 years old, and was an old resident of that section.

The Imperial Hotel in Portland, which seems to be the favorite resort for Dalles people when visiting in that city, is to undergo a change. Hon. Phil Metcahan having bought it from Mr. Guinean, and we understand is to place C. W. Knowles in as manager. Were that place not already patronized by our citizens, the mere fact that Mr. Knowles, who has so long been in the hotel business, and is so well known to us all, is to take charge, would suffice to induce Dalles people to make that their headquarters. During his ownership of the St. Charles in early days all of our business men and other visitors seemed to know of no other hostelry in Portland. Many have been induced to put up at the Perkins while Mr. Knowles had charge there, and now all will be pleased to know that he will be found at the Imperial.

It has always been claimed that girls are "mighty uncertain critters," but what of the boys now? Surely they are as uncertain as anything could possibly be,—we refer, of course, to our soldier boys, and their return home. One day the papers come out and tell us they will be sent home immediately, and while we are preparing to receive them royally and arranging to have them as the center of attraction in our Fourth of July parades, a dispatch informs us that they can not come till the war is ended; that they are needed over there. The fact being that the California and Oregon regiments, the first to go to Manila, are now performing too important a service to be spared, as are all other volunteer regiments in the Philippines. Unless peace comes, the volunteers cannot be spared unless the provincial army is organized. While the boys expected to leave the last of this month, they know the importance of their presence and accept the sacrifice.

Our Guests.

The National Editorial Association has been extended an invitation to visit The Dalles, and the Club, and our people want to entertain them in a manner befitting the visitors, and which will also reflect credit upon our city.

The committee having the matter in charge thought that as our citizens and business men have always been so liberal in the way of donations and subscriptions that they would not ask them to come forward again, but instead, will give the general public a chance to help, at the same time giving them the value of their money.

To that end, a number of ladies and gentlemen have volunteered their services, and an entertainment will be given next Wednesday night at the Vogt opera house, the proceeds to be used in showing the "pencil pushing" fraternity a good time while here.

The opera house should be crowded, as the cause is a praiseworthy and progressive one, and the nature of the evening's program is such as to please everybody.

Prices have been fixed at 25c, 50c and 75c, and seats may be had Tuesday, the 16th at the Snipes Kinerly drugstore.

MORE FLOOD PREDICTIONS.

What Pague Says Regarding It—Comparison by Years.

In spite of contrary predictions, Pague insists we are to have a flood. He says that it will reach the 20-foot mark at least, in Portland, and that he wouldn't be surprised if the cellars on Front street were flooded in ten days.

The mercury has been gradually climbing up in the Snake river country during the past few days, and as a result the Snake has risen two feet since the warmer days set in. May weather at 90 and 100 degrees is not unusual in that part of the country. If such weather should prevail there from now on, the Snake river would soon be as high as the oldest inhabitant could remember having seen it. This, however, does not necessarily mean a flood. On the contrary, it may prevent a flood.

The Snake river usually goes on a "tear" about two weeks earlier than the Columbia, and the fact that it is starting out first this year is reassuring. The only trouble is it is late in the season, and hot weather may set in any day all over the country.

All reports received at the weather bureau show that there is as much snow now in the mountains tributary to the streams flowing into the Columbia as there was April 1, 1894. This snow must pass off to the sea within the next few weeks, and if it all decides to go at about the same time there will be trouble all along the river.

The river here this morning stood at 20.7, a rise of nearly two feet since yesterday. The following comparisons will no doubt prove interesting to our readers, as they show the stage of the river on May 12th for the past eight years, and the date of the highest water for those years:

DATE	NO. FT.	HIGHEST FOR YEAR
1892, May 12	13.6	June 22..... 35.0
1893, do	23.3	do 14..... 38.3
1894, do	26.7	do 6..... 59.6
1895, do	22.5	do 31..... 28.7
1896, do	16	do 22..... 42.9
1897, do	31.9	do 24..... 42.7
1898, do	22.4	do 21..... 36.9
1899, do	20.7

The Visit of the Sons of Herman.

The German residents of this city held a well attended meeting at the Baldwin opera house last night. By an unanimous consent it was resolved to give the Sons of Herman and their families, on their excursion from Portland on the 21st of this month, a most cordial reception, and to exhaust all efforts to make their stay in town as agreeable as possible. A fund was raised for the engagement of the Commercial Club band, which will play for the entertainment of the visitors. The Baldwin opera house has been rented for the accommodation of the visiting families, and will be in charge of the reception committee.

The following committees were appointed: Arrangement—H. Hansen, Ad Keller, Karl Gottfried, E. Jacobsen. Reception—Geo. Lebe, E. Schanno, A. Buchler, Theo. Prinz, C. Stabling, J. Nitschke, H. Maier, A. Sandrock, Chas. Schmidt, Chas. Frank, Fred Lemke, H. Herbring, I. C. Nickelsen, A. Keller, Chas. Schutz, H. Nielsen, J. Stadelman, Theo. Seufert, F. W. Schmidt, Harry Liebe, J. Zimmermann, Louis Rorden, C. Johansen, H. Klindt.

The committee on arrangements was instructed to communicate at once with the committee at Portland regarding the plans.

1041 Miles in Ten Hours.

With each returning season the Lozier Manufacturing Co. show something new and desirable in Bicycle construction. This season finds them with no good things than ever. One of the good things is the BURWELL BALL and ROLLER BEARING.

Examine the illustration—notice particularly that the little steel roller between the balls transfers the motion without interruption and the balls cannot grind together as in ordinary bearings.
