GEORGE DEWEY.

The judgment of the American people has settled on Dewey as the naval hero of the Spanish war.

European observers agree with this verdict, which unquestionably is right. Measured by purely naval results, the sea fight off Santiago was as great a victory as the sea fight of Manila bay.

Dewey has achieved further distinction by his diplomacy and statecraft. Sampson's squadron was in constant communication with Washington.

Dewey was thrown on his own resources. He was cut off by the laws of international neutrality from friendly harbors or bases of supplies.

Having obeyed this order, grave complications and responsibilities were thrust upon him. He had to deal with Spanish, Filipino and European interests; protect life and property, and assert the authority of the United States in a hostile harbor where that authority was disputed or questioned by half a dozen powers.

There is a noble lesson here for all who must strive and wait long for rewards. For nearly 50 years this great sea-fighter was held to a plodding career.

Colonel Watterson calmly philosophizes in this way in regard to the late outrageous proceedings in Georgia: "There are white negroes as well as black. In posse there are white savages and black savages wherever there are white men and black men; it is the powder which is in the hearts of all of us; which most of us in our humdrum civilized lives believe has been eliminated, but which is there, nevertheless, ready for ignition by the fires of passion that consume reason and for the time being resolve us back into primal brutes." These are the conclusions of a man who has made human nature a study, and reasoning from cause to effect, is able without any strain upon the imagination to account for its lapses, upon occasions, into slavery.—Oregonian.

Discovered by a Woman. Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hannick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

A Beautiful Skin. Ladies, if you desire a transparent, clear and fresh complexion use Dr. Bourdon's French Arsenic Complexion Waters. Their effect is simply magical, possessing the wizard touch in producing and preserving a beautiful transparency and pellucid clearness of complexion, shapely contour of form, brilliant eyes, soft and smooth skin where the reverse exists. Even the coarsest and most repulsive skin, marred by freckles, moth, blackheads, pimples, vulgar eruptions, yellow and muddy skin are permanently removed, and a deliciously clear and refined complexion assured.
