WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Circus day tomorrow. July patterns at Pease & Mays.

The university of Oregon athletic club has elected Homer Angell, of this city, as president for the coming year.

J. F. Hampshire is again at his desk at Mays & Crowe's office, after a few days illness, which confined him to his room.

John Gavin and J. F. Moore have entered into a law partnership, with office rooms 39 and 40 over the U. S. land office.

All day today people have been arriving to attend the circus. The town will no doubt present a lively appearance tomorrow.

Albert Holman, son of Glen Holman, the well known newspaper man, has accepted a position with the Eastern Oregon Land Company in this city.

Pease & Mays are showing a large and complete line of crash suits for men and boys. The assortment comprises an endless variety of neat and stylish patterns. Just the thing for the coming hot weather.

Marshal Lauer arrived on the late train last night, having in charge the runaway girl mentioned in yesterday's CHRONICLE. It is to be hoped she has decided that running away isn't quite so pleasant an occupation as she imagined.

Large bands of cattle have been arriving in the city since last evening from the interior reaching as far as Prineville. About 4000 head will be shipped to Saunders of Salt Lake City. N. J. Burgess brought in 1,500 last evening.

Invitations have been received by friends in The Dalles to attend the marriage of Edwin Mays and Miss Mabel Ainsworth, which takes place at the First Presbyterian church in Portland on Wednesday, June 21, at 8:30 o'clock.

Those whose names appear as delinquents on the tax list may have an especial interest in tomorrow's weekly CHRONICLE, as the delinquent tax list for 1896 will appear in that issue. It would be well were they to call on the sheriff and liquidate.

Those ladies' tailor-made suits at A. M. Williams & Co's. Have you seen them? Suits that were eight and ten dollars last season are marked down to four and five dollars now. The choicer numbers are moving rapidly. Don't delay seeing them, at least.

How about the river today? Well it stood at 32.7 this morning, having fallen .9. The report says the weather will be warmer for forty-eight hours and the Snake will begin rising west of Pasco tomorrow. There will be a rapid rise at The Dalles after Tuesday.

Rev. Jos. DeForest will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the St. Helens hall and Bishop Scott Academy graduates Sunday evening at Trinity church in Portland. There will, therefore, be no service in the Episcopal church Sunday, as the rector will leave for Portland on the boat tomorrow.

The circus will arrive in five sections tomorrow morning at 5 o'clock. The big parade takes place at about 10 o'clock, and the tents will be situated on the fair grounds. Reserved numbered tickets and general admission tickets can be prepared at the Snipes-Kingersly drug store tomorrow. General admission 50 cents; reserved seats 25 cents extra.

THE CHRONICLE has received an invitation to attend the seventh annual commencement of Whitman college, which takes place at Walla Walla from the 8th to the 14th of this month. Were it convenient we would be glad to accept the invitation. Dalles people have a warm spot in their hearts for Whitman college, and we wish it renewed success every year.

About fifteen students who have been attending the Portland university arrived on the boat last evening on the way to their respective homes in Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho, leaving on the night train. There seems to be a resolution to maintain the university in spite of the difficulties which have beset it. It may not be located at University Park next year, and there is considerable talk about securing the Portland hospital building at Sunnyside, which can be easily arranged to accommodate 300 students. Negotiations with that end in view have already been opened.

The two street sprinklers are doing good work these days and keep the dust well laid. Mr. Cates is contemplating putting on a night sprinkler, as it is almost impossible for two teams to accomplish the work during the day. The bicyclists, however, think they have a kick coming now as they say in many places the streets are too wet to ride over and the sidewalks are forbidden them. It is impossible to please everybody, so the favors must needs be divided.

We are pleased to see that our superintendent of the city water works reads the CHRONICLE, and that the water was today turned on at the fountain on Washington street. We hope that he is also conversant with the text which refers to those who give a cup of cold water, etc. It seems a small matter to those who pass it by, giving little heed to the matter; but many a thirsty pedestrian drinks gratefully from the cooling stream, while to the poor brute who stops to lap at its base, it is surely a blessing.

Among the graduates of the Holmes English and Business College in Portland, which commencement will take place Monday evening, we notice the names of the following pupils from The Dalles: Edward F. Jenkins, who has finished the commercial and shorthand course; James Francis Wood and Anna M. Stubling, who graduated from the commercial course. The former, we understand, has accepted a position as stenographer in the O. R. & N. office there. The latter will continue her studies in the college.

SURPRISED BY THE TEACHERS

Prof. Gavin was Presented With a Handsome Oak Rocking Chair.

Prof. and Mrs. Gavin had not invited company last evening and did not expect any; but in this they were pleasantly disappointed for about 8:30 o'clock, upon answering a knock at the door, they were surprised to have the teachers of the school walk in with their arms full of cake, strawberries, flowers and numerous other good things. They were a little late, but were not given a tardy mark, only kept in at recess for whispering with Mrs. Gavin. They spent a few hours in anything but a studious manner, and then came the hour for lunch, when they were invited to the dining room, where ice cream, strawberries and cream and cake were served. When they were about to be seated Professor noticed that a large oak rocking chair, upholstered in the richest tapestry, had been given him to sit in, not only upon this occasion, but as the boys say, for "keeps." He hesitated not a moment, but thanking the teachers very kindly, seated himself comfortably therein.

One of the number then proceeded to tell how he had appropriated it before it had been presented, for she said that he had called at her home one morning recently to transact some school business, and the chair being there for inspection of the teachers, to her amusement, he unsuspectingly sat down in it and appeared quite at home.

After refreshments the hours passed in pleasant conversation until a late hour when the teachers expressed their regrets that Prof. Gavin was not to be with them in school work in the future and wishing him success in his new field, separated, having spent a very pleasant evening.

Soldier Boys Leave Manila Monday.

The latest cable from Otis is as follows. We wonder if its O. K. this time:

"MANILA, June 8.—The Oregon volunteers request to defer the time of departure until the 12th instant. They will leave for Portland on the transports Ohio and Newport. The Sixth infantry, upon its arrival, will relieve the Californias at Negros. The Hancock sails in a few days with the Nebraska and other troops."

General Otis has been advised that it is the wish of the president that all arrangements be made to give the returning troops a comfortable voyage, and that the best of care be taken so that no sickness may break out among them. It is also said that precautions will be taken not to load the transports too heavily, so that the returning troops may have plenty of room.

South Siders, Attention! There will be a meeting of the South Side Hose Co., No. 6, at the hose house Monday evening. Be on hand. 9 3t

Working Pants.

Did you see those dollar pants? Some time ago we spoke of them in our ad; yesterday we put them in the window, today they're selling like hot-cakes. A. M. Williams & Co.
