A SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

A meeting of the citizens of Olympia was called recently to consider the proposition of erecting a monument at the state capital in memory of the volunteers from Washington, who have given up their lives for their country in Cuba and the Philippines, says the Spokesman-Review. A committee was appointed to take the matter in charge and circulars have been sent out asking the people of the state to co operate in the work of paying deserved tribute to the fallen.

The people of Washington, it need hardly be said, will not hesitate to do honor to the memory of the heroic dead of the late war and subsequent insurrection, but it may be fairly asked if a movement for the erection of a soldiers' monument is not at this time premature. Our army is yet in the field and fighting. Casualties are occurring daily and the end is not yet in sight. From all accounts military operations of considerable importance are still in prospect and in them it is not unlikely the troops from Washington may play a conspicuous part.

Until the troubles in the Philippines are settled, or at least until the soldiers from this state have been returned home and mustered out, it may be just as well to postpone the performance of tribute paying which a grateful people will be all too willing to participate in. When the sword has been sheathed and the time is opportune there will be a noble response to any and all calls for a fitting perpetuation of the story of sacrifice by the sons of Washington. A monument will, no doubt, be put up, but as to what it shall be and where it shall be and how it shall be erected are matters which, perhaps, can be taken up more appropriately and satisfactorily at a later day when our volunteers have been released from service by an appreciative government and the list of heroes, living and dead, has become a part of history.

Some time ago penny savings societies were organized in a number of the cities of the country, the aim of which was to cultivate the habit of saving among young people, and particularly among school children. The scheme provided for stamp cards, upon which anybody could be given credit for every small coin which he desired to save. When a sufficient number of these coins were accumulated, an account could be opened at a regular savings bank. The scheme added a total of $16,588.70 to the savings bank deposits of Chicago in the first four months of the current year. The amount was made up of exceedingly small sums. The average was about eight cents apiece for the school children of the city, though, of course, very many of the 200,000 pupils of the schools made no contribution to the fund. The manufacturers of chewing-ing-gum, the purveyors of penny grab bags and dealers in catch-penny devices generally are among those who are opposed to the scheme as conducive to juvenile parsimony.—Oregonian.

The Second Oregon is the first regiment of volunteers ordered to prepare for the homeward journey and will probably embark in a few days. They were among the first sent over and they will return with a fine record for bravery, for obedience and splendid fighting qualities.

Glorious News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved,—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion and builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists. Guaranteed.
