OUR VISITORS.

The Eastern visitors who will spend next week in this state may not be astonished at what they see—mountains and rivers, forests and fields—though as new scenes these will be of passing interest to them; but they would be surprised if they could look beyond and behind the rough panorama that meets the vision, and be made to comprehend the grand scope and almost limitless value of the resources half hidden hereabout. This, within reasonable bounds and to a limited extent, it will be the duty and privilege of those who entertain the visitors to unfold and explain.

Yet too much talk of this kind becomes wearying, and the man who can talk of nothing but Oregon will after awhile become a bore. The newspaper people will look, inquire and investigate pretty thoroughly on their own account; but it must be remembered that they are making the trip chiefly to enjoy themselves. Hence they will not want to hear too much that might sound like "shop" talk. If all will merely help them to enjoy themselves to the greatest degree possible, Oregon will recommend itself; and show, in part at least, her capabilities and advantages. If they use their eyes and other senses to good advantage for a week in Oregon, they will gain at least an inkling of the fact that the Pacific Northwest is by far the best portion of the United States, and be ready to so declare on their return home.—Telegram.

A GREAT MARKET.

Of the world's annual yield of petroleum, amounting to 5,000,000,000 gallons, the United States produces half. These expansive items clinch the fact that this country would have made its great mistake if it had neglected its interests in the Pacific.—Exchange.

There is a great future market for American products in the countries bordering on the Pacific ocean. On this ocean, or in the countries drained into it, more than half of the people of all the world live.

An incident occurred at Bethlehem, Pa., recently which strikingly illustrates the revolution which has occurred recently in the department of manufactures of this country. A piece of armor plate made by the Bethlehem Steel Company weighing 12,056 pounds was loaded upon a freight car to be taken to the Cramps' shipyard, where a Russian battleship is being built. If a prophecy of such an advance in domestic manufacturing as this had been uttered a few years ago the person who uttered it would have been considered an unthinking optimist. We are not only making warships and armor plate for Russia, but building bridges and locomotives for England. Such industrial prosperity must mean steady and profitable employment for artisan and mechanic, and, with the world for a market, work will be furnished for all who are willing to do it.

The New York Sun thinks the administration is holding back something in regard to the condition of affairs in the Philippines. If you see it in the Sun it is not always so, as was once claimed; but it would be poor policy to conceal facts. The people are certain to know in time what existing conditions are, and if there has been any suppression of the truth, it won't be very difficult to find out who has been responsible for it.—Review.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50 cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. BABCOCK, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.
