The meeting of the National Editorial Association which is being held in Portland is still in session and has had some very interesting subjects come before it.

Yesterday afternoon Samuel Wilkinson and Anna B. Francisco were united in marriage, Judge Mays officiating. They left on the evening train for Heppner, where they will spend a few days.

Mr. Edward Morse arrived in the city last night from Portland and has accepted a position with the Butler Drug Co. For a number of years Mr. Morse has been head druggist for the Skidmore Drug Co., of Portland.

Work on the Yamhill locks will be resumed as soon as the water is below the point where work is to begin. It is thought that the water will be low enough by next week, as it is now falling daily. One hundred men will be employed, and the locks will be rushed to completion.

Mayor Barret, of Hillsboro, has issued a call to the citizens of Hillsboro and Washington county to meet this evening and make arrangements to receive in a fitting manner the boys from that county on their return from Manila.

On Monday evening Geo. Hershaw of Pendleton was so unfortunate as to lose an eye. He was standing on the street when someone threw a good sized bomb on the ground at his feet just as it exploded, throwing rocks and dirt, the result of which Mr. Hershaw lost the sight of an eye.

The second case of smallpox in one day, both from the same nidus or nest, fell into the hands of the city health officers at Spokane Wednesday afternoon. The man's name is John Cline, and he hails from Wren & Greenough's grading camp on the Clearwater river extension in Idaho.

The many friends of Edward Jenkins will be surprised and pained to learn that he is in St. Vincent hospital in Portland with not more than even chances for his recovery. He was taken sick Tuesday and a doctor being called, pronounced his case appendicitis, and he was removed to the hospital when an operation was performed on him.

The wool market is very quiet today and will not open up much before Monday. More woolgrowers are in town than at any other time during the season and are watching the market very closely. Wool is arriving daily in large quantities, and although a great deal of it is being shipped East nevertheless the warehouses are crowded to the utmost.

There is a great deal of activity around the garrison at Vancouver at present. Preparations are being pushed rapidly for the reception of the Second Oregon volunteers. The company quarters are being thoroughly overhauled and tents are being erected on the parade ground. The barracks are not large enough to accommodate all the members of the regiment, and it will be necessary for part of them to occupy tents. This will not be a hardship, however, as the weather will be warm and the location dry and healthful.

The case of the State of Oregon vs. Chrisman Bros. is occupying the attention of Justice Bayard today. The charge is that their slaughter house, which is on the Chrisman property below the Masonic cemetery, is a nuisance and should be abated. The jurymen weighing the testimony are, John Bonn, N. M. Lane, F. Burchett, M. Randall, C. F. Stephens and John Cates.

An adjourned regular meeting of the water commissioners was held last evening at the recorder's office, President Seufert presiding, and Commissioners Fish, Moore, Bucher, Phirman and Randall present. E. B. Dufar submitted a deed for the right of way for the Dalles City supply pipe from the reservoir at the Mesplice place to the city reservoir, which was received by the board. Election of officers for the current year was next in order, and T. J. Seufert, the present incumbent, was unanimously re-elected president, as was J. B. Crossen for city superintendent. On motion of Phirman the superintendent was instructed and directed to employ a man to take care of the ditches at the headwaters of Dalles City water supply on Mill creek for at least three months. Nothing further coming before the board the meeting adjourned.

Arson was attempted twice in Spokane on the night of the Fourth and the following morning. The home of Arthur E. Houchins was soaked with coal oil by the vandals before the match was applied. The oil had been spattered on walls and on furniture with the intention of making a thorough job of it, but the blaze had not made much headway when it was discovered, and the neighbors broke into the house and saved a large part of the furniture. The Houchins family was absent from the city and none of them had been in the house for several days. The origin of the fire is a mystery. The fire department arrived in time to save the house after it had been damaged about half its value. The other attempt to destroy valuable property was at the Sacred Heart school. A large Chinese bomb was thrown through one of the second-story windows into a vacant room, where it exploded and scattered burning straw over the floor. Luckily the straw did not burn sufficiently to start a blaze in the room. The bomb was evidently exploded in the building after 11 p. m., as Father Kusters was about the building until that hour and did not hear the explosion. He discovered the evidence of it in the room Wednesday morning. The window had been smashed when the bomb was thrown in.

Counterfeiter Arrested.

Shortly before noon today a seedy-looking individual wandered into Stubling's saloon and began playing the nickel-in-the-slot machine. Several were in the saloon at the time and noticing the peculiar manner in which the man acted walked up to the machine and became convinced that the man was working some scheme. Mr. Falt's attention was called to the matter and he investigated and found the man was playing counterfeit nickels.

Falt immediately telephoned for Sheriff Kelly who came down and arrested the fellow who pretended to be decidedly under the influence of liquor. When taken to the county jail and questioned he said his name was Johnson and that he had arrived in town last night, coming from Wallula.

On being asked where he secured the spurious coin, which was a base imitation and could be told by a blind man, he said he bought them from a man here in town, which undoubtedly is a falsehood.

When searched, $8.05 in good money was found, among which was 131 nickels. In a sock secreted on his person he had $15.45 in counterfeit nickels, while in his pockets and tied in a handkerchief he had $6.50 more, in all some 439 lead nickels which he was disposing of as fast as possible by putting them in the different machines around town and taking out good money. A recipe for the composition of which the counterfeits are made was also found on his person, but there was no trace as to where the die was secreted. He is being held for examination.

Two of a Kind.

The Dalles is not the only place that has difficulty in settling the street light problem. We have been without light for the past two years, and are in the same position as when the matter was first discussed. The committee appointed from the council have done everything in their power to remedy the matter so we would be able to have lights, but so far have not met with success.

Salem is in about the same fix as The Dalles in the matter of lights, and have come to the conclusion that the city has been paying too much for light. Today Recorder Gates received a communication from S. W. Prescott, of Salem, asking for a statement of current expenses, such as are paid for water, light, salaries, etc., and we presume they want to compare them with their expenses.

At a meeting of the council of the above named place Wednesday they rejected the bids for the street lighting recently submitted by the Salem Light & Traction Company, and the Welsbach Street Lighting Company of America. The reason assigned for this action is that the bids offered were not sufficiently reduced that the council desired to enter into a contract. The meeting was attended by only the five councilmen known as the "reform members," who are themselves disagreed as to the proper course to pursue. The motion of Alderman Burrows to reject the bids prevailed, after a lively discussion, by a vote of three to two.

Serious Accident.

About 9 o'clock Tuesday evening as Richard Hackett, who is employed in the machine shops of the O. R. & N., while in the act of touching off a large cannon fire cracker which he held in his right hand, he met with a very serious and painful accident. He had ignited the fuse and was in the act of throwing it into the street, and as he drew back his hand to throw, it exploded, tearing away a portion of all of the fingers, lacerating the flesh in a frightful manner and throwing the thumb from its socket and tearing away the cords so it lay upon the back of his hand. He was at once taken to the office of Dr. Chipman, who amputated the index finger just below the second joint, the next two fingers below the second joint and the little finger close to the hand. The thumb was brought back to its place and some twenty-three stitches were taken to hold it there. The operation was very successfully and skillfully performed. Dr. G. W. Biggers assisted Dr. Chipman in the surgical operation. Another accident of similar character though much less serious occurred on Tuesday evening to Dan Turner, who lost the end of one finger by the explosion of a piece of fire works.—La Grande Chronicle.

IS IT RIGHT

For an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy was kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack, much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.
