AN INCREASED PENSION ROLL.

The number of names on the pension roll at the present day is nearly a million. The list has grown steadily the longer we are separated by time from the wars in which the pensioners fought, says the Spokesman-Review. There are men still on the roll who saw service in the revolution. With each succeeding year and the death of many veterans of the civil war, the assurance has been given out that the top notch had been reached and that the pension list would grow smaller. The prediction has not been fulfilled, however, for each congress in its turn has made larger appropriations for an increased number of pensioners.

The number of applications for pensions which have been filed to date, as a result of the Spanish war and the Philippine campaign, is stated to be over 16,000. The most of these grew out of the Spanish war, in which probably not over 35,000 men left the shores of the United States. This will appear to be a very large number of applications to follow from a war of not over four months duration, at least when it is contrasted with the pension applications made during the civil war. During the twelve months from July 1, 1861, to July 1, 1862, the United States had half a million men in the field, and during that period some 6,800 union men were killed and 28,500 were wounded. Many more died of disease. The total number of applications for pensions filed during that year was 2,487. The whole force in the Spanish war which did fighting did not aggregate as many men as were killed and wounded in the rebellion in the year mentioned, and yet the Spanish war applications for pensions are seven times the number referred in 1861-2.

If there is the usual reciprocity among senators and congressman, and pension sharks are permitted to pursue their calling as they have in the past, it is safe to predict that a good part of these applications will be acted upon favorably.

The army in the Philippines is to be increased, and campaigning in the tropics is likely to result in material injury to health. The Philippine pension list for death, wounds and disease is therefore likely to be large. If one is to judge by what has been done for the ex-union soldiers, there will be a very heavy pension list growing out of the Spanish war, and it will increase for the next quarter of a century. In fact, the heaviest expense of that war will be represented by the pensions that will have to be provided for during the next fifty years.

An event of great interest and moment in the industrial world is the passage of that magnificent railroad property, the Baltimore & Ohio, out of the hands of receivers. These officers have been in charge of the company since February 29, 1896.

While under the court's control the property has been vastly improved in permanent ways and equipped at a cost of many millions. Curves have been removed, grades have been lowered, new rails have been laid, bridges have been built and an adequate supply of modern locomotives and cars has been procured, with the result that the company is now, for the first time in many years, in a position to compete effectually with its rivals for business. Meanwhile the company has been reorganized without foreclosure proceedings, new capital being brought in and new securities issued in such volume and at such interest rates that the Baltimore & Ohio, as transformed, is solvent and has the prospect, with its improved earning capacity, of continuing so. Baltimore will continue, it is stated, to be the headquarters of the company, but the control of its finances has passed into other and abler hands. The Baltimore & Ohio takes its place in the long list of reorganized properties that are now being managed, not by railway kings, as in former years, but by conservative business men in the interest of bond and stock holders.—Oregonian.
