WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Look out for a refreshing time Friday evening.—E. L.
Some men are so miserly that they will not pay another a compliment.
Today Wm. Cantrill, of Dufur, brought in a bunch of fine fat beef cattle for Wood Bros.
When a man tries to get something for nothing, the only thing he acquires is experience.
This morning 50,000 pounds of wool were sold at the Wasco warehouse for 14 1/2 cents per pound.

The members of the Epworth League will give a lawn social and serve ice cream on Friday evening at the residence of Smith French.

Sheriff Kelly has finished selling the delinquent tax list of 1896. Most of the property was bid in by Wasco county, although a few pieces of land were purchased by private parties.

News comes from Skagway that out of a drove of five hundred sheep, that were recently sent to that place, one hundred and fifty were drowned by the parties owning them loading too many on an old scow.

The gross receipts taken yesterday by the ladies of the Catholic church Debt Society from the sale of ice cream was $72.05. The ladies are much pleased with the result of their labor and are grateful to the public for their liberal patronage.

Chas. F. Michelbach of the White House saloon is making many improvements in the interior of his building. An elegant oak partition is being placed today, and tomorrow work will begin on the steel ceiling which is of handsome design. He also intends putting in a tile floor, and when completed the resort will be one of the finest in the city.

The river is falling very slowly but there is great satisfaction in knowing that we are not going to have excessive high water. This morning the Columbia registered 37.6 and a fall of a few feet more will enable the locks to be operated.

This has been a scorching day and on every hand could be heard remarks regarding the heat. At three o'clock this afternoon the thermometer registered 90 which is six degrees hotter than it has been at any other time this summer.

The band concert given by the D. C. & A. C. band last night was quite a treat to all who heard it. The street near the club rooms was lined with people and many words of praise were given the boys for their good playing and willingness to entertain the public.

Of Portland's five patients who a short time ago occupied the city pesthouse but two remain. Three have fully recovered and received their discharge. These yet remaining are convalescing and past all danger, and by the end of the week will probably be able to leave also.

A. Anderson has secured the contract to erect a double cottage for Harry Maheur, on the Dehm property at the corner of Fourth and Laughlin streets. Work will begin at once and when completed it will be a handsome building with all modern improvements.

The sisters of the Catholic orphanage at Vancouver have taken steps to prevent the contraction of any disease that may possibly be brought in to Vancouver in the effects of the Second Oregon regiment by having all the children vaccinated. They consider it easier to ward off disease than cure it.

Today we saw something in the line of a sprinkler that is entirely new. The sprinkler is mounted on a stand and is a handsome affair. It is automatic and will change the streams or forms about once every twenty seconds. It changes into fifteen different fantastic forms when set in operation. Mr. Ulrich is agent for the city and has shown the sprinkler to many who are highly pleased with it.

Most any hour now the volunteers are expected and when the glad tidings come that they have been sighted off the coast of Frisco many a heart will beat faster and there will come a great relief to many minds. However, most of our energy will be saved for the meeting at the mouth of the Columbia when thousands of citizens will wend their way eastward and there will be great rejoicing and feasting.

The small pox patient, Mr. Bookhouser, of La Grande, is reported to be out of danger. The disease at no time was of violent form and the patient was in about as good a state of health, ate as heartily and slept as soundly as did his two attendants. Although the disease has run its course, the three men will be kept under quarantine until about the 25th of this month. By that time, it is almost a matter of certainty, the small pox scare will be entirely over.

We are informed by J. C. Means, U. S. pension attorney, that he has just received notice from the pension department that a pension of $8 per month has been granted to Thomas G. Hayden of The Dalles, who served in Company "H" 55th regiment, Kentucky volunteer infantry, during the civil war. Mr. Hayden has been disabled for many years so as to be unable to do manual labor and his many friends will be pleased to learn of his good fortune.

Everything around the garrison at Vancouver is in a hustle preparing for the entertainment of the Oregon volunteers. Tents have been erected on the parade ground for the accommodation of all the boys who will be unable to find quarters in the barracks. The tents have been erected with a view of insuring comfort to the occupants. The committee on entertainment is working hard to provide amusement for the volunteers during their stay in Vancouver, preparatory to the muster out. Capt. C. G. Martin, Sixth infantry, will act as mustering officer. He is in Vancouver now, making all preliminary arrangements. The examinations and mustering out will be conducted as speedily as possible.

Ole Oleson, of West Fork, while bringing a large number of deer hides to Roseburg to sell last Wednesday, says the Roseburg Plaindealer, was apprehended by our game warden and the skins were confiscated. On Thursday Oleson was given a jury trial in Justice Miller's court and was convicted of unlawfully transporting deer hides and fined $300 and costs, in default of which he was committed to jail. L. Deach, proprietor of the Roseburg tannery, was also tried Thursday afternoon before the justice upon a charge of unlawfully handling deer skins and converting them into merchandise, and was found guilty as charged. He was fined $100 which was promptly paid. Oleson's brother has also been arrested on a charge of unlawfully handling deer hides but has not yet been convicted. The penalty in these cases is fixed by statute at a fine of $100 to $500, or imprisonment, or both. It is said other arrests will soon follow. The game wardens are going to see that the law is enforced at all hazards.

Supreme Court Decision.

Among the decisions which have just been handed down by the supreme court were several which were appealed from Wasco and Sherman counties and heard at the term of court in Pendleton last May. The case of the Hood River Lumbering Co. vs. Wasco county attracted considerable interest, as it effected the rights to certain property at the mouth of the stream of Hood River. The constitutionality of the law allowing private property to be taken and providing for damages to the party aggrieved was in question. The case was heard before Judge Bradshaw last winter who upheld the constitutionality of the law. The Lumbering Company appealed to the supreme court which reversed the decision previously made. Huntington and Wilson appeared for the appellants and W. H. Wilson and A. A. Jayne for the respondents.

Another decision reversed the judgment of the circuit court for Sherman county in the case of Pearl, Orendorf Co. vs. Barnett. In this case the supreme court held that the verdict was imperfect in form and that the circuit judge should have set the same aside upon the plaintiff's motion. F. W. Wilson appeared for plaintiff and C. J. Bright for defendant.
