 Someone says that the postoffice is the coolest place in town; but we know of one that's "cooler." It's at the county court house, and you must apply to John Fitzgerald for admittance.
 H. W. Wells has sold a band of about 5000 sheep to G. R. Wilson, of Colorado, and they were brought over from the Washington side this morning and loaded into the cars to be shipped at once.

The market is now well supplied with early peaches, the warm weather causing them to ripen rapidly, and while not a peach could be had a few days since, now they are plentiful. The retail price is 80 cents.

It is said that Hon. D. P. Thompson, of Portland, who is one of the most extensive growers of wheat in the Northwest, if not the most extensive, is contemplating a trip to Russia, primarily for the purpose of studying the situation and outlook in that country.

If you wish to spend a pleasant hour or two, call on the young ladies of the League at S. French's lawn this evening, where you will be treated "coolly" in one sense of the word, but receive a hearty welcome at the same time. Ice cream will be served for 15 cents.

Yesterday morning about 9:30 o'clock, Lawrence Biggs, the 5-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Murchie, died of inflammation of the bowels. Mr. Murchie is now at North Yakima, where his wife expected to join him soon. Word has been sent to him and as soon as he arrives the time for the funeral will be set.

The man, Armstrong, who was picked up in Portland and sent to the small-pox hospital, had the genuine small-pox. He went from Hood River to his home at Dundee, and afterwards went to Portland. His brother at Dundee has since broken out with the disease, and the whole town has been quarantined.—Glacier.

Plans for the reception of the volunteers are virtually at a standstill; but many have not given up the hope of yet receiving them in the manner planned. They still hope the boys will be brought to Portland by water and as an organization, and that the river reception will be carried out.

In some parts of Umatilla county the wheat will be badly damaged and unless rain comes in a short time it will be serious. 'Tis not so much the need of rain, however, as a cooler temperature, the intense heat burning the grain. According to reports Wasco county wheat will suffer much if the warm weather continues.

Cloud Cap Inn is now open and ready to receive guests. Yesterday a party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Metchan, Mr. and Mrs. Werner Breynan, Circuit Judge and Mrs. G. H. Burnett, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Paine, of Salem, and Mrs. C. W. Knowles, of Portland, went to the Inn. There is no place in the state, nor out of it, for that matter, where a vacation can be spent more pleasantly.

Hon. R. J. Hendricks, who was appointed to the position of appraiser of customs at Portland, to fill the vacancy occasioned by Gen. O. Summers upon the latter's departure in command of the Oregon volunteers for the Philippines, has tendered his resignation in favor of Gen. Summers to take effect upon the arrival of the latter at San Francisco on his return from Manila—a very graceful act on the part of Mr. Hendricks.

A wreck occurred on the track near Viento about 9 o'clock last evening, causing five cars of freight No. 24 to be pretty badly smashed up and the brakeman, Bob Chambers, to be injured. It was at first thought his injuries were serious, but later developments proved that he was not badly hurt. No. 2, east-bound passenger, was delayed about four hours, reaching here between 3:30 and 4 this morning. The wrecker was taken down and the track soon cleared up.

An important meeting is to be held in The Dalles next week, when about 300 delegates will assemble here Tuesday and the grand lodge of A. O. U. W. and D. of H. will be in session for three days at least. Delegates from all over the state will be present and it is fitting that a good impression be made upon our guests, so that not only the orders, but all citizens should feel interested in the matter. The sessions of the A. O. U. W. will be held in the Vogt, while those of the D. of H. will convene in the K. of P. hall.

A coon was on parade this morning in Recorder Gates' court, and finally marched in the direction of the county jail, there to remain for a month. His name is John Simpkins, and he had forgotten that the exception to the command "Thou shalt not steal" did not refer to canned beef, but chicken only. So, when he quietly embalmed a can of beef in his pocket as the clerk at Nolan's store was wrapping a can of salmon he had bought, he laid himself open to the hand of the law, and was taken in by Marshal Hughes.

We promised the marshal to follow the usual tenure of the newspaper field and give him a few instructions upon his duty regarding the streets of our city; but somehow we have come to the conclusion that he knows what he's about, and that we will soon have the pleasure of sailing over our streets without encountering boulders which would hold any ordinary team up and make their drivers swear they'll never pay another cent of taxes unless the streets are kept in a half way decent shape. In their present condition it is anything but a pleasure to ride over them in a carriage or on a wheel.

Next Tuesday, July 18th, is opening day for the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Assembly at Gladstone park near Oregon City. The program for this year is exceptionally good, and the fact that the famous Sam Jones is to be there on the evening of 18th and on Wednesday forenoon and afternoon is creating much interest not only in the Valley, but Eastern Oregon as well, and many are planning to hear him. His subject Tuesday evening will be "Get There and Stay There" and on Wednesday at 11 o'clock he speaks on "Manhood and Money." In the afternoon he takes as his subject "Sawcety." A pamphlet has been received at this office giving information concerning the assembly and tomorrow we will publish such facts concerning it as are deemed important to those desiring to attend.

WILL MUSTER-OUT AT 'FRISCO

Second Oregon Lands Today and is to Camp at Presidio—Gov. Geer Coming.

Perhaps Oregonians have been selfish in their desire to have the volunteers mustered out at home, and have taken matters too much into their own hands, failing to consider the wishes of the boys in the matter, or the financial side of the question, which to us pale into insignificance compared with the thought of their being welcomed first by relatives and friends and on the shores of their own state. Then we considered the pleasure of meeting them as they entered the Columbia and being among the first to greet them. No wonder Oregonians are disappointed.

But it seems the boys have taken a different view of the question and have shouted "'Frisco.'" We do not feel that this is any disloyalty to their state, but simply a question of which is more expedient. It also seems from reports that the sentiment in favor of 'Frisco' was not unanimous, and when the whole truth is known it will no doubt appear that the majority were in favor of Portland. Some figuring has been done regarding the financial gain to be made by the decision, and it is claimed the difference in pay, if any, will amount to only a few cents for privates. The officers, however reap much thereby. Should the volunteers be mustered out here, they will save their ration money. It will take much longer to muster-out here, as there will not be such a rush to get the business over, and the soldiers will draw pay during the interval.

However, Dalles people, with the rest of Oregonians, must share the disappointment and await developments which will determine our share in their greeting, for from the following dispatch from San Francisco yesterday there is little hope that present plans will be changed. The dispatch says:

"It has been almost definitely determined to land the Oregon volunteers tomorrow morning. The transport City of Para will leave the transport dock this afternoon for Manila and the transports Ohio and Newport, with the Oregon boys on board, will fill the gap left by the Para.

"They will be docked late tonight or tomorrow morning. General Shafter has arranged to have a suitable escort from the Presidio ready to march with the returned soldiers in the parade tomorrow and later to escort them to camp at the Presidio.

"The mustering-out process will take two or three weeks. Governor Geer, of Oregon, and his staff, will leave for Portland tomorrow afternoon after the parade."

A SEATTLE MAN'S SUCCESS.

A Worthy Man is Reaping a Harvest in Alaska's Mining Districts.

In spite of the many discouraging reports which continue to come from the Alaska mining districts, there is just enough of good news to keep the fever going concerning that section and to whet the desire to try one's luck in the frozen regions of the North. Judgment should, however, be brought into play and the fact taken in consideration that the unlucky outweigh the lucky.

A private letter from Skagway received yesterday, tells of the good fortune of a man well known throughout the Northwest, particularly for his worth of character and the stand he has always taken in a moral way. We refer to Mr. Lippy, of Seattle, the leader in Y. M. C. A. circles there. The story of his Alaska experience is of a touching nature, making his final success gratifying to his friends.

A year ago, with his wife and adopted child he left Seattle for Dawson City. A short time after his arrival, the child sickened and died. Luck seemed to be against him, and though he labored hard, his claims did not seem to pan out and he grew disheartened. Disappointment and worry caused Mrs. Lippy to take to her bed from severe illness, which left her with acute rheumatism, and for months she was unable to rise from the bed.

One day when dire want was staring them in the face Mr. Lippy came into the cabin with a pan containing a few colors and a small nugget. The sight of this small amount gave such courage to the disheartened, sickened wife that she began to recover and in a day or two went out to the claim, and, forgetting rheumatism and all else, herself did the washing and from a few dollars in the first pan soon washed out $40 to the pan. After two days the husband began the work she had chosen as her's and finally washed out $200 to the pan.

He made a trip to Seattle this spring and returned some months since, when he was offered a half million for the dump he had taken out through the winter. Since returning he has cleaned up from it 1200 pounds and has not half finished the work. It is thought he will realize between $600,000 and $700,000 from it.

While we realize some have made and will continue to make fortunes in Alaska, it is gratifying to feel that it has fallen to the lot of such a worthy man as Mr. Lippy to be numbered among those fortunate ones among the many who return worse off than they went.

A Free Scholarship.

In Gov. T. T. Geer's office Wednesday, there was received a letter from Mrs. Florence Elizabeth Cory, president of the school of industrial art and technical design for women, of New York City, offering a free scholarship to one young woman from this state, to be appointed by the governor. The applicant must be 18 years old; must be patient and industrious, possessed of a taste and a fair ability for drawing; her intention must be to become self-supporting in the arts of practical designs upon graduation, and her circumstances such that she has positive need of this assistance. The aim of the school is to help these women to help themselves. Their applications must be entered not later than September 1, 1899. The next school year begins Monday, October 2, 1899. The scholarship is given free of charge, but does not include board or materials.

The offer is a good one, and there are, doubtless, many young ladies in this state who would be pleased to receive this appointment, and spend a year at the school, which is said to be a most excellent institution. The school offers a scholarship to one appointee from each state, the respective governors to name the fortunate student.

Found.
