OUR SECOND Saturday Surprise Sale

promises to excel our first of two weeks ago.

Saturday next—another great day. The many pleased customers and the general success of our recent Saturday Surprise Sale, has prompted us to repeat the same, and if possible to make it even a greater event than the former. We never do a thing the second time, but we strive to outdo the first. For this Coming Event we have selected entirely different goods from what we showed at the former sale: never-the-less, goods of equally staple goodness and seasonable worth, which when quoted at the extra-special prices to prevail next Saturday, should prove of intense interest to every conservative shopper.

Goods bought at this sale positively not subject to exchange or return.

Summer Corset Covers.

The thing for shirt waists. This corset cover contains in the pockets one pair of Kleiner's best lightweight shields made expressly for this garment. The pockets absorb all moisture and take the place of lining and binding.
