WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Watch for Shaw's band Monday morning.

There will be no preaching service at the Methodist church tomorrow. Sunday school at 10 and Epworth League at 7 o'clock.

The East Oregonian says "Thomas Harlan, of The Dalles, is in town. He proposes to establish the Pacific Democrat, a weekly paper in Portland."

A pleasant surprise was given Miss Frances Parrott in the shape of a very enjoyable lawn party last evening at the home of Miss Bessie Snipes, where she is at present visiting.

Service at the Congregational church tomorrow morning, when the pastor's subject will be "The Organ of Eternity." The male choir will sing the offertory. No service in the evening.

The funeral of John Irvine took place this morning at the Christian church, Rev. Roshing conducting the service. The pall bearers were: Geo. Snipes, E. P. Fitz Gerald, G. A. Liebe, H. C. Nielsen, John Mitchell and Emil Schanno.

Yesterday Sheriff Kelly went to Cascade for the purpose of levying on the steam launch "Water Witch," foreclosing a chattel mortgage held by the Cascade Construction Company. Friday, the 11th day of August, is set for the sale.

The Dufur Dispatch tells us that "F. C. Sexton, deputy sheriff of The Dalles, spent several days in town working on the Johnston burglary." Murder will out, and burglary also; but we never dreamed it of the sexton. Another good man gone wrong.

Detective Ford arrived from Portland last night and this morning returned with the prisoners captured the night before. They are wanted in Portland for holding up and robbing a man. The negro is a deserter from the company now stationed at Vancouver, having left there Wednesday night.

The Dalles is again to lose Leslie Butler as a resident, at least for a time, as he has accepted a position in the credit and collection department of Wadhams & Kerr Bros., wholesale grocers. This firm is particularly fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Butler, who is a splendid business man and thoroughly understands the grocery business.

Last evening about 8:30 the sky looked clouded, the lightning flashed in the east and everyone imagined they smelt rain in the air. Indeed, many declare they felt a few drops. That there should have been a good thunder storm was too good to be true, and all indications soon passed away. The lightning was probably what is termed "heat lightning."

A Chicago paper says that members of the girls' clubs of several southern Kansas towns have resolved not to marry a man unless he served with the famous Twentieth Kansas. They say they are determined to keep their agreement and that sooner than marry a man who stayed at home they will remain single all their lives. The girls ought to have left a loophole for escape, because the fighting Kansans might have made other arrangements.

From the immense crowds which throng the boats every morning bound for the seaside and numerous camping places along the river, it would seem that The Dalles would soon be entirely deserted. However, a few of the best of us still remain to carry on the duties left behind. Truly Dalles people are fortunate in being so situated that in a few hours they may be "far from the maddening crowd" (of which we form a part) and by the side of the sea or in some cool mountain resort. Such trips, too, are so inexpensive that it is within the reach of all to enjoy the opportunity afforded. We do not appreciate this fact as we would were we for a few years shut out in some of the inland cities of the state, where, with a large majority, it is impossible to make these enjoyable trips.

The case of J. H. Walton, who is charged with robbery from Johnston's store at Dufur last Monday, is being tried in Justice Bayard's court this afternoon, Judge Bennett appearing for the defense. Among the witnesses who have been subpoenaed and are in the city are: T. H. Johnston, Oscar Pound, George Brown, Lindsay Thomas, Mrs. Jas. Wilson, Mrs. Bird, Mrs. Bartlett and Miss Margaret Covey. Up to the time of going to press no decision had been reached.

The following new books have been added to the already large collection at the public library: "The Rough Riders," by Roosevelt; "Espirita Santo," by Skinner; "McTeague," by Norris, and "Reminiscences," (2 vols) McCarthy. Summer is an excellent time to join the library as you then have the advantage of taking with you some good reading as you go on your vacation trips, for if you do not return in time to exchange a book, friends will do it for you, and thus you receive much satisfaction therefrom.

The following letter is a rare example: "My darlin' Peggy:—I met you last night but you never came! I'll meet you again tonight whether you come or whether you stop away. If I'm there first, sure I'll write my name on the gate to tell you of it; and if it's you that's first why rub it out, darlin', and no one will be the wiser. I'll never fail to be at the tryin' place, Peggy; for, faith, I can't keep away from the spot where you are, whether you're there or whether you're not. You're own Mike."

The arrangements recently made whereby the rate tickets to and from the points along the river are good on Saturday's afternoon train, is a good one. It was somewhat of an inconvenience for those who wished to spend Sunday with their friends at camp, to be compelled to leave on the early morning train and then be so late in returning. This arrangement will also give them much more time in camp and a good night's sleep away from the heat which keeps one awake most of the night and makes them feel as little rested when they arise as when they retired.

We believe there was an ordinance passed by the city council ordering all bicyclists to carry a lantern when riding at night. If such is the case it should be enforced and if not a law should be passed. We cannot escape serious accidents if the present state of affairs continue. Last night five cyclists came up Third street abreast, none carrying any kind of a light nor seemingly having bells on their wheels. It was by mere chance that a buggy going down the street passed them, as they could not be seen. Something should be done regarding the matter before a serious accident takes place.

Coroner Hart and George Tatmar came over from Goldendale Thursday evening to the Washington side of the river where a body was found floating in the river that day. No inquest was held and yesterday the body was buried near the place where it was found. The man was about 35 years of age, and was well dressed. In his pocket was found a letter, but the writing had been so blurred that it could not be read. Many have thought it might be one of the Whitney brothers, who were drowned in the Snake; but the description did not tally with the one given of Elmer Whitney, whose body was not found.

The pleasant flavor, gentle action, and soothing effect of Syrup of Figs, when in need of a laxative, and if the father or mother be constive or bilious, the most gratifying results follow its use; so that it is the best family remedy known and every family should have a bottle. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Notice.

On account of business interests calling me to Portland for some time at least, my household furniture and carpets are now for sale. Any who may desire to purchase may examine them by calling at my residence on the corner of Fourth and Union streets. The house is also for lease. 29-1w LESLIE BUTLER.

A diseased stomach surely undermines health. It dulls the brain, kills energy, destroys the nervous system, and predisposes to insanity and fatal diseases. All dyspeptic troubles are quickly cured by Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It has cured thousands of cases and is curing them every day. Its ingredients are such that it can't help curing. Snipes-Kineraly Drug Co.

Don't forget the date. Monday, July 31st, is when the Shaw Company begins its engagement.

A STATE AFFAIR.

To Be Held at the Old Stand in September—Let's Help It Along.

In spite of the efforts of Portland and its assistants throughout the state to deprive Salem of the state fair, which for thirty-nine years has been held at the capital city, the state board of agriculture, now reduced to five members, is doing business at the old stand, and having paid all the indebtedness, is now starting in with renewed vigor to make the fair of 1899 a howling success.

Many complaints have been raised within the past few years as to its management; but what have those who raised these objections done toward assisting in making the meeting a success? Seemingly forgetting that it is a state fair, they have left the management and everything connected with it entirely in the hands of Marion county people (particularly Salemites) and then, not even taking the pains to attend, they have proceeded to listen to the report of a few sore-heads, whom nothing would please, and then ripped the affair, as the saying is "up the back."

Portland and many outsiders claim that were it to be held in Portland, a great change would be noticed. Would it? We doubt it. Removed from the place where for nearly forty years it has been sustained and from the fostering care of those who have grown up to believe it is their protegee, we much fear it would have been short-lived. Perhaps for a year or two a renewed interest would have been taken but it would soon wane (like that taken in the exposition) and it would have died a natural death in four years instead of forty.

But it is to be held at the old stand in Salem, commencing on September 15th and closing on the 22d, and as its promoters are making great efforts to make this the year, when new vigor is put into the meeting, every citizen of the state should deem it a privilege and duty to assist them by sending in exhibits, introducing their best stock, trying the speed of their horses, and then enjoying the fair by taking the family down and attending. In short let us remember that it's a state affair.

The Smallpox at Heppner.

The Heppner Gazette says in part: "Dr. Blalock arrived on Monday night's train and early next morning went to the homes of both the Diskell and Snutt families, making a careful examination of the cases and pronouncing them most emphatically smallpox, and assures that verdict from any physician who may be called. In an interview with the Gazette the doctor spoke very complimentary of the town's prompt action in the matter, assuring us that in the early stages of the disease no contagion from the affliction is liable. The quarantine had been more than ample, and advised the release of many quarantined. About quarantining the town he thought it most inadvisable, as a majority of the towns in the northwest had cases of it and a thorough quarantine would take in the entire northwest. The disease is being held in check by the intelligent co-operation of the communities effected, and in these towns is interfering in no way with business.

"The scare and general demoralization of business in small towns like ours is the result of sensational agitation. It seems natural for most people to try to go the other fellow 'one better,' and thus the sensation extends."

Found.

In East End Feed Yard Wednesday morning, July 5th, a bay horse, about fourteen hands high between 10 or 12 years old; white star on forehead, black points; saddle marks and brand B L on left shoulder with running R underneath, and weighing about 900 pounds. Owner can have same by proving property and paying all charges. Jy8 1m

IS IT RIGHT

For an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy was kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack, much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.
