HARBOR LEASE TO CANADA

Question May Bring Solution of the Alaska Boundary Problem.

ENGLISH INCLINED TO FAVOR IT

At Any Rate, the United States, Canada and Britain Must Be Neighborly About It.

LONDON, July 29.—The Alaska boundary again looms large in the newspapers, and a heated discussion is raging for and against the suggestion that a harbor should be leased to Canada. The official view seems to be favorable to this compromise as a basis for a friendly arrangement. It is pointed out that as the United States, Canada and Great Britain have to live as neighbors, and, in their hearts desire to live as friends, neither side can afford to assume a nonpossumus attitude or act as if it were the last transaction to be arranged and as the main question at issue, though almost lost to view among the multitude of irritating side issues, was a means of easy access to the Klondike, the lease of a harbor would seem to be the practical need of Canada. On the other hand, the Saturday Review voices the feeling of a considerable section of the public in pointing out that by accepting the suggested settlement Canada debar herself from again raising the question of territorial right, and becomes a mere licensee where she desires to become the owner in fee simple. Many think the proposed compromise would lead to endless complications, annoyances, acts of retaliation and attempts on one side to exceed their own or restrict the other side's rights under the proposed compromise, the Saturday Review thinks Canada ought, in no event, to surrender her rights in international law, unless she concurrently receives considerable concessions from the United States on other questions before the commissioners.

The Saturday Review proceeds to claim that Canada now suffices, both politically and economically, and has no further need of the United States; that only the most factious policy on the part of Great Britain could revive the annexationist party in Canada, and asks what possible reason the Canadians could have for involving the country in the gravest international questions.

WILL NOT BE PUNISHED

Private Girard Acted in Obedience to Good Impulse.

PORTLAND, July 29.—Governor Geer yesterday received the following letter from General Summers in regard to Private Frank Girard.

"Headquarters Second Oregon Infantry, U. S. Volunteers, Presidio, San Francisco, Cal., July 26.—Hon. T. T. Geer, Governor, Salem, Or.: My dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor of July 17, together with several petitions in the interest of Frank Girard, a private in company I, of this regiment, and in reply would state that there is no necessity for any uneasiness in his case, as this man was granted all the privileges that were possible, and he will not be disturbed. He has done exactly what you or I, or any other soldier of metal, would have done under the circumstances, and I certainly would not be disposed to treat the matter severely. He will have to report here for final muster-out. It is not the disposition of the commanding officer of this regiment to be severe with a man who endeavors to act in obedience to good impulses. He has

THOUGHT SHE WAS DEAD

The Crime of a Rejected Suitor at Arlington.

ARLINGTON, Or., July 30.—At 8 o'clock last night, Al Kessler attempted the murder of his sweetheart, Miss Maude Mitchell, who came here from Portland a few days ago.

Miss Mitchell had rejected Mr. Kessler, whereupon he followed her from Portland to this place, and, locating her, watched his opportunity to get in his deadly work. When she was preparing for bed, Kessler entered her room, masked, knocked her senseless with a club and tied a towel about her neck to produce strangulation. He then jumped out of the window and escaped, thinking he had accomplished his purpose.

The people of the house, hearing an unusual noise, went to her room and, receiving no answer, forced the door, and found Miss Mitchell, as they supposed, dead. Medical aid was summoned and she was restored to consciousness, and will recover.

The police are on the track of young Kessler.

IS IT RIGHT

For an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy was kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack, much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.

Was Not Killed By The Cars.

BAKER CITY, Or., July 29.—The coroner's jury returned a verdict this evening that the unknown man, apparently about 35 years old, who was found under a Sumpter Valley railway car yesterday morning, did not meet death from the cars. The man was a stranger here. He displayed money and was plainly but neatly dressed.

Spain's Greatest Need.

Mr. R. P. Olivia, of Barcelona, Spain, spends his winters at Aiken, S. C. Weak nerves had caused severe pains in the back of his head. On using Electric Bitters, America's greatest blood and nerve remedy, all pain soon left him. He says this grand medicine is what his country needs. All America knows that it cures liver and kidney trouble, purifies the blood, tones up the stomach, strengthens the nerves, puts vim, vigor and new life into every muscle, nerve and organ of the body. If weak, tired or ailing you need it. Every bottle guaranteed, only 50c. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

Did Boil His Wife.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Adolph L. Luetger's sudden death in the penitentiary at Joliet on Thursday last has brought to light the fact that States Attorney C. S. Deneen has had locked up in the vaults at the criminal court building, almost from the beginning of accused's trial for wife murder, two years ago, an implication that is considered morally his confession of guilt. It was made by Luetger to a fellow-prisoner in the jail. It was sworn to by the latter at the time before the state's attorney. Now it is given publication for the first time. From this document it would appear that Luetger asked his wife to go with him to the sausage factory office on May 1, 1897. She refused. This angered him. During the quarrel that followed he gave her a violent kick in the side. This rendered her unconscious. Luetger expected she would come to, but she did not. Seeing that she had died, he disposed of her body in the factory vat.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured

with local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

Enlistments Are Numerous.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Col. Pettit, commanding the Thirty-first regiment at Fort Thomas, Ky., telegraphed the war department today that his enlistments number 1150, which is within 200 of the full quota of the regiment. He will withdraw the recruiting officers on Monday and the regiment will then be organized for actual service. He thinks that in a month it will be ready. It is stated at the war department that the Thirty-first, the Twenty-seventh and the Thirtieth will no doubt be ready to sail for Manila on the Grant, Sherman and Sheridan about September 10.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from Pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of Consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store. 1

Destroyer Goldsborough Journeys Down the Ways

LAUNCHING WAS A SUCCESS

Christened by Lude Gertrude Ballin, the Boat Slid Easily and Gracefully Into the River.

PORTLAND, July 29.—Fully 5000 people, fringing both the Morrison and Madison street bridges, standing 10 deep on the docks along the west side of the river, and crowding every possible point of vantage on the east bank, witnessed the launching of the 30-knot torpedo-boat destroyer Goldsborough from the ways at the Wolff & Zwicker iron works yesterday. The event was called for 2 o'clock, and it came off on time. Belated sight-seers were still struggling with their earlier neighbors for places to view the launching when the last shore was knocked from the cradles, and the boat began slowly to gather headway for her first journey. In 40 seconds more she was riding gracefully on the river. There was hardly a ripple under her stern as she entered the water, so easily did she slide down the ways, and scarcely did the lines intended to restrain her lift from the water and vibrate as they tightened before she was quietly swinging down with the current, a flag which was unfurled as she left the ways floating from her stern. From the knocking out of the first shore there had not been a hitch, and the launching of the Goldsborough was a start in life which any sailor might covet for the ship on which he cast his lot.
