

OUR SATURDAY'S SALE of WASH GOODS NOVELTIES

Was such a grand success that we have reluctantly decided to continue the sale for a day or two longer, as so many are unable to attend these sales owing to the fact that on this day there is a double amount of work to be performed at home which prevents many from doing their shopping. It is for their benefit that we have decided upon this plan.

If you will look at our corner window you will be immediately convinced that we are sacrificing some elegant goods at wonderfully low prices. Our "silent saleslady" (the window) has on her best "bib and tucker" and is at home to her friends at all times.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Shaw Company
"Love and Law"

Tonight at the Baldwin.
Regular meeting of the Hook and Ladder company tonight.

An adjourned meeting of the board of fire delegates is called for tonight at the city hall at 8 o'clock.

F. C. Sexton has sold his feed yard in the East End to Chas. Payette, of Conterville, who took possession yesterday.

The attention of the Rathbone Sisters is called to the meeting which will be held tomorrow evening. As few meetings have been held recently, all are especially requested to be present.

We understand that S. Wilkinson has purchased the Lusher property on Fourth street. This is a very desirable piece of property and when the house is all renovated and improved, it will make a very pretty home.

One of the leading orchardists of our city was heard to question a young gentleman today concerning what combination of fruit he thought best. The young man, who is known to be a masher, quickly answered "I prefer a date with a peach."

Richard Barter, or "Pretty Dick," as he was always known in The Dalles, has again been appointed a patrolman in Portland. He seems to be a favorite as a policeman, having filled that place very satisfactorily for a number of years before.

Lieutenant Lewis, who is in our city for the purpose of obtaining recruits for the 25th regiment, U. S. Volunteers, has had many applicants, some of whom he was compelled to refuse. Eight were examined this afternoon, and are now anxious to know whether they passed.

The lieutenant attended the drill of company D last night.

W. J. Roberts is down from Pullman and will spend a few days in the city on business connected with the proposed sewer system, and to consult with Judge Bennett, who has been engaged as attorney. Soon the property will be taxed and the new sewer system be a sure go.

The Columbia Southern Railway Company has appealed to the supreme court from the judgment rendered in Judge Sears' court, May 2, 1899, in favor of S. W. Aldrich for about $4000. The suit was to recover on a contract for building road, and the defendants concede that about $2000 of the amount sued for is due.

Next Monday evening the Georgia Minstrels will make their first appearance in the city at the Vogt. This is not the same company which visited The Dalles some time since. It is composed of colored people, who are noted for their harmonious singing. The way they sing the old Southern melodies is said to win them great favor. Ten comedians help pass the evening.

W. P. Clayton, of Provo, Utah, J. G. Workman and W. L. Flint, of Parker, Idaho, and A. T. Flinders, of Ogden, Utah, are Mormon elders, who have been in the city for several days making arrangements to hold meetings here. With the consent of the mayor they will hold services on the corner of Second and Washington streets each evening, presumably commencing tomorrow night.

It is again Salem vs. Portland. This time it is a question of receiving the returning soldier boys. Salem people are planning to raise money to assist in bringing them to the capital city, where a big reception would be given them and the expenses of the boys whose homes are in Southern Oregon paid to return thither. This will no doubt wake Portland up and renewed efforts along that line be commenced.

Yesterday we called attention to the thistle notice published by the marshal, who intends to rigidly enforce the same. This will probably interest those who have property which is not occupied more than any one else, for there is the place to find a good crop. If, however, owners could raise a crop of their own and not distribute their harvest over other people's lawns and gardens, it would not be so bad; but not only those who sow are the ones to reap. If pride in your own property does not prompt you to heed the marshal's warning, be unselfish enough to consider your neighbor and the trouble which you are causing him.

Gov. T. T. Geer, has received a letter from Brigadier-General Rowe, of New York state, inviting the Oregon National Guard and Naval Militia to attend the reception to Admiral George Dewey, upon his arrival in New York about October 1st, and participate in the parade on that occasion. As the expense of transportation etc. is to be borne by the state, it is not likely that the militia will be ordered to go to New York.

The Oregonian says that if this weather continues, Portland will be a favorite summer resort. And it will have a formidable rival in The Dalles, where the weather could not be improved on. If 'twere not that an entire change is necessary when one expects to receive benefit from a vacation, it would not be necessary to leave home this year, for while the heat will be oppressive for a few days, along comes just as many cool days, when the air cools off and the weather is perfect.

In the West it is quite the proper thing for rejected suitors to end the lives of those who dare to refuse them. These are generally white men, however; but the East goes us one better and does not permit a white woman to refuse her hand to even an Indian. A dispatch tells of a graduate from the Indian school at Carlisle, Pa., who shot and killed a girl in Amherst, Mass. The Indian had been employed on the farm for about a year, and during that time he had paid much attention to the girl. The murder, without doubt, was the result of her refusal of his attentions.

Mrs. E. B. Crocker has conveyed as a gift to the local lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, of Sacramento, her mansion in that city, which, with the surrounding grounds, is valued at $90,000. The property is the old home of E. B. Crocker and is connected by a covered passage with the Crocker art gallery, presented some years ago by the widow of Judge Crocker to the city. The building is spacious and well built and the grounds are extensive and highly improved. It is understood that the gift is absolute, and the only requirements are that the mansion and grounds shall be kept in good condition.

Babies are all right in their place, and it is a strange person who does not love a child, be it ever so small; but there are places where babies are in the "wrong pew," and one is at the theater or other large gatherings where it is uncomfortable itself; shares that feeling with its parents, and when it gets enough of the performance, proceeds to let everyone's present know such is the case by announcing the fact in anything but a pleasant tone of voice. We realize that it sometimes seems necessary for parents to take the babe or miss the show themselves; but when such is the case they should know just when to arise, take up their babe and walk; or in other words, when it cries, leave the hall until it is again quiet.

As Said By Mr. Mellen.

President Charles S. Mellen of the Northern Pacific has made public the terms of the offer his road has made to the O. R. & N. and Union Pacific. To the Tacoma Ledger he said:

"We are quite willing and ready to allow the Union Pacific to use our tracks from Portland to Tacoma. They can have the use of our terminals here. In exchange for this we want the O. R. & N. to allow us the use of its tracks from Wallula junction to Portland. This would be about an even exchange. The distance from Tacoma to Portland by the Northern Pacific is 185 miles, while the distance from Wallula junction to Portland is 216 miles, but the Northern Pacific runs through a most prolific country, while the O. R. & N. does not, so that the difference in mileage will be more than offset by this fact."

Notice.

All claims against Dalles City must be hereafter presented to the recorder on or before the day preceding the day fixed for the regular meeting of the council, which day is the 31 day of each month; if presented thereafter they shall be laid over to the next succeeding regular meeting.

By order of finance committee.
Aug. 1, 1899.

NED H. GATES,
Recorder of Dalles City.

Commencing Saturday, July 29th, the O. R. & N. Co. will sell round-trip tickets to Cascade Locks and return for $1.50. Tickets will be honored going on train No. 1, Saturday, and returning on trains Nos. 4 and 2 the following Sunday. JAS. IRELAND, Agent. aug 2

Notice.

There will be no mid-week evening service conducted in the Congregational church during the month of August.

"FROM SIRE TO SON."

The Shaw Company Again Please Their Audience Last Night.

The coming of the Shaw company to our city just at this time has proven a fortunate occurrence to those of us who are compelled to remain at home while our more fortunate neighbors enjoy their outings. As it is, we can now spend the evening most pleasantly in a comfortable opera house listening to first class plays by good actors.

As we have said before, Dalles people may not live in a large city where the opportunity is often afforded to witness the best actors, but they know good acting when they see it, and when a company gets full houses like the Shaw company had last night, it is a sure sign they deserve them.

Many who heard the Milton Nobles' Company play "From Sire to Son" express their opinion that the company last night discounted the former production. While Nobles himself is an actor of undisputed merit, and his wife as pleasing an actress, the character of Alfred Armitage was not so well suited to his style as was it to Mr. Shaw. Then the entire cast was much stronger. Indeed, were it not that each character was so deserving of special mention, we might single out a few and comment upon their acting; but the play was so well balanced that to do so would be unjust.

Those who were not in attendance the first night were astonished that a company whose prices are so reasonable carried such a splendid orchestra. Their work was up to the standard established Monday night, and as much appreciated. Especially fine are the xylophone solos.

Tonight the company will go back to comedy once more and produce Milton Noble's masterpiece, "Love and Law." The play is in reality a melo-drama of New York life, but the humorous side of the picture predominates and it is always classed as comedy. As Felix O'Paff, the Irish attorney, with one hand in his pockets ready to assist the needy, and the other outstretched to uphold virtue or punish vice and over all that irrepressible sense of Irish wit and humor, Sam Shaw has a character which the Salem papers described as "fitting him so perfectly that it was difficult to determine where Shaw left off and O'Paff began."

A BOSTON MAIDEN.

She stood upon the Pullman platform, rapt in wonder as the train dia upward creaked. Neath peaks by grand eternal snow crowns Through canyons deep.

"Great scenery," to break the ice, I said, "Incomprehensible, majestic, grand!" And she replied, with nod of queenly head: "It beats the band!"

"Those towering pines, how graceful in their pride, Swayed by the passing breeze from tops to roots; Are not they kingly?" and she soft replied: "Say, ain't they beauties!"

"What mighty power nerved the hand that split These mighty rocks apart, and hurled them back?" With upward eyes she answered "Wasn't it A crackerjack!"

"These rugged canyon walls on either side, Present they not a most imposing front!" She turned her eyes upon them and replied: "Well, I should grant!"

"Didst note the golden haze which dreamily Spread o'er the hills when day began to dawn?" She thought a moment and then answered me: "Yes, I caught on."

"How insignificant we mortals seem Surrounded by the works of Nature, such As this," she soft replied: "Well, I should dream! We ain't so much!"

"Suppose these great walls towering overhead Should close upon us in this awful chasm?" She shrugged her shoulders once or twice and said: "I'd have a spasm!"

"Are you from Denver, may I ask?" and she gave me a glance that caused my hair to curl And said: "Well, I should say our 'NIT!' I be A Boston girl!"
