

A GENUINE SUMMER SALE

Of garments for warm days and sultry nights. Such is the sale now in progress at our store in the form of light-weight under garments for the ladies. They range in price from a

25c garment at 17c
to an 85c garment at 59c

in all styles, all prices, all shades.

Why swelter now and dread your state
When garments light as feather weight
Can be had in lots galore
At Pease & Mays' dry goods store.
These garments you will find the thing
In pink and blue, ecru and cream.
For afternoons when crowds en masse
Turn out to view the band go past;
When evening zephyrs 'round you play,
You feel content to go and stay
To see Shaw's people try their best
To please and entertain their guests.
If you, dear friends, could only see
How nice these garments fit and please,
You'd come at once to our great store
And buy these garments by the score.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Shaw Company
In "Farmer Stebbins"
Tonight at the Baldwin.
The bridge which will be used in the play tonight at the Baldwin is the work of Mr. Shaw, he having painted the scene himself.
What's the matter with the opposition boat line? Are they waiting for a more convenient season, or has it failed to connect? It takes more than wind to run a steamboat line; there must be some steam back of it.
The black nightingale, Mme Ryan, has no peer as a soprano among the colored race. She has been called the colored Ellen Beach Yaw on account of her great range. You will hear her with the latest Southern skit, Georgia Up-to-Date.
Last night the city paps ordered the parade ordinance strictly enforced.

Now the cyclists must not hide their light under a bushel, but let everyone know it when they're out at night. They must also give the sidewalks the 'go by.'

W. J. Roberts will return to Pullman this evening, having enlightened the council on some minutia regarding the proposed sewer system. Mr. Roberts is associate principal of mathematics and civil engineering in the college at Pullman.

We are sorry to learn that for many reasons (real and also imaginary) our evaporator has failed to materialize. "Twere ever thus," and the best way to do is never to feel sure of anything until you are sure it will not evaporate before your very eyes.

Prof. W. Smith, who was formerly principal of the public schools in The Dalles, came up as far as Cascades yesterday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Smith, he having been recently married. He is now principal of the schools in Grass Valley, California.

Yesterday afternoon Willard Ferguson was arrested, charged with larceny from the dwelling of Theo. Mespie on Mill creek. He had been employed by Mr. Mespie for about seven years, but of recent years has not been making his home with them. He was arraigned this morning and is having his trial this afternoon.

J. W. Blake, of Thermopolis, Wyo., just returned from a trip into the Prineville country. While there he purchased 450 Rambouillet bucks and 60 Lincoln bucks from the Prineville Land and Live Stock Company. Mr. Blake is especially well pleased with the purchase as the stock are fine, large and well adapted to the Wyoming country, to which state they will be shipped. He left last night for Spokane to join his family.

A fine rain visited this section Friday night and Saturday morning. The dust was put out of business for a while and the crops very much benefited. Dan Rinehart reported having heard of one man who was kicking about the rain because his hay was in the field but he did not give his name.—Condon Globe.

Lieutenant Lewis informs us that out of thirty-five applicants he has accepted eight recruits and rejected twenty-seven. Five left this morning and three will leave tomorrow. Others are being examined daily, and no doubt quite a number will be taken into the regular service before the lieutenant leaves the city.

The following telegram was received in Portland yesterday by General Beebe from General Summers: "Will leave here Tuesday, 5 p. m., and arrive home Thursday, 2 p. m. Will bring through fully 600 men or more as a regiment. Arrange for a reasonable parade. At the end of the parade the colors will be presented to the governor, also the governor can review the parade. Have a band for the regiment, as ours had to turn their instruments back."

Surely there is not such a marked difference between the weather in The Dalles and Portland. And yet an ad in The Telegram last night headed "Excitement," would indicate that they are having wintery weather. The cut represents a man rushing to the office on Wednesday evening, with a big fur coat on and his hands in his pockets while the wintry wind was whistling around. Evidently the ad man had used one of last winter's old cuts.

Annoyed By Little Hoodlums.

The CHRONICLE has no desire to be considered "cranky," nor as always kicking; but we feel sure that our readers will consider that anyone who attended the theater last evening is justified in complaining of the annoyance caused by a class of little hoodlums who made the room hideous with their shrill whistles and yelling. That "boys will be boys" is true and as it should be; but that they should be hoodlums is not necessary. During a high-class performance, where are the better class of people in a community, is no time for such demonstration as was carried on last night, and an officer should be in attendance to suppress it. The yells and whistling of these little terrorists almost succeeded in tiring the audience so that the effect of the play was lost, and yet those who sat near them and desired to enjoy the performance claim they dared not reprimand them because they were so saucy. That is a pretty state of affairs in a city like The Dalles, where people must needs be overrun by a gang of hoodlums.

We have often mentioned that the audiences here are cold and that applause is not frequent enough, for it has such a tendency to inspire an actor. However, last night it was not possible to applaud the very best scenes in the play without it being a signal for an uproar which drowned the voices on the stage. Indeed, at one time when one of the most effective scenes was taking place some "kid" kept up a sort of hissing noise until it could not be heard.

Mr. Allen, the manager, has done his best so far to make the audience comfortable and has succeeded in every way; and now we would just suggest that he appoint a deputy or two and when these boys become too annoying, take them by the nape of the neck and throw them over the back porch.

The pleasant flavor, gentle action, and soothing effect of Syrup of Figs, when in need of a laxative, and if the father or mother be costive or bilious, the most gratifying results follow its use; so that it is the best family remedy known and every family should have a bottle. Or Rather the Sidewalks With Your Wheel—So Say the Dads and Other Things Say They Also.

Mayor Kuck and Councilmen Clough, Johns, Gunning, Stephens, Johnston, Michelbach, Shackelford, and Kelly were present at the council chambers last evening at 8 o'clock to deliberate concerning the affairs of the city.

An application from the fire police to be admitted to the fire department was read and on motion of Johns referred to the committee on fire and water.

Nine new fire plugs, which had been previously purchased, were not accepted on account of the keys not fitting the old plugs, as it is desirous of having them uniform.

On motion of Johns, the mayor appointed Johnston and Kelly on the sewer committee, which now consists of five members.

Clough then moved that the bicycle ordinance compelling cyclists who ride at night to carry lanterns, and also to strictly enforce the law concerning riding on the sidewalks.

Reports of the officers were then read and placed on file. The following bills were ordered paid:
