WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

The Wasco warehouse received the first loads of new wheat today. From now on it will come in at a lively rate. The wind bloweth where it listeth again today, and soon the quieting, cleaning effect of our nice little rain storm will be overthrown and we will again return to dust.

The ladies who have promised to furnish cakes or other eatables for the banquet Saturday evening are requested to send them to the armory as early as possible in the afternoon of that day.

John Parrent, who attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself seems to suffer no serious result from the wound, although he has been so weak that physicians dare not probe for the bullet.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Cooper, Dr. G. E. Sanders, David Lemison and Capt. Bartell went down on the boat to meet the returning volunteers this evening. It is planned to reach that city about 4 o'clock.

A rumor was current yesterday that Chas. Evans, the injured engineer, was much worse. However, we learn from the doctor that such is not a fact; and he is resting as easy as can be expected in such a case.

Superintendent Ackerman has decided to make a four-weeks tour of the state, visiting county institutes. During the week beginning Sept. 3d, he will visit Condon, Fossil and this city, where institutes will be held.

Evidently the Shaw Company is as much appreciated in Pendleton as they were in The Dalles, and more so. The East Oregonian speaks very highly of them and in writing to a friend here Mr. Allen, the business manager, says: "We were compelled to stop selling seats so crowded was the house."

That we must go away from home to learn the news, has again been verified, when the Oregonian tells us that Conductor Maher has been suffering and is now laid up with a badly mashed foot, which was caused by a heavy trunk falling on it at Biggs. His father-in-law, Mr. Butts, tells us he will be unable to make his usual run for some weeks yet.

The management of the Spokane Industrial Exposition is to be congratulated on having secured the Grand Army Banquet, of Canton, Ohio, for its exposition in October. Many people heard of this fine band, which was with President McKinley when he was nominated at St. Louis in 1896, and there are many people in the northwest who were present at that time and heard its splendid music.

It is estimated that between 8,000,000 and 10,000,000 people in the United States take a vacation every summer. They spend between $400,000,000 and $500,000,000 yearly in pursuit of pleasure. There are in the United States 23,000 summer hotels, and 300,000 persons are employed in them. At least 1,000,000 people attend the various Chautauqua assemblies, of which there are seventy-three branches.

The boys have already discovered the "watermelons swinging on the vine," and Joe Stadlerman yesterday in turn discovered the boys, whom he turned over to Marshal Hughes. There were about a half-dozen and things were lively in police headquarters for a short time. They were let off easy, however, and the watermelons in that vicinity will probably be given the "go by."

Jack Lawler, who some time since made himself famous in his old home, The Dalles, by assaulting Ralph Gibbons, without the slightest provocation, seems to have been up to his old tricks, having been arrested Tuesday in Portland for a similar offense—striking a total stranger who gave him no reason whatever. Jack will soon get to the end of his string, with a black cap over his eyes, if he continues at his present rate.

A rich body of gold-bearing ore was struck in the south side of town before 7 o'clock this morning, so the Sinclair Bros. inform us. The ledge is sixteen feet wide and runs from northwest to southeast. Two men are working on it today. The exact locality has not been made public, but it is said to be within the city limits. The ore can be seen at Drews barber shop, Second street. It was assayed by Messrs. Sinclair and gave $8 per ton in gold.

Henry Villard, of railroad fame in the Northwest, accompanied by his family, came up in his special car, which was attached to the evening train, and remained in the city until the night train, taking supper at the Umatilla House. When spoken to by a reporter he said his visit had no special significance, and that they were simply on a pleasure trip. He has made the trip through the Sound country and has been in Eugene and other valley towns, stopping in Portland a few days.

Winter and summer is just the same to Dalles bowlers when it comes to rolling 'em to win, as was proven by the game at Astoria Monday night. From Fred Houghton, who returned last night, we learn that Messrs Bradshaw, Houghton, Ogden and Baldwin met the Astoria team on their alleys on that evening and beat them four straight games. While they had been practicing up for the game, our team were all out of practice and had no idea of standing any show at all. This fact makes the result all the more flattering for our bowlers.

The proof of the fruit crop is in seeing and tasting it, and we confess after hearing so much about the failure of the prune crop this year, we were not a little surprised when John Taylor brought to the office this morning a branch of Italian prunes, raised at their place on Dry Hollow, so heavy with fruit that it could scarcely bear the weight. It certainly doesn't look much like a failure, and the fruit has the appearance of being healthy. Mr. Taylor says that while the conditions regarding that fruit are the same as that of others, a tree here and there being injured, on an average they will have over two-thirds of a crop. The peach plums have about all been disposed of and in most sections were a good crop.

Lieutenant Lewis, the officer who has been in The Dalles for the past ten days for the purpose of obtaining recruits for the Thirty-fifth regiment, has received orders to leave for Salem tomorrow, where he will open a recruiting station. He will, however, be in The Dalles on Friday and Saturday of each week, when any who may desire can enlist. During his stay here he has accepted fourteen, five of whom stood examinations here. They were Adolph Satterthwaite, John L. Pound, Ernest Hite, J. C. Emmet and E. C. Gordon, all strangers in the city. Lieutenant Lewis expresses himself as perfectly satisfied with the result of his work here, and is much pleased with our city, especially from a business point of view. Most of the recruits in various cities visited are from a class who have no special line of business: young men whose parents are well to do or who have no desire to enter business circles. In The Dalles he has found none of this class, and he has made up his mind that the people here are unusually industrious and business-like.

"Harmony" Whiskey. Harmony whiskey for family and special use, sold by Ben Wilson, The Dalles.

THE FIRST TO RETURN.

George Dufar Got Home Last Night—Is Not Taken With the Islands.

The first of our soldier boys to return is George Dufar, who came up on last night's train, having come from San Francisco with what is termed by the Oregonian as the advance guard. This was composed of about 400, mostly boys who belong to the valley towns and who got off at their various homes. Among them were three Dalles boys beside George. They were John Cooper, F. D. Frisley and Will Norman. The latter will go to his parents who now live in Southern Oregon and the other two will return with the boys Saturday. A young man by the name of Roberson came up to Hood River last night.

George says that the boys looked at it from the standpoint that they would save but about 50 cents in fare by waiting for the special train, and they were extremely anxious to reach home, so having nothing to keep them in Frisco they lit out.

The Oregonian estimates that about 800 will reach Portland this evening; but in this (as in many other things) she will be disappointed, for at most it is thought there will be but 500, since the arrival of so many yesterday.

The reporter questioned as to how many Dalles boys would return Saturday and he informed us that Bartell had said there would be but about twenty-three. Several had returned previously. Two—Guy Saunders and W. E. Lee were Eastern boys who enlisted here, and returned to their homes; two are numbered among those who are now "under the sod and the dew," and when all is told but thirty at the very most will be left to receive their welcome home.

In regard to mustering out at San Francisco, George says the boys cannot be blamed. While it was a question of finances to a certain extent, that was not so much considered as was the fact of taking advantage of the first opportunity to reach land and remain there. After a month on board transports, which at best are not desirable, and when considering that with the slow progress made by them it would necessitate almost a week longer on the water, they were unanimously in favor of Frisco. At the same time they regret that such disappointment was occasioned in their own state.

While on the islands George was employed on the non-commissioned staff as stenographer for Gen. Hughes, although occasionally as an opportunity presented itself he would shoulder his musket and join the boys in the fray. Two orderlies from the office where he was employed was brought back corpses, having seized an opportunity to escape office duty for the field.

While having the satisfaction of discharging duty well, and obtaining an experience which he would not have foregone, he is not in love with the islands and refused a splendid position there, preferring to be "home again."

Committees of Reception Appointed.

At the meeting of the volunteer reception committee last evening C. F. Stephens reported that about $206 had been collected from the citizens to defray the expenses, the response being hearty and all seeming to enter into the spirit which the occasion prompts.

A committee of reception was appointed to meet them at the Cascades as follows: Mayor Kuck, Hon. M. A. Moody, J. M. Patterson, G. C. Blakeley, C. E. Stephens, Judge Mays, L. E. Crowe, J. F. Hampshire, J. A. Douthit, Mrs. T. S. Lang, Mrs. G. C. Blakeley, Mrs. G. E. Sanders, Mrs. J. A. McArthur, Misses A. Lang, Elizabeth Bonn, Louise Ruch, Minnie Gosser and Minnie Lay.

A letter was read from Prof. Birgfeld in answer to a request to furnish music, saying that he would be on hand and furnish the best music available. A floor committee was appointed as follows: C. L. Phillips, floor manager, assisted by James Smith, J. F. Hampshire, S. Nutting, Chas. Frank, Jr., Henry Naegle, Jos. Stadelman, Jr., Chas. Burchdorf, F. W. Wilson and James Fisher, Jr.

While these committees have been appointed, each one is expected to appoint himself a committee of one to see that the boys have the best time possible. Now is the time to show them how much we appreciate their service.

Who Told Him?

Consistency would certainly not be a synonym for Astorian, the leading paper of Astoria, which in yesterday's issue contains two notices which do not exactly "gibe." In the first place it says: "The A. & C. train from Portland came in yesterday with the standing-room-only sign depleted in the face of the conductor. The exodus is now heavy from the inland towns, the well-to-do people preferring Astoria and the seashore resorts to the hot and stifling atmosphere which everywhere prevails beyond the reach of the ocean breezes."

Wonder who told the reporter about the "hot and stifling atmosphere" which prevails outside of Astoria. Evidently he has not heard of how our people in The Dalles are wearing winter clothing and sleeping under blankets. While for a time we did "enjoy" a few days when it was too warm to be real comfortable, no doubt they were preferable to Astoria's "dank and chilling" atmosphere, which is referred to in another paragraph in the same paper, thusly: "The weather took an erratic turn yesterday, shifting from balmy winds and azure skies to a dank and chilling atmosphere that sent pedestrians to cover."

Buffet Library Car.

Commencing August 10th a buffet library car will be placed in service between Chicago and Portland, Or., on trains Nos. 1 and 2. This car has a spacious smoking saloon furnished with easy chairs, writing desks, a well selected library of standard and popular books, guidebooks and current periodicals, a well stocked buffet, a barber shop and an apartment for baggage. Through dining car service will be inaugurated on that date between Portland and Chicago, both via Granger and Ogden. New chair cars of the latest pattern and new baggage and mail cars are to be added to the present through service of Pullman palace and Pullman tourist sleepers which have recently been placed in service, when the entire train will be vestibuled, thus making trains Nos. 1 and 2 equal, if not superior to many of the widely advertised limited trains in the East. aug8-15d Request to Close.

Inasmuch as the men of the Second Oregon regiment from Wasco county will arrive in the city on the evening of Saturday, August 12, and the citizens having arranged to tender them a reception, all business houses are requested to close at 5 o'clock that evening in order that all may participate in the reception. Parties located along the line of march are also requested to decorate their premises.

H. L. KUCK, Mayor.
