AND WE'LL ALL FEEL GAY

When Johnny Comes Marching Home at 5:30 Tonight—Be on Hand to Welcome Him.

He comes—the conquering hero comes. The reception tonight commences at 8:30 o'clock.

Rain, rain, stay away; little Johnny wants to play.

Johnny comes marching home again. Hurrah! Hurrah!

The young ladies are requested to come prepared to join in the dancing this evening.

Captain and Mrs. Harry Wells will be among the number who comes up from Portland with our boys.

The kodak fiends are on parade, and as turn about is fair play, the boys will now be shot. Not by Filipinos, either.

Remember, girls, the boys are not arm-less, if they did leave their "arms" in San Francisco. All's fair in love and war.

The city is well filled with people from the neighboring country who have come in to help us receive the returning heroes.

Among the many pretty decorations, the court house is very conspicuous, and no better taste is displayed than that used by John Fitz Gerald.

No small children will be admitted to the hall tonight until the older people are all seated. It is doubtful whether the crowd can be seated as it is.

The Regulator will reach the dock at about 5:30, having left the Cascades at 1:15. It is impossible to tell exactly, and she may be later, but to be safe we will say 5:30.

After a second thought the parade committee decided the line of march would be too long, and it has been confined to Second street, where everyone will be at any rate.

Second street was never decorated more beautifully nor with more taste. The sight of so much red, white and blue is stirring up a feeling of patriotism today which will find vent when the boat lands at the dock tonight.

Marshal Wheelon will have as aide this evening L. T. Whallen, who was one of Roosevelt's rough riders, and John McNeil, who was an orderly in the army and was in the famous charge at San Juan and at the taking of Santiago.

We were surprised to see such a small crowd board the Dalles City this morning to take advantage of the excursion. We felt assured the boat would be loaded down with those eager to join in the first welcome. No doubt duties connected with our reception kept a large number at home.

A reception committee composed of Mayor Kueck, Judge Mays, Z. F. Moody, G. C. Blakeley, C. F. Stephens, Mrs. E. Lang, Mrs. G. C. Blakeley, Misses Louise Ruch, Nan Cooper, Beniah Patterson, Myrtle Michell, Anna Lang and Maie Elton, will meet the boys at the Cascades, and with others who are coming up from Portland, make the trip up a glad one.

The program at the hall tonight will be as follows:

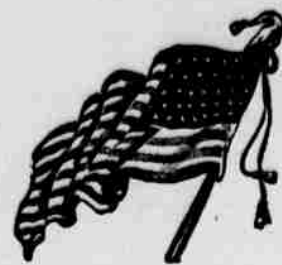

- Music.....D. C. & A. C. Band
- Prayer.....Rev. J. H. Wood
- Mayor Kueck welcomes the volunteers and introduces M. P. Isenberg who delivers an address.
- Response.....Volunteers
- Address.....N. J. Sinnott
- Solo—"Oregon Volunteers".....Myrtle Michell
- Address (behalf of High school).....Prof. J. S. Landers
- Solo—"The Roll Call".....Rev. D. V. Poling
- Address.....F. W. Wilson
- America.....Audience
- Music.....D. C. & A. C. Band
- Closing with an informal dance.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Regular services at the Methodist church tomorrow.

There will be regular services at the Catholic church tomorrow.

Proceeding both morning and evening at the Christian church tomorrow.

Services tomorrow morning at the Congregational church. Rev. Poling will take as his subject "Partnership Between Faith and Sigm."

Folk people are happy. That city is to be placed on the main line of the Oregon Short Line providing they can raise a loan of $200,000, and they claim they can.

One might imagine this was May day. The weather is certainly perfect. No letter could be asked, and if it continues, our people will all be advertising for summer holidays.

The applicants for county teachers' certificates—fifteen in number—finished their examinations yesterday afternoon and the result will be published Monday. There were no applicants for state papers.

Last night at 10:25 o'clock Cordelia Hagan, wife of James Hagan, died of blood poisoning at her home near the garison. She was 29 years of age, and leaves a husband and 3-year-old son. The funeral will take place from the Catholic church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

An exchange says that a certain news paper printed an item to the effect that a certain resident, whose name it did not give, had better stop kissing his hired girl, or he might be found out. Twenty-seven men called on the editor and immediately stopped their paper; and accused him of interfering in their domestic affairs.

The showers of rain during the week have seriously interfered with heading and will cause some delay to thrashing crews that were to begin operations the first of next week. Grain seems to be better than was expected, and if the hot spell in July had let it alone this section would have broken the record on crops.—Dafur Dispatch.

Marshal Hughes does not enjoy disturbing any one's slumbers, but when he finds the sidewalks obstructed by a lodger, he is liable to disturb the spirit of his dreams. And so J. Graham, who got in the wrong berth yesterday afternoon, soon found himself in jail to sober up. He was fined $5, but refusing to pay is now celebrating in the cooler.

It is not known to what extent grain has been affected by the rain, but it is not thought that any injury was done. From the fact that straw is not tall or heavy this year, standing grain will be able to withstand a considerable amount of rain. Heading and threshing, however, will be delayed for a day or two until grain sufficiently dries. Of course farmers were decidedly uneasy for fear of more rain but there should be no further cause of apprehension as the weather report for today reads "fair; warmer."—W. W. Union.

It is to be regretted that the hot springs at Wind river cannot be better utilized. Every one who comes up from there tells of the healing properties of the water and what a blessing it might be if the property were but in the hands of some one who would improve it and provide a suitable place for visitors to stay. As it is, the owners refuse to sell and also to make any improvements themselves. The fare is very poor and the bath houses miserable. We firmly believe it is ahead of Bingham Springs and on a par with Glenwood were the right means used to utilize it.

It is always said that bad news spread rapidly. Such, however, was not the case with that of the Mitchell fire, which occurred a week ago yesterday. Today the news is received for the first time. Its loss is accounted for from the fact that the town is 120 miles from the river, which is the nearest railroad point. The fire started in an old barn, where it is supposed some children were playing with matches. At first it was feared that the fire was incendiary, but this impression has been removed. Ten to twelve buildings were destroyed, of which four or five were stores, one a hotel, one a livery stable, and some saloons.

Just to show that Dalles people know a good thing when they see it and are backed by the intelligent class of other cities, here is what the East Oregonian says of "Love and Law" as played by the Shaw company: "It was one of the cleverest things ever done on the stage in Pendleton. The word clever usually applies to a single actor, rather than to an entire play. But, this one, in its writing as well as in its rendering by the company, its ensemble, may be referred to as clever. The members of the company were well cast. Not one was unable to handle his part, and this insured a balanced production throughout. It was commonly remarked that every actor on the stage was about as good as any other on this occasion, so well adapted was each for the part assigned."

Honor to whom honor is due, and this being our policy we desire to correct a mistake in regard to the companies which were foremost in the performance of duty at yesterday's fire. Instead of Jackson company we should have said that the Columbias assisted the Mt. Hood, although the former were on hand later; and also that the Hook and Ladder company was on hand and did some good work in their line of duty. We are also informed that the force of water was as much as could have been expected under the circumstances, the hose being attached to a plug 550 feet down a pretty steep grade, making it impossible to get a very powerful force. The force looked small to those who are used to the streams which are obtained below the bluff.

And now the Columbia Southern bobs up serenely, and, according to the Dafur Dispatch, The Dalles is soon to be a thing of the past. From the number of times we have sunk into oblivion and made our appearance on the top notch again, the name of our city should be changed to "Placidix." By the way, that would be a reinvention of The Dalles-Dallas problem. The Dafur Dispatch says: "Late last night we learned that Monte Bros., bankers of More, and the Columbia Southern Railroad Company had purchased 2000 acres of land at Cross Hollows, and that it was the intention of the company to build large feed yards and warehouses and make that the terminus of the road. If such report be true it will greatly effect The Dalles, not only as a shipping point but as a trading point also."

Appreciation.

We desire to express thanks to the firemen who so bravely endeavored to stay the flames which destroyed our property yesterday, and for their untiring and successful efforts to save our new home. Also the neighbors who assisted us. We thank you.
Mr. and Mrs. W. Nichols.
