We understand the contract has been let for repainting the old Cosmopolitan hotel. This will be a great improvement, not only to the building, but that part of the city.

Albert Maillen, recently of Toronto, has accepted a position in the dry goods department of Pease & Mays' store, and took up his duties there a few days since. He is a brother-in-law of Dr. Hudson.

Who knows but Chicago's warm wave may be coming our way. The report says fair and warmer. Well, we can stand a little summer weather this year, and Chicago, which is cooking, could stand some of our rain.

The county commissioners today granted a six-months liquor license to C. L. Schmidt, of Portland, to carry on a saloon at Cascades. Also a license to Clyde Bonney to run a ferry between Hood River and White Salmon.

Next Friday evening Cedar Circle will give a social at Fraternity hall. A fine program will be rendered and Prof. Bigfield will furnish music for the evening. Admission 25 and 15 cents. Be sure and remember the date.

When Dr. Logan was in Portland a few days since he called upon Chas. Evans at the St. Vincent hospital. The improvement made since his leg was amputated has been remarkable and he expected to leave the hospital Tuesday.

Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock, fire broke out in the dye house of the Pendleton woolen mills and in thirty minutes the machinery was destroyed, a huge pile of Indian robes and steamer rugs was burned and the building was damaged to the extent of $500.

The report of the asylum superintendent for the month of August contains the following: Patients July 31, 1154; received 23; under care and treatment, 1178; discharged, died and eloped, 24; remaining August 31, 1154; officers and employees, 150; cost of supplies, $5755.21; payroll, $5394.86.

We suppose the name of the new town at Cross Hollows is intended to be in honor of A. Scherneckau, who was perhaps the oldest settler there, making it his home for many years. But while there's much in the former way of spelling it, there's quite a difference in Shani-ko. Any way it will be easier to spell correctly.

The sons and sisters of the late Sam Simpson are taking steps to have his poems published. Leaving out some of the least admired of his works, there will be enough to make a book of some 400 pages. Details have not been fully arranged as yet, but it is probable that there will be an edition in fine paper and bound in excellent style, and another of a less expensive character. The book will doubtless meet with a large sale in Oregon and will find favor elsewhere.

Still the fishermen on the lower river are not content, but must find fault with the upper river fishermen. A dispatch from Astoria says: "The fall fishing season will open next Sunday, but unless reports are untrue, some of the upper river fishermen and canneries are already at work." Inquiry regarding the matter proves this statement to be false. While the canneries may have been busy a portion of the close season, those who know say they were engaged in putting on labels and finishing up other work.

A. A. Bonney, stock inspector, came into the city yesterday afternoon, having driven in a thousand head of lambs, which have been purchased by D. P. Ketchum. Mr. Bonney says if the present movement of closing the reserve to grazing is carried into effect, the result will be the utter destruction of the industry. The agitation which has been carried on so long has been in itself sufficiently disastrous, and now that Secretary Wilson's visit has revived it, will be the more so. At the request of the CHRONICLE Mr. Bonney will soon give our readers the benefit of his views on the question.

The sisters of St. Mary's Academy have commenced their fall term of school and are now in regular working order for the year, studies having been resumed Tuesday morning after a vacation of ten weeks. A number of boarders have already arrived and many more from the country districts will come in later, when the duties at home can be laid aside. They are now in better condition than ever to accommodate boarders, having thoroughly renovated the building, put in gas for lighting it and new bath rooms throughout, with the latest fixtures. Other improvements have also been made, so that arrangements are very complete.

The Columbia may be a dangerous stream, but there's one little colt that proved he wasn't afraid of it. Recently Otis Savage presented Mrs. Garretson with a fine little colt, which is now four months old. Mr. Garretson had it sent across the river with the idea of having it cared for on that side; but "colty" didn't like the idea, and getting out of pasture, when the ferry boat came over was down ready to return. He was driven back, but in a short time came down again, and wading in began to swim like a Trojan. The current carried him down opposite the railroad company's shops, but he made it to this side, if he was a little the worse for wear.

If anyone wants to get ahead of The Dalles bowlers they must get up early in the morning, and then our bowlers will stay up all night to be ahead of them. When the team composed of Messrs. Houghton, Mays, Baldwin, Nolan, Kurtz and Schmidt visited Salem last winter and had a contest with the team there, their hosts could not do enough for them and entertained them more than royally. In vain did the boys try to pay their bills, (that is so they inform us and we don't like to publicly doubt their word) for even after Grant Mays, who stayed longer than the rest, succeeded in paying, a check was sent to him upon his return home. Wishing to show their appreciation of the kindness in some manner, they conceived the idea of presenting the Illihee club with some remembrance and happily chose the photograph of an Indian recently taken by Gifford, which is certainly the finest specimen of an Indian picture we have ever seen. It is 20x24 and framed in a wide black frame, having a silver beading next to the picture, and is particularly apropos as the club has an Indian name. It will be sent to Salem this afternoon.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Hook and Ladder Company held last evening in the council chambers, it was decided to give a dance for the purpose of raising a fund to purchase a new truck for the company. An executive committee was appointed which will make necessary arrangements. It is the intention of the company to give such an entertainment that all who attend will not only feel better for having given something for a good cause, but will have the added pleasure of having spent an enjoyable evening. To anyone who has lived in The Dalles, the necessity of keeping up the fire department is easily apparent. The destructive conflagrations which have visited our city, have shown that money spent in aiding our fire department is well invested. The members of the company are not asking anything for themselves, but are only taking this means of enabling our citizens to show their appreciation of the arduous work the boys have done many times to protect property in danger. A new hook and ladder truck is badly needed, and THE CHRONICLE hopes that the results of the dance will go a long way towards enabling the company to purchase one. The dance will be given Friday evening, September 16th, in the Vogt opera house, Mr. Vogt having generously donated the hall for this occasion.

New Asylum Superintendent.

The state administration in Salem Tuesday morning made several changes in subordinate places under its management, chief among which was a new superintendent for the insane asylum, for which Dr. Calbreath, of McMinnville, was chosen. He is spoken of in the highest terms, and in 1894 was elected to the senate, where he was conspicuous for his support of meritorious measures. But what the people of Oregon are most interested in is whether he has a heart of sympathy for those poor unfortunates who are entrusted to his care. If there is a position in the gift of the state for which the best man in the state should be chosen, it is the superintendent of the insane asylum; for how much sooner would the friends of these poor victims consign their remains to the grave than to feel that they are at the mercy of a heartless wretch, who is careless of the attendants he employs and pays little heed to what goes on in the institution. The case of the treatment of the remains of one of these unfortunates from The Dalles recently is not to be compared to what it would be to have the living mistreated.

The salary of the superintendent of the asylum is $2500 per year, and he is by law furnished living quarters, household furniture, provisions, fuel and light from the supplies of the asylum. This should be a sufficient remuneration to insure good service, but money cannot put a heart in a human being, and so we trust nature has done the work for our new superintendent.

If the selection has been as fortunate as that of the superintendent at the penitentiary, who is well known to Dalles people as a man of worth, it cannot fail to give satisfaction.

Other changes are as follow: M. L. Chamberlin, of Salem, for chief clerk of the state land board to succeed Gen. W. H. Odell, resigned, at the pleasure of the board. (This election has not been formally made, but said to be agreed upon.)

Major C. U. Gantenbein, of Portland, for adjutant general of the Oregon National Guard, to succeed Brigadier General B. B. Tuttle on November 1st.

Col. James Jackson, U. S. A., of Portland, for inspector general on the governor's staff, to succeed himself.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

A Good Attendance and Much Interest—Those Present.

The annual teachers' institute for Wasco county convened this morning under the most favorable auspices. The weather could scarcely be more perfect, and the large attendance of teachers at the opening session indicates that a successful meeting will be had.

At 9 o'clock order was called, and the exercises began with singing, Supt. J. S. Landers having charge. County Superintendent Gilbert has so far recovered from his illness as to be able to be present and preside. He made a few well chosen remarks welcoming the teachers, after which President P. L. Campbell gave an interesting talk on the subject of Psychology. He showed the value and importance of a knowledge of its principle in enabling the teacher to simplify instruction and economize time and energy, while at the same time securing the best possible results in the way of teaching the child's mind.

Supt. Landers followed with a talk on Mensuration. Pursuing the method indicated by Pres. Campbell in his remarks on Psychology, Supt. Landers showed how plain surfaces may be best classified and presented to the pupil.

A short intermission followed, after which the president continued his talk on Psychology.

The morning session closed with an instructive lesson on Elementary Geography work by Supt. Landers.

The institute is most fortunate in its instructors. Prof. Campbell and Supt. Landers possess a thorough knowledge of their subjects and present them in a masterly manner.

At the afternoon session Miss Hattie Stirnweis read a paper on the teaching of civil government. In the discussion following, President Campbell and Supt. Landers made some valuable suggestions as to the manner of teaching this subject. This was followed by a paper on Training for Citizenship by J. T. Neff.

The Use of the School Library was the subject of the next paper by S. C. Snerrill of Frankton School. The paper was full of good thoughts as to the selection and use of the library, and an interesting discussion of the same showed how important is the matter of the school library.

It was the sentiment of teachers that the state should make provision for supplying schools with suitable books for general reading and reference.

It was also brought out that much has been done by the teachers of this county in the way of establishing libraries in the schools.

The following is the list of teachers in attendance:
