QUALIFICATIONS FOR AN EDITOR

It is stated that the Oregon Press Association will appoint a committee to draft a bill to be introduced in the next legislature to require those who aspire to the editorial chair, to pass an examination before being permitted to publish a newspaper in Oregon. The following questions are suggested for examination by the Moral Leader:

Give an example of your proficiency in the art of prevarication. Take an article from an exchange, and show how you can mutilate it, turn it to utter nonsense, and publish it as your own?

Give your private opinion of the man who comes round and bums a copy of your paper every week, and then lends it to his brother-in-law?

Explain how to manage with the same suit of clothes for two or three years?

What is the best answer to give your wife when she wants a new bonnet, which you know you can't afford to get her?

Give an example of your knowledge of mending your own shoes?

Give an example of the best way to approach your local merchant, with a view to obtaining more credit?

What plan can you adopt to please everybody, and succeed in pleasing nobody?

What is the best course to pursue when a six-footer comes into the office with a club in his fist and blood in his eye?

If the aspirant can answer these questions, perhaps the association "Can be makin' an editor outen him."

SAME OLD FOLLY.

The following sensible article, clipped from the Spokesman-Review, is the latest thing in the way of a lecture which that paper occasionally gives to the farmers of the Palouse country:

Another full carload of ham, bacon and lard arrived last week at Colfax from Omaha. These products the merchants will sell to farmers in the Palouse country, and the money paid for them will be a direct and everlasting loss to this section.

This means that the farmers in the Palouse are paying the Missouri or the Iowa farmer for his corn, for his labor of feeding it to the hogs, his profit, the profit of the stock-buyer who ships the hogs to Omaha, the cost of packing and the packer's profit, the freight charges from Omaha to Colfax, and the profits of the jobber and the retailer.

This in the best farming and stock country on earth, and at a time when more or less wheat damaged by rains will be unsalable, and fit only to be fed to stock.

How long will this piece of extravagance continue? How long must we see trainloads of pork products, poultry, eggs, butter and cheese coming 2000 miles or more over plains and mountains, and millions of dollars which ought to be kept at home sent east to pay for these products which should be produced on our own fertile soil?

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised 'Electric Bitters'; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed, at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store.
