Crippled by Rheumatism.

Those who have Rheumatism find themselves growing steadily worse all the while. One reason of this is that the remedies prescribed by the doctors contain mercury and potash, which ultimately intensify the disease by causing the joints to swell and stiffen, producing a severe aching of the bones. S. S. S. has been curing Rheumatism for twenty years—even the worst cases which seemed almost incurable.

Capt. O. E. Hughes, the popular railroad conductor, of Columbia, S. C., had an experience with Rheumatism which convinced him that there is only one cure for that painful disease. He says: "I was a great sufferer from muscular Rheumatism for two years. I could get no permanent relief from any medicine prescribed by my physician. I took about a dozen bottles of your S. S. S., and now I am as well as I ever was in my life. I am sure that your medicine cured me, and I would recommend it to any one suffering from any blood disease."

Everybody knows that Rheumatism is a diseased state of the blood, and only a blood remedy is the only proper treatment, but a remedy containing potash and mercury only aggravates the trouble.

S.S.S. For the Blood

being Purely Vegetable, goes direct to the very cause of the disease and a permanent cure always results. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no potash, mercury or other dangerous minerals.

EARLY HISTORY OF THE CHURCH

 peared and signed the compact: Erasmus S. Joslyn, E. S. Penfield, William B. Stillwell, Rev. W. A. Tenny and Mrs. Tenny. This perfected the organization. Mr. Zetek and Mrs. Camille Donnell and Mrs. Mary Joslyn not being in town at the time, were received into fellowship at a meeting a very short time afterward as charter members of this the First Congregational church of The Dalles.

The following day (Sunday) the regular church services were held in the court room at the usual hour. The services began with an invocation and a hymn, "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord," after which a scriptural lesson was read from the 17th chapter of John's gospel, and following this the old familiar hymn, "A Charge to Keep I Have," was sung. Prayer was offered by the acting pastor and then the sermon was preached from an appropriate text, "Ye are the Light of the World," to the church and people. At the close of the discourse the accustomed announcements were made and an invitation extended to all those who professed their faith in Christ to remain and join in the celebration of the Lord's Supper. The hymn "Witness Ye Men and Angels Now" was sung, and benediction pronounced as the closing act of the First Congregational church organization at The Dalles.

The usual mid-week prayer meetings were held on Thursday evenings, usually at the pastor's house. Although small in numbers, they were imbued with Christian fervor, gaining strength from week to week as spiritual builders of the church of Christ. Frequently Mr. and Mrs. Tenny and Mr. Penfield were all that were present. The musical part of the prayer meetings fell on Brother Penfield alone, as neither Brother Tenny nor his excellent wife could sing at all. It is presumed, however, that they possessed enough musical ability to hum a lullaby whenever an occasion required it.

The church shed a fresh influence upon the people after its organization, and an interest showed itself in the small community from which some eight or ten were added to the record prior to the close of the pastorate of Mr. Tenny. From the first, church financial support was an unknown quantity. Popularity did not prove a barrier against the needed want for proper support. In other words to keep the wolf from the door. Providentially a call from the Forest Grove church came to him, and, after due and prayerful consideration, he accepted the call and bade the little church farewell, late in the summer of 1861.

The little flock was left without a leader until the early spring of 1862, when Rev. Thomas Condon, of Albany, having heard of the vacancy, came and took up the work left by its founder. Mr. Condon, after a short sojourn in the embryo city, found it absolutely necessary that a house of worship other than the old court room over the jail should be provided.

On the 12th day of July, 1862, Rev. Condon called a meeting of the church people, to meet him at his residence to discuss the subject of erecting a church edifice at an early day. Mr. H. P. Isaacs, a prominent citizen of the town, was very enthusiastic, as was also Messrs. Andrew Clark and J. M. McKee, in the matter. Although the population then was hardly 700 souls, they conceded that $1000 could be raised from the people for that purpose. They felt that the people would be generous and do the right thing. They were not disappointed. After some discussion and deliberation, Messrs. H. P. Isaacs, Andrew Clark and J. M. McKee were appointed a building committee with authority to purchase grounds and begin work as soon as practicable. They found it difficult to get material to prosecute the work with rapidity. However a building 30x50 was begun and enclosed so that in the early part of January, 1863, with a rough floor thrown down, improvised benches, and an old box stove to warm the building with, the church people were gathered under their own roof.

The summer and winter of 1863 and 1864 saw the building finished inside and out; the seating was done by Messrs. Hogue and Abrams. The seats were made of cedar, shelled and varnished; the pulpit was an elaborate piece of workmanship, and was presented to the church by Col. J. S. Kinkel, a very prominent personage of transportation fame. The colonel was not strictly a religious man, yet was a warm friend of the church and pastor, Mr. Condon.

Concluded in tomorrow's issue.
