

Not How Much.

The question is not HOW MUCH TO SPEND, but HOW TO SPEND IT. It is not how cheap a Suit you can get, but how good a Suit. If you are interested in these questions, then you will thank us for helping to answer them. We do not sell cheap Clothing, nor is that which we sell high-priced. It is good and it costs no more than good Clothing is worth. You can't get as good Clothing elsewhere for as little money as here.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

O, we've heard about the man behind the bat, and the man behind the man behind the gun, and the man behind the man behind the miss behind her hat, and we've gloried in the triumphs of each one. Why not write about the man behind his rest—that's the landlord, whose remarks are often row. Or the man behind the man behind you asking for a cent in a darkened street. (The minion of the law.)

Capt. Wells' speaks at the Vogt Thursday night.

Antelope has the $1,500 this year that has been going to the district fair at this place.

A nice line of sterling silver novelty goods just received at Daut Optical Jewelry Co's.

Among the attractions in Portland during the exposition will be Dewey's famous dispatch boat, the McCullough.

You can't find a better place to bring your work to be repaired than at the Daut Optical Jewelry Co., opposite Mays & Crowe's.

The Regulator and Dalles City made the trip between here and Portland yesterday. The former brought up a band of sheep from Cooks' Landing for Mays & Son.

It is estimated that from $5,000,000 to $5,000,000 will be the amount spent in New York by visitors to the Dewey celebration. The Dalles must capture the next hero.

John Doe might have had a cheaper celebration yesterday; but he resisted the officer when he attempted to arrest him for being drunk and had to pay $10 this morning in consequence.

The Sherman County Lumbering Co. at their mill on the Des Chutes will in a short time be sawing 15,000 feet daily. W. H. McAtee and W. H. Woodcock have been employed by the company, both being experienced workmen in the sawmill.—Observer.

The "Red man" and the "black man" got into trouble last night in a saloon, and coming to blows. Night Watchman Phirman took them under his care. This morning Recorder Gates fined Joe Stahl, the Indian, $2 and Henry Johnson, the Negro, $5, the latter having precipitated the trouble.

Hlu canyones were driven through the city this morning on their way from the Yakima country to the feed yard here, where they will be delivered to the buyers to be taken to the cannery at Linton. Most of the 400 which were brought over today had no appearance of belonging to the "400," nor symptoms of the gout. The Bonaparte was the only indication of famous or swell connections.

The run of salmon was reported yesterday as being somewhat improved. A good many of the seines are said to have done fairly well the past few days. The catches by the gillnetters and traps, however, show but little increase. With the change of weather the past few days, the usual run of fall salmon is expected to enter the river at any time.—Astorian.

There was a slight coating of ice on the water trough this morning at Dufur, says P. W. Knowles, who came in from that place today. Mr. Knowles has recently taken charge of the 15-Mile House and stables at Dufur, which were formerly run by John Stevens. Dalles people who are visiting the little berg will find Mr. Knowles a genial host or we are much mistaken.

In a letter received by R. G. Davenport of the CHRONICLE, from Rev. W. C. Curtis, he speaks of his particularly good health and contentment in the place which he now calls home—Norwalk, Conn. He also speaks kindly of his Dalles friends, and says that though he finds the world full of fine people, and he receives his share of friendship, he is never even tempted to forget his friends at The Dalles, but will always remember them with the kindest feeling.

Capt. Wells has with him a stereopticon and will show over 100 views, all taken on the spot and some of them while under fire, showing actual battle scenes, at his lecture Thursday evening at the Vogt. Every place where the captain has lectured the people have been delighted, for there is not a single topic concerning the war he cannot throw light upon. The lecture will be well worth the 50 cents admission, and tickets can be secured at the Butler Drug Co.'s store.

Edward D. Davenport left on this morning's boat for Eugene, where he will enter the Divinity school of the Christian church. Edward is a leading member of that denomination in The Dalles, and Saturday evening the young people gave a party in his behalf; while at the close of last evening's service the pastor, Rev. Rushing, made some very appropriate remarks concerning the step which the young man was about to take, and expressing the good will of the Christian people toward him.

Every member of the Methodist church or of the congregation, as well as all friends of the church, are particularly invited to attend the reception to be given to the new pastor, Rev. Hawk, this evening at the church. At his first services yesterday he was greeted with unusually large audiences, the main portion of the church scarcely being large enough to accommodate the morning congregation, at which time he expressed a desire to become acquainted with the people at the earliest opportunity.

C. A. Claussen, who was buried Thursday at Goldendale, was one of the pioneer farmers in Klickitat county, and among the few settlers of early days whom the old-time cattlemen of the valley ridiculed because of his ideas about growing wheat. Mr. Claussen had witnessed a transformation in Kansas, and he informed the Klickitat cattle barons that their days were numbered, and that instead of a few dozen cattlemen, there would be hundreds of wheat farmers. The pioneer wheat raiser lived to see the fulfilling of his prediction, and aside from a good farm in Kansas, he left behind one of the best farms in Klickitat. His wealth all told is estimated to be about $75,000.

Saturday afternoon while Mrs. M. Hart was down town her residence on the hill, opposite that of J. H. Rowe, was entered and $16 in money and a gold watch were taken. Upon her return home finding that the things were gone, she immediately sent for the sheriff. He with other officers began a search for the culprit, and suspicioning "Kid" Moore, searched him, but found only ten cents on his person, so released him. No suspects have since been found, and as Mrs. Hart was compelled to leave on the evening train and had no opportunity to see the officers, they had no clue upon which to base their investigation.

It takes more than cool weather and threatening rain to keep Dalles people away from a band concert, and so, considering the short notice which was given, there was a large number present to listen to the splendid numbers rendered yesterday afternoon. Particularly good taste is shown in the selections chosen for a Sunday afternoon concert, and each time the band is heard they show the perfect harmony which is being acquired by practice. During the summer months when so many members were away it was difficult to prepare a program, but now that they can more easily meet, we hope to hear them oftener. If there's one thing above another that makes a place livelier it is to have a good band.

In his annual report of the agricultural college at Corvallis, J. P. Apperson, president of the board of regents, says of one well known in The Dalles, and who was first principal of the Academy here: "This closes the second year's work of Dr. Thos. M. Gatch as president of the college and director of the station. I am gratified and pleased to be able to state that Dr. Gatch has continued to sustain ably and well the important work of this college and station. It is evident that he is the right man for this place. He has the cheerful co-operation and respect of the professors, teachers, and all the employees. With the young men and women who have been in attendance during the year he is generally regarded as a father. His work in this school will remain a lasting monument of honor to him and of inestimable benefit to our people and to the state of Oregon."

The bowling team of The Dalles Commercial and Athletic Club, appreciating the many courtesies extended by the members of Illihee Club, of Salem, when the team visited Salem last winter, have presented to the Salem club a handsomely mounted photograph of Pop-Kio-Wind, a noted Yakima chieftain, taken from life. Attached to the gift was a card, bearing this inscription: "An honorary member of the Illihee Club, proposed by F. L. Houghton, Grant Mays, E. Kurtz, M. T. Nolan, B. Baldwin, V. C. Schmidt. We trust he will be accepted." The Illihee boys are delighted with the gift, which has been given a prominent position in the club-rooms. The present is particularly appropriate to ornament the walls of a bowling alley, as the name of the original, translated into English, is: "Man with many troubles." His name indicates that he was, without doubt, a bowler.—Oregonian. The Oregonian is wrong in its translation of the Indian name, unless it deems "Short Arm" synonymous with "Man with many troubles." Its quite likely a short armed man would have many troubles.

MUST BE REPAIRED.

The Roads Between The Dalles and Du-roads are in Need of Attention.

The Dufur Dispatch is continually agitating the repairing of the road between that place and The Dalles, and we would suggest that our people give the matter their attention, as it is a matter of great moment to the business men of this place. The last issue of the dispatch says in part:

"The roads will continue to get worse from now until the rains begin, and with the moving of the grain crop just begun, their state a month later can be imagined only. The travel being heaviest near the town makes that end meet work first.

"Dalles City and Wasco county went partners some years ago in a 'rock crusher,' or rather Wasco county paid half the cost of a rock crusher to be used in Dalles City. The fact that this partnership could not legally exist never cut any figure, because the county became a silent partner as soon as its share of the money was paid. Now why not sell the county's interest in the 'rock crusher' to the city and buy straw to fill up chock holes in the roads within five or six miles of The Dalles so the farmer who paid his share in the crusher will get some benefit.

"Or, if that can't be done, and something must be, it will pay the farmers to pay into a fund the sum of say 10 cents per load on every load of wheat hauled, and with the money thus collected keep a man working the road from The Dalles to Eight-mile. Should the later plan be adopted the Dispatch will pay the tax on 100 loads of wheat. If some such plan could be adopted for the next month it would save many times the amount expended."

That Joyful Feeling

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal clearness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old-time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well-informed. Buy the genuine. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Clarke & Falk have added to their stock a full line of American tube paints.

Short Meeting of Water Commissioners

Nothing but routine business came up before the water commissioners at their meeting Saturday night. Commissioners Randall, Moore, Fish, Phirman and Saufert were present, with the latter presiding.

The reports of the superintendent and treasurer were read as follows:

During the winter of 1897 Mr. James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, Clay Co., W. Va., struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.

Bismarck's Iron Nerve

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring, use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25c at Blakeley & Houghton's drugstore.
