

Not How Much.

The question is not HOW MUCH TO SPEND, but HOW TO SPEND IT. It is not how cheap a suit you can get, but how good a suit. If you are interested in these questions, then you will thank us for helping to answer them. We do not sell cheap clothing, nor is that which we sell high-priced. It is good and it costs no more than good clothing is worth. You can't get a good clothing elsewhere for as little money as here.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Capt. Wells speaks at the Vogt Thursday night. A nice line of sterling silver novelty goods just received at Daut Optical Jewelry Co's.

Della A. Brown was this morning appointed administratrix of the estate of Patrick Brown, deceased.

You can't find a better place to bring your work to be repaired than at the Daut Optical Jewelry Co., opposite Mays & Crowe's.

The court house cupola has been painted a light drab and looks "way up," while painting certainly improves the face of the town clock.

Miss Emma Creighton, daughter of David Creighton, is very ill with appendicitis at her home on 8-Mile. At last reports she was somewhat better.

From the size of the immense range which Mays & Crowe shipped to the Silver King mine yesterday, it must take more than gold to satisfy the hungry miner. Truly civilized men cannot live without dining.

D. W. Vane has been confined to his home for the past few days, having been threatened with typhoid fever. Dave doesn't appreciate being shut up in the house this beautiful weather, and we trust he will soon be about again.

Miss Maybel Mack has accepted the position as stenographer for the Eastern Oregon Land Company and assumed her duties today. Miss Mack is considered a very fine stenographer and that company is fortunate in securing her services.

If the ladies want to see the very newest thing in street hats and some of the very nobbiest and most stylish trimmed hats, they can do so by calling at Mrs. Phillips' store this evening. She has just received the goods from San Francisco. Step in and look at them. 2t

At the home of Dr. Belle Rinehart tomorrow evening, Prof. Lundell will reorganize the ladies' vocal class. Particular attention is given to reading music and part singing. Any ladies who may desire to take up study along this line are invited to be present from 7 till 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Charles Dewey, one of the Admiral's relatives, was asked whether the Admiral was a Democrat or Republican. Without an instant's hesitation Mr. Dewey replied: "Why, he's a Republican, of course. He's always been a Republican, but he's never been a politician—never dipped into politics."

Don't miss Capt. Wells' lecture Thursday evening at the Vogt. If anyone can give a graphic description of camp life, battle, and everything in connection with the Philippine campaign, it is the captain of Co. L. Aided by stereopticon views, his "talk," as he terms it, cannot fail to be intensely interesting.

Tickets are on sale by the Butler Drug Co. for 50 cents.

Noah was undoubtedly a great financier, says an exchange, because he was successful in floating stock when the whole world was in liquidation, but in the line of finance, Moses was by no means his inferior, because he was "in the swim" amidst the bull rushes. Pharaoh's daughter also found a little prophet in the same place.

The great international yacht race which was to occur between the Shamrock and the Columbia at New York at 11 o'clock this morning, and which had caused intense interest everywhere, was declared off, at least for today. No particulars were received, excepting the fact of the postponement. It is likely, however, that it will take place tomorrow.

Wheat teams of all sorts and conditions are lined up in the East End today, about 4000 bushels being brought in each day. Somewhere in the neighborhood of 400,000 bushels will be hauled to this city this season, while 350,000 bushels was last year's haul. The warehouses are paying 54 for No. 1 and 52 for No. 2, while 56 for No. 1 is the price at the mill.

The Methodist people at Arlington have enlarged their church and fitted it up at an expense of $1500. Sunday the new building was dedicated and $804 raised, the amount required to liquidate the debt being $786. A large number was in attendance and Rev. Spaulding, who preached the sermon, was assisted in the service by Presiding Elder Warner and the pastor, Rev. Edward Baker.

THE CHRONICLE has no desire to favor one industry more than another. Whatever its opinion may be on either side its columns are always open to the discussion of any and all subjects which are of public interest. Therefore, we publish today a letter from M. J. Anderson in answer to A. A. Bonney's communication regarding the forest reserve. Let any who have opinions regarding the question at issue feel free to express them in THE CHRONICLE.

Notice to Tax Payers.

The Board of Equalization is now in session, for the purpose of equalizing assessments. This is the proper time for all persons to see that their assessments are properly made and entered on the roll. The board will be in session until Saturday night, Oct. 7, 1899. After this if no application for a change is made, the tax roll will be placed in the hands of the sheriff for collection as returned by the assessor.

ROBT. MAYS,
County Judge.

Invited to Be There [Thursday].

Thursday afternoon is the date fixed by Mrs. Marie Periano for the opening of her fall and winter hats. She has a large stock of hats trimmed in the latest styles the season affords, and her street hats are just the thing for this year. All the ladies are invited to call and see them.

CANAL PREFERABLE.

Such is the Opinion of Good Engineers on the Boat Railway Question.

The report of Captain W. W. Harte, who has charge of government works on the upper Columbia, has been sent to Washington for the month of August. This report, among other things, shows the terms and contract entered into with the O. R. & N. Co., relative to a right of way for the boat railway at Celilo.

As has already been published, the O. R. & N. Co. agrees to allow the government to so straighten the tracks of that road as to enable the engineers to construct a boat railway at the point named without having to cross the O. R. & N. tracks.

It is thought that the government will approve this contract, and that the O. R. & N. tracks will be straightened so as to make a right of way for anything the government may decide to build at that point to aid river traffic.

There are many who have studied the question who do not think a boat railway will ever be built at The Dalles. Most engineers who are familiar with the country at that point do not think a boat railway would be practical. In fact, most engineers are of the opinion that a boat railway at any point is a very impractical thing.

For this reason there is some talk of the abandonment of the boat railway idea. A man who has given the subject considerable thought says that a canal is the proper thing at The Dalles. It is his opinion, however, that the government would not care to go to the heavy expense of a canal, until it was an assured fact that the river traffic of the upper Columbia would justify the outlay of so much money, for canals are expensive things.

This man suggests that a portage railway be constructed at this point, and in this way allow the traffic of the river to develop. If in a few years it shows that there is sufficient business to justify the building of a canal, then there will be no trouble in getting the appropriations through congress.—Telegram.

Rev. Hawk Made Welcome.

If Rev. Hawk, the new pastor of the Methodist church, does not feel perfectly at home and welcome in his new charge, it is not because the members and friends of the church did not do their best to express their cordial greeting last evening at the church. A large number was present, and although the program was not carried out as intended on account of the absence of some who were to take part, it was sufficient to express the feelings of those who represented the membership. The audience joined in several lively songs and the choir rendered two very pretty selections. Wm. Mitchell, one of the oldest members, gave the welcome address, telling of the changes which had taken place since he joined the church here thirty-six years ago, and mentioning that in that time nineteen ministers had served the charge here and of the esteem and love which the membership had felt for them; of the regret at parting with Mr. Wood and the anxiety which all had concerning the man who should be sent here this year, and expressing the belief that the All Wise One had overruled and that Rev. Hawk was the right man to rebuild the church. He then gave the new pastor the hand of Christian fellowship, and prayed that his years here would be successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawk were then introduced to each member of the audience separately and at the close of the friendly intercourse all adjourned to the room below, where tables were set and ice cream and cake served.

Before parting, Rev. Hawk made a very happy speech and sang a solo. He said he appreciated the welcome he had received and came with the firm purpose to not only endeavor to build up the church spiritually, but to fill the pews with those who were not church-going people. He believes in form to a certain extent, but is Methodist enough to believe in enthusiasm and the old-time religion. His object is to save souls.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawk are most genial people, and no doubt his pastorate here will prove of great and lasting benefit to the church.

Married.

In this city, Monday, Oct. 2, 1899, at 8:20 o'clock, at the home of Elder Clifton, of the Baptist church, who performed the ceremony, M. F. Coberth and Miss Ina Head, both of this city.

The groom has been engineer at the Diamond Flouring Mills for several years, while the bride has been a resident of The Dalles for about a year, having come here from North Carolina.

During the winter of 1897 Mr. James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, Clay Co., W. Va., struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.
