Deeds were recorded in the clerk's office today conveying from Maximilian Vogt and Philippine Chapman to the Very Rev. Adelhelm Odermatt, two large and valuable tracts of land, one situated in Crates' Donation Land Claim and the other on lower 15-Mile.

Doug. Langille came down to Hood River from Cloud Cap Inn last Sunday evening. He said the late storm was quite severe on the mountain. Snow fell to the depth of eight inches on the level, and the wind piled it up in great drifts about the hotel. The Inn will soon close for the season.

Tomorrow at her home in Weiser, Idaho, will occur the marriage of Miss Verne Lytle to Mr. Catron, who is engaged in buying wheat at Wasco. On Sunday they will return to Wasco, where they will make their future home. Miss Lytle has many friends here, who are anxious to extend their best wishes.

A whole coachload of attorneys went up to More on the Columbia Southern Sunday evening. Circuit court business being railroaded through with Judge Bradshaw's usual time-saving ingenuity, they returned Tuesday noon to The Dalles. For quickness in matters judicial the judge is without an equal in this state. He ought to be in Dakota.—Wasco News.

We must apologize to our lady readers for promising them a treat which will not be realized. Through a misunderstanding we were led to believe that the ladies would be admitted to the club tonight to enjoy the music by the band; but such is not the case. The ladies, however, understand from past experience the kindly feeling which the members have for them, and may be assured they will have many opportunities to enjoy the music during the winter.

About thirty couples enjoyed the hospitality of the Rathbone Sisters last night at their hall, dancing being the order of the evening. At 9:30 Birgfeld struck up a favorite waltz, and from that on until after midnight the "maz," occupied the attention of all. The floor might be said to have been "pretty slick," but anything must be slick to be appreciated by Dalles people and only made the amusement the more lively. These parties are always greatly appreciated by those who are fortunate enough to be invited, and it is to be hoped many more will be given this year.

The apportionment of state school funds for 1899, as will be seen in another column, is $1.51 per capita, as compared with $1.20 for 1898. This is probably the highest apportionment the state has ever sent out. Under the school law that went into effect May 22nd, school boards cannot have more than $50 surplus school funds on hand at the close of the school year, the first Monday in March. A few schools in the county have contracted with their teacher for such length of time as the public funds would justify. The unusually large apportionment sent out yesterday will materially aid them in the length of terms.

Any who take notice certainly have regretted that a place, which above all others should be kept in a neat condition, is made a dumping ground for city trash of all sort, as is the beach along our grand Columbia. It must mar the grandeur of the river to tourists, who of necessity must gaze on all such debris as they wander to the dock or other places to view the much-talked-of stream. Beside, we who are compelled to see it every day are none the less disgusted at the prospect. Now, this can be avoided, and what's more, should be stopped. Citizens should be made to burn all refuse, or a dumping ground should be chosen in some less prominent place where everything so objectionable could be buried from the gaze of passers by.

The size of the state and its geological division being such that it is impossible to hold a session of the association at any one place that would accommodate the teachers of all sections, the state teachers association has been divided into eastern and western divisions. The former will meet in La Grande November 1st to 3d, and the latter in Salem December 27th 28th and 29th. Wasco county is included in the eastern division and programs for the meeting have been sent to all teachers. It is not, however, likely that many teachers from our county will attend, the distance being much greater than to Salem, where the western division meets, and the expense so great. Then, too, the date of meeting is not so convenient for attendance as that of the later, which will be held during vacation week. Judging from the excellence of the program any who may find it convenient to attend cannot fail to enjoy themselves and be benefited thereby.

Talking Baby.

They are telling another story about talking babies, and this comes from Pendleton:

The baby was born several weeks ago in Pendleton in the morning, and just one day later, the following morning, the physician was called to attend the little child. It was very sick, and as the medical man looked at it, he shook his head. He apparently had small hopes of its recovery.

"Is the baby very sick, doctor?" asked the mother.

"Very sick, madam, very sick," was the reply.

"Cannot you do anything to save it?" again asked the mother.

The doctor shook his head, and said—absolutely nothing.

And the baby suddenly opened its eyes, looked directly into the doctor's face, smiled and said—absolutely nothing.

Notice to Tax Payers.

The Board of Equalization is now in session, for the purpose of equalizing assessments. This is the proper time for all persons to see that their assessments are properly made and entered on the roll. The board will be in session until Saturday night, Oct. 7, 1899. After this if no application for a change is made, the tax roll will be placed in the hands of the sheriff for collection as returned by the assessor. ROBT. MAYS, County Judge. Oct 3-1wk

OREGON IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Capt. Wells Told All About Their Experiences, and Illustrated His Talk With Views.

As is usual in The Dalles everything comes at once, and so last night on the occasion of Capt. Wells' lecture there were several other attractions on hand. But in spite of this fact, the brave captain of Company L was greeted by a large audience, perhaps as large as ever greeted a lecturer in The Dalles. His was an exceptional subject, however, appealing to the sympathies and patriotism of all, and so when the speaker stepped on the stage at the Vogt he received loud applause.

A screen had been stretched across the stage, which was, however, scarcely large enough to show the views from the stereopticon in their entirety, and for the first time since the captain started to give his lectures, the machine caused some trouble, making a portion of the pictures indistinct, though some of them were beautiful. The views which he carries are certainly well chosen and very interesting. Beginning with a picture of our own company taken in front of the club rooms the day they left The Dalles, the series illustrated every step through the campaign, making his very real and giving all a more lucid idea of what our soldiers passed through. If any had an idea that the Oregon volunteers had an easy time, they must have changed their minds after seeing views taken as they waded rivers, marshes, thickets and rice fields and stood in the thickest of the fray. Many times deafening cheers were given as heroes and thrilling scenes were displayed.

Although not a fluent orator, Capt. Wells is an unassuming speaker, and tells of their experiences in just such a simple manner as one wants to hear to understand and appreciate his subject, taking no credit to himself, although we all know of his career, but giving our own boys their share of deserved praise.

The last view thrown upon the screen was perhaps the most clearly cut and to the eyes of all Oregonians, certainly the most beautiful, for while other scenes were most interesting, this we could claim as our own, a legacy from Nature and one which was obtained without bloodshed or war. We refer to Gifford's view of Mt. Hood, which cannot be excelled.

At the opening of the lecture Messrs. Landers, Northrup, Doane and Lundell read a patriotic quarter, which was so well received that they were compelled to answer to an encore, when they gave "Annie Laurie" in a splendid manner.

APPORTIONMENT OF FUNDS.

School Superintendent Sends Out Warrants to the Various Clerks. Under the school laws of Oregon, which went into effect May 20th, 1899, the county superintendent is required to apportion the common school funds quarterly, viz., the first Monday in January, April, July and October of each year, instead of in April and August as formerly.

There are 4306 children in Wasco county between the ages of four and twenty years and in the present apportionment of funds the per capita distribution will be $2.06, of which $1.51 is from the state school funds and 55 cents from the county school funds. Total amount of state funds distributed is $6502.06. Amount of county funds in the treasury $2510.91; amount distributed $2368.80; surplus on hand $142.61. ## Story of a Slave.

To be found hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a god-send to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists. 6

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor M. E. Church, South, Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "After resorting to a number of so called 'specifics,' usually kept in the house, to no purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.

"It did me more good than anything I ever used. My dyspepsia was of months' standing; after eating it was terrible. Now I am well," writes S. B. Keener, Hixington, Kan., of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat. Butler Drug Co.
