Standard fashions for November now ready at Pease & Mays.

November standard fashions at Pease & Mays.

"Vanity Fair" seats are selling fast, for it's going to be a taking performance. Call at Butler's and see about your seat.

On Monday Oct. 16th the round trip exposition rate via the steamers of the Regulator Line will be $2.00. W. C. Allaway gen'l agt.

Mrs. C. L. Phillips has just received a large assortment of imported bulbs for winter blooming, which can be had at reasonable prices; also cut flowers and floral designs.

A change has been made in the captains on the D. P. & A. N. line. Captain Alden taking the Dalles City and Capt. Short the Regulator. Capt. Whitecomb has charge of the Flyer.

Yesterday Rea Bros. shipped eighteen carloads of sheep which had been bought of D. P. Ketchum over the C. B. & Q. to St. Paul. Today sixteen carloads more will be shipped.

Judge W. L. Bradshaw, who has held the office of prelate in the grand lodge K. of P., has been elected grand vice chancellor by the lodge which has just met in Portland. J. P. Kennedy, of Portland, is grand chancellor.

Dr. Rues, one of Portland's prominent dentists, has bought Dr. Tackman's office, in the Vogt building. His work is first-class and prices reasonable. Gold tooth crowns and bridge work a specialty. Teeth filled and extracted painless.

Did the snow on the Klickitats this morning make you feel cold? Never mind yet a while; we have had no frost as yet, not even sufficient to destroy the most tender vegetation. The first frost in Portland was reported yesterday.

Among the passengers on this morning's delayed train was Mrs. Clevenger, of Grants Pass, president of the Rebekah Assembly for Oregon. She is the guest of Mrs. and Miss Lyle, and will meet with Azalea lodge this evening. It is desired that all members be present to meet the distinguished visitor.

A number of our society young men have determined to add to the pleasures of the winter season by organizing a dancing club, and to that end have decided to hold a meeting tomorrow evening, when arrangements will be perfected. This is a splendid move, and will be greatly appreciated by all who are fortunate enough to become members and thus enjoy the social parties given.

The first steamship of the Portland-Manila line will leave Manila about November 1. The freight rate between Portland and Manila will be about the same as the rate between Pacific coast points and Hong Kong. This means a saving of the charges between Hong Kong and Manila, and in addition a saving of much valuable time.

One has but to glance at the box sheet today to determine how popular the Metropolitan Company is with Dalles people. "Mascot," too, is always taking, so that the combination is a pleasing one. Any who may intend to hear them Saturday night should see about seats at once. You'll be sorry if you fail to gain admittance. The comedians alone are equal to a whole cast of many shows which we pay $1 to hear.

The preacher who can preach to please ever hearer, the lawyer who can speak to please every listener, the merchant who can sell goods to please every customer, the dress maker who can do her work to please every woman, and the editor who can write to please every reader are all dead. They may be wearing wings and golden crowns, but the chances are that St. Peter would be very suspicious of an individual like that.

Somehow we are rather pleased to announce to our readers that the Metropolitan Company will play "Mascot" instead of "Mikado," from the fact that all were so pleased with it when played here before. Mr. Baldwin received a telegram this afternoon saying that a fire at Pocatello had destroyed some of their costumes and scenery for "Mikado" and that they would be compelled to change the opera. We scarcely think there will be any disappointment felt by those who will attend.

The author of "In His Steps," the famous religious book, of which over three million copies have now been sold, has been induced to answer, in an article which he has sent to the Ladies' Home Journal, the question which unconsciously comes to the mind after reading his book: "Is this plan practicable in our present daily life?" Mr. Sheldon does not evade the question, but answers it in a direct and vigorous manner, and tells exactly what he believes would be the effect of his plan upon modern business methods and present-day social life.

School Superintendent Gilbert never loses an opportunity to visit the schools under his charge, and is again on the go, visiting the school districts near the city during this week, among which are that in district No. 9 in the Van Bibber vicinity, where Mrs. Ina Fitz Gerald is teacher; No. 10, Chenoweth, taught by Miss Marguerite Shelly; No. 25, on Dutch Flat, Miss Hester Kent, teacher, and No. 24, on Upper 3 Mile, taught by Miss Abbie Taylor. He finds them all in a flattering condition, using the state course of study. He will continue his trips into the country until all schools have been visited.

Representative Moody has received a letter from Secretary Hitchcock, stating that no order will be issued at this time countermanding the privileges enjoyed by the permits to sheepmen for the grazing of sheep in the forest reservations of this state. This letter is in reply to a request of Representative Moody asking that no order be issued canceling the permits granted before congress convene, when careful consideration of all the interests involved may be had. The request was made on account of the departmental order recently issued excluding sheep from the Rainier reserve.

Nearly every city and town in this state has a curfew ordinance, which to an extent at least is successful in keeping young boys and girls off the streets at night. Anyone who spends a night or two in The Dalles can readily see that such an ordinance is not a part of the laws in force here, for boys, yes, and young girls without escorts, may be seen prowling about our streets, not only during the early part of the night, but many times after midnight. We were pleased to hear that the matter of a curfew ordinance for this city was discussed at the council meeting Tuesday evening, and sincerely hope it will be carried into effect before long.

With the Chronicle today readers will find a supplement which will be of interest to travelers up and down the river. To the already efficient service of the D. P. & A. N. Company has been added the Steamer Inland Flyer. She has always seemed like a veritable pleasure boat; and the more so now since she has been fitted up in such a complete manner, and a trip down the Columbia on her cannot fail to be enjoyable; particularly so since she makes no long waits in loading on freight, only stopping at way stations to take on passengers. One objection to this steamer has always been that her facilities for furnishing meals have not been good. This difficulty has been obviated, and the coziest little dining room has been fitted up where eighteen can be served at one time. It is also so situated on the upper deck that the view is perfect. To look at the dining room makes one fairly hungry. Then her pilot house is ahead of that on either of the other steamers, being so arranged that passengers can be very comfortable while they view the scenery from her lofty height. Several state rooms have been added for the crew. She will leave the dock here tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, with Capt. Whitecomb at the helm, Capt. Coe pilot, Chas. Twinham purser, A. B. Andrews engineer, and Chris. Luft steward, reaching Portland at 5 o'clock.

Millions of dollars, is the value placed by Mrs. Mary Bird, Harrisburg, Pa., on the life of her child, which she saved from croup by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. It cures all coughs, colds and throat and lung troubles. Butler Drug Co.

Feed rye for sale at the Wasco Warehouse.

A SLIGHT ACCIDENT.

Passenger Train Delayed, But No One Was Injured.

All sorts of rumors were rife when business men came down to their offices this morning. No. 2, the east-bound passenger, which arrives at 11:45, did not make its appearance until 11 o'clock this morning. Reports had it that a general smash-up had occurred at Cascade, and that Engineer Barrett had been killed. Many such stories went the rounds and everyone waited anxiously for the arrival of the train.

When she pulled in at the Umatilla House it was discovered that nothing serious had occurred although the accident was of such a nature that the trains were necessarily delayed. When No. 1, the west-bound passenger, which left here about 5:30 last evening, reached a place a mile and a half this side of Cascade, a tire came off one of the wheels of her engine, which is No. 83, O. L. Barrett engineer. Word was sent to Albina for assistance, and the delay was caused by the difficulty in getting the disabled engine to the Locks.

The passengers on both trains must have had a merry time. No. 1 was crowded, it being the regular excursion day to the Portland exposition. No. 2 had orders to meet No. 1 at Viento and pulled in there about 9:30 and as it is not a telegraph station, waited in anything but blissful ignorance until 2 o'clock, when an engine came by on the way from Portland to assist the broken down train. After that had passed No. 2 came on to Cascade, where they waited till the track was cleared this morning and came on.

Accidents will happen on the best regulated railways, and delayed trains, mail, etc., are not to be considered when compared with the awful eastern wrecks where so many lives are lost.

Oliver F. Jackson Dead.

Tuesday morning at his home in Spokane, O. P. Jackson died of congestion of the lungs, his death being somewhat sudden. He was 82 years of age.

Most of our citizens will remember Mr. Jackson, who built, owned and managed the Jackson Hotel which occupied the lot adjoining Fitz Gerald's store over fifteen years ago. He had been in the hotel business in Oregon and Washington for about twenty years and there are few of the early residents of this part of the country with whom he did not claim acquaintanceship. He at one time managed the Horton House at Ellensburg. In the early days of the Northern Pacific he ran the Oakes house at Cheney and the Villard house at Sprague. From the nature of his business he made many acquaintances and he will be remembered by people in all parts of the state.

Mr. Jackson leaves a widow, a son and one daughter, the wife of Martin Maloney, of Spokane. The funeral took place from the family residence at 10 o'clock today and the services were under the auspices of the Old Fellows, in which order Mr. Jackson had for years been a prominent member.

Pleasing Vaudeville Show.

The Portland Telegram says: "Vanity Fair" proved a most pleasing attraction to the patrons of the Marquon Grand last night, and it was a performance that brought roars of laughter even from the parquette and boxes. There is no plot to "Vanity Fair" but there is a most entertaining potpourri of specialties. The performance opens with a most laughable burlesque on the "Trip to Coney Island." This act brings out nearly the full strength of the company, showing a number of handsome girls who can not only sing and dance well but are fairly well up in the art of acting. Worthy of special mention is the turn of C. W. Williams, the ventriloquist, who is really a top-notch man in his line and a whole show in himself. Carlin and Brown do some clever German comedy work, and Albert and Belle Williams brought much applause with their cown turn. Kittie Harbeck and Williams were well received with their slack wire and contortion act, while the Misses Hawthorne and Parsons earned several recalls in their singing. There is plenty of horse play and broad humor in the performance, but all within the confines of decency.
