Dad claims he won the fat man's race, but John gives in different reports, and from what we can hear the coroner was not running races, nor holding inquests, but driving about with all the good-looking widows, and more interested in the human race than any other.

Scrofula, a Vile Inheritance.

Scrofula is the most obstinate of blood troubles, and is often the result of an inherited taint in the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Scrofula; it forces out every trace of the disease, and cures the worst cases.

My son, Charlie, was afflicted from infancy with Scrofula, and he suffered so that it was impossible to dress him for three years. His head and body were a mass of sores, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was spared that we thought would relieve him, but he grew worse until his condition was indeed pitiable. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, when by the advice of a friend we gave him S. S. S. (Swift's Specific). A decided improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth, and he has been restored to perfect health.

Mrs. S. S. MANN.
290 Elm St., Macon, Ga.

For real blood troubles it is a waste of time to expect a cure from the doctors. Blood diseases are beyond their skill. Swift's Specific, reaches all deep-seated cases which other remedies have no effect upon. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no potash, mercury, or other mineral.

A FROG RANCH.

In California, Where Ten Thousand Croakers Make the Night Hideous.

It is at Stege, a little station about 20 miles from San Francisco, that a frog ranch is located, named after the first owner of the land roundabout. The Stege ranch extends from the bay shore up to the ridge of the coast range of mountains, which incloses both shores of San Francisco bay. In the lower portions of the ranch a great number of springs gush out of the soil in copious volumes. It was the springs that determined the first location of the ranch. The site, overlooking an expansive view of the beautiful bay, was capable of vast improvement. A dozen acres, inclosing the springs, were surrounded with a hedge of cypress. The grounds were laid out with taste, and soon presented the rare beauty incident to the profuse vegetation of a semi-tropical climate. Three ponds were formed by confining the waters of the flowing springs, some acres in extent, and stocked with frogs. A fence, high enough to prevent the escape of the inmates, surrounded each, and the ponds were filled with aquatic plants and mosses. Then frogs were placed in the ponds, and from the original stock the increase has been so great that, though thousands are sent to market yearly, the withdrawals have no sensible effect upon the vast numbers remaining. Frog ranching is not unlike cattle raising. There are one, two, three or four-year-olds, though the successful frog raiser will always keep the young ones separate and apart from the full-grown, which are cannibals of the first rank, and eat all which are not able to protect themselves. The four-year-olds are considered ripe for the market, though the gourmand in frogs prefers those that are a year or two younger. A frog's life is 12 years. There are some of that age at Stege. They are of monstrous growth, being 14 inches in length, and weighing as much as four pounds.

OUTPUT OF GEMS.

United States Produce Precious Stones to the Value of $160,020 in 1908.

Dr. W. T. Day, chief mineralogist of the geological survey, has received from George F. Kunz, the survey's expert, the annual summary of the gem industry in the United States. There has been an unprecedented increase in the importation of cut diamonds and a great revival in business in precious stones of all sorts. There were no native diamond finds recorded for this country, but the importation of uncut diamonds increased greatly, and there was a corresponding development in diamond cutting in the United States. One of the most important domestic developments was the finding of rock crystals at Mokelumne Hill, Cal., of such size and purity as to almost rival those of Japan. These crystals have been cut up to a diameter of seven inches, a remarkable size for that class of work. The crystals are used in ornamental work and for a fine grade of optical lenses.

There has been a decided increase in the output of the sapphire mines of Ferguson county, Mont. Fine blue gems up to two carats have been found. In the same locality new fields have been opened and beautiful stones of wide range of color produced.

The turquoise mines of New Mexico have continued their development, and new fields have been opened in Nevada. The production of turquoise fell off slightly between 1897 and 1898, but promises to more than recover this year. There have been finds of magnificent green tourmaline at Paris Hill, Me., and Dans Neck, Conn. The total value of the gem output of the United States for 1898 covering 49 varieties was $160,020. Among the most important were sapphire, $55,000; quartz crystal, $17,000, and turquoise, $50,000.—Chicago Chronicle.
