A Grocer Says

"I guess everybody in Bellevue, Ohio, knows O. B. Callaghan, the grocer. I am in his employ, and am about as well known as he is. A grocery is a place where you have cold gusts of wind coming in every time the door opens, and there is a good deal of turning about out-doors too. Anyhow, I catch cold very often, but the minute I begin to sneeze I reach up on the shelf and take a dose of Acker's English Remedy. I tell you it is wonderful how quickly it stops a cough or cold. I have used it myself, and in my family for a number of years. It works like a charm. I suppose some of the folks would have run into consumption before this if I had neglected to keep a bottle ready all the time for immediate use. I wouldn't think of using anything else for throat and lung troubles. I know what Acker's Remedy actually does, so what sense is there in experimenting? Certainty is better than chance."
(Signed) Jonas Horr.

Sold at 25c, 50c and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s. 2d., 2s. 3d., 4s. 6d. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back.

Probably Tells the Truth This Time.

Perhaps the only opportunity to witness Walter Perkins' performance of the part he has made famous, that of the barber, in "My Friend from India," will be on Tuesday night at the Vogt, where Smythe & Rice's Comedians present that famous comedy, as the author H. A. DuSouchet in a short while will have completed another comedy especially suited to the ability of Mr. Perkins' quaint personality. Originally made famous at the Bijou Theater, New York, by a company, many of whose members are still a part of the present organization, and during a run of three months at that theater, it was taken to Boston where it was pronounced one of the most emphatic successes in years; and in Philadelphia, and Chicago and all other cities where it has been presented, it duplicated its Metropolitan favor. It is not often that such reliance can be placed in a theatrical press agent's story, but for once in his life he seems to have lent a semblance of truth about this amusing farce. Whenever this company reaches a city where they are going to give a performance, the story of DuSouchet's early experiences as a playwright is immediately ventilated, and then every one learns about the vain endeavors of an actor's efforts to have the creation of his favorite author's brains placed before the public for its approval or condemnation, most likely the latter. No one could be found who could believe in either author or play. It is to Walter Perkins that credit, first for the production, and secondly for the success of this play, is due, as there is no doubt that his performance has really made "My Friend from India" a welcome friend indeed at all times.

During the winter of 1897 Mr. James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, Clay Co., W. Va., struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.
