

....GREAT JUVENILE SALE....

Commencing Tuesday the 31st, and continuing for three days, will be a sale exclusively for the children. We will play no favorites in the matter of sex, but will treat all who come under this head, alike.

The boy and the girl,
The lad and the lass,
The urchin, the kidlet,
The trundle bed trash.

While others sleep
Perchance to dream

We are wide awake cementing more firmly the bond of union from a firm whose chief object is your welfare. This is not done by promising two for one, but in assuring you first, last and all the time of your money's worth in each and every transaction with us. It would be foolish indeed for us in the face of present conditions to expect one cent more for an article than it is really worth; more foolish of you to pay it. Our sincere wish is to win the esteem of each and every customer. We know of but one way to do this, viz: To be certain of what we sell. Napoleon once said, "You can't make omelettes without breaking some eggs." Business competition says, "You can't make brisk trade without smashing profits on some lines of goods. Our Business Omelette for this week will be

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Attend the entertainment at the Baldwin opera house tonight. Two of the prettiest girls in the city will greet you at the candy booth at the Baldwin tonight. Make it a point to call at their booth.

Did someone say news had been received that the English had surrendered to the Boers? What a joke, and yet some say such a rumor is afloat.

W. L. Huckleby and J. D. Bentley have taken charge of the stage line between White Salmon and Trout Lake, and made their first trip today. The latter has been driving the stage to Wapinitia.

John Doe got hilarious yesterday afternoon and was arrested, when he put up $3 for his appearance before the recorder this morning; but "he never came back," and so he forfeited the money.

Two modern ideal girls will appear in a character song at the Halloween entertainment tonight. They don't take part in the war dance, nor are they to be transformed from old maids; but are just up-to-date girls.

The clearance sale of silk waists and dress skirts at A. M. Williams & Co's is still on and will continue until further notice. They report having had a very successful day Saturday, and predict an early clean-up if this run continues.

Dr. Belle Rinehart left on the morning train for Portland, and will take the Canadian Pacific route on her way to New York, where she will spend six weeks or two months taking a post graduate course at the Polyclinic. Not only her patients, but the doctor's and many friends will miss her greatly, and while wishing her success in her studies, await anxiously her return.

Did you read what Saturday's Oregonian said concerning "My Friend from India," which was played in Portland

Friday night? If not read it and you will get some kind of an idea of what you are to hear tomorrow night at the Vogt. From the way the seats are being sold we should judge most of the theatergoers had been influenced thereby. We almost feel like breaking our promise about committing ourselves again regarding the merits of this show; but we won't, we'll only advise you to try it and see if you are not pleased.

Last evening Rev. U. F. Hawk delivered a very impressive and eloquent sermon, taking as his subject "Who is the Lord?" and for the twenty-five minutes in which he spoke the large audience seemed to listen with breathless attention. During the month of November, at the request of the League, he will deliver a series of sermons on "The Ideal Home," beginning next Sunday evening, when he will speak on "The Harbor of Home." On the 12th the subject will be "The Arm Chair by the Fireside;" 19th, "The Rocking Chair by the Fireside;" and on the 26th "The Home Circle."

The Sunday Oregonian devotes an entire page to a description of trips along the Columbia and Willamette rivers, giving a splendid idea of what a treat may be expected on such excursions. Among other things it says: "The voyage up the Columbia to The Dalles is justly accounted the finest thing in the line of scenery that Portland has to show to the visitor. All summer long the two steamers that ply daily over this route are thronged with tourists, whose expressions of delight, as the mountains begin to rise on either side and their majesty dawn upon them, are limited only by the number of adjectives in their vocabulary."

We understand one of our citizens in the dark missed his calculation, and, imagining it was summer at the seaside, took a bath Saturday night which he did not really intend to take. He scarcely expected to do anything so rash, at least not in such a large tub as the Columbia, but he went down to see the boat come in and stepped off the boat into the water. That is, so he says. That's something like "Checkers," who, when he started down stairs in the morning, met himself coming home at night. How he could meet the boat and step off of it into the river before it landed, is beyond our ken.

We are glad to announce that the Students Literary Club was organized Saturday evening at Moore & Gavin's office. Quite a number were present and became members, and it is to be hoped a large number of young men will become interested in the club, as it is the only organization of the kind in the city exclusively for young men, and just what has long been needed. Harry Curtis was chosen chairman and T. Brownhill secretary. The next meeting will be held on Thursday evening, Nov. 2nd, at the same place at the hour of 7:30, for the purpose of perfecting organization. All members and those who desire to become members are requested to be present. The question for debate is "Resolved, That England is Justified in Prosecuting the War Against the Boers in the Transvaal."

All kinds of property for sale. A farm on ten mile creek, ten miles from this city, the Southwell homestead, having 70 acres plowed land, 25 acres bottom land. Creek runs through place. A fine home for some body and so cheap that it is in the grasp of any one. Stop and consider this. One half a block, Military Addition to Dalles City, consisting of six full lots; city water can be obtained, good location well settled locality. Owner must sell, and will be sold at the following sacrifice. $100.00 will buy the six lots, which is $16 and two-third dollars per lot. I would ask any prospective buyer of these lots to inquire as to the cost of other lots in the same locality and I guarantee that he will find that they will sell from $50.00 to $100.00 each. See Dad Butte.

We have been requested to say nothing concerning the "awful, refined and altogether elevating society event," which is purported to have taken place on Memaioose Island (?) Saturday night about the hour when Sunday was about to dawn. If it did occur at the place spoken of, surely the decaying carcasses of every respectable Indian buried there must have risen in revolt, and started another encounter much more creditable than the one which is said to have originated here. But the CHRONICLE must say nothing about it, and cannot for it knows nothing (and cares less) concerning it except what has reached the ears of most of our citizens regarding the affair; and it is impossible to find anyone who attended; none being willing to confess they were engaged in such an elevating pastime. Beside, we would not care to have it known that such a thing was even thought of in a Christian community like ours.

There was trouble in Chinatown Saturday and the pig tails were flying about lively for Jackson was after their owners, some of whom had been arrested the evening before for failing to pay their road tax. It was decided to allow them a test case, which was tried in the recorder's court Saturday afternoon, W. H. Wilson and F. W. Wilson appearing for the plaintiff and F. Menefee for the city. The attention of all who have refused to pay is called to the fact that the case was decided in favor of the city, and taxpayers who wish to fight the matter will have no course open to them except to have their cases reviewed in the circuit court, as appeals to the circuit court cannot be taken for sums of money less than $10. Jackson says he thinks it would be cheaper to pay the $4 road tax as it is plain to be seen he is determined to enforce collection.

Papers were filed in the clerk's office today wherein Henry Gardner is plaintiff and Wasco county is defendant in a case to recover $6500 damages for injuries received by the plaintiff on Dec. 21, 1898 on Rice's grade, eight miles this side of Dufur, in the Fairfield neighborhood. All will remember the dreadful accident which resulted in the death of Mrs. Theresa Reese, and the injury of Henry Gardner, while on the way to the city to obtain a marriage license; how the grade was covered in ice, causing the wagon to go over the grade throwing the occupants out, with the terrible result mentioned. The plaintiff claims the county has never kept the grade in a condition fit to be traveled; that numerous defects in said grade, which drains the water from melting snow and ice, causing it to be covered with ice for a distance of twenty to thirty rods are accountable for the accident which caused him to be badly mashed up and his limbs also broken so that he was unable to perform labor for six months. Also that he was at great expense therefrom. He therefore asks damages in the sum of $6500, having for his attorneys Moore and Gavin.

Double Train Service to San Francisco.

On October 15th the Southern Pacific Co. will inaugurate a "Daylight Express," leaving Portland at 8:30 a. m., and reaching San Francisco at 7:45 next evening—only one night out. Both standard Pullman and tourist sleepers will be attached. This new train is in addition to the present 7 p. m. Shasta Overland, and will give many passengers the desired opportunity to see enroute the Great Willamette, Umpqua and Sacramento Valleys without loss of time, and still arrive in Oakland and San Francisco at a reasonable hour.
