A CHERRY CALL.

Mr. William Plughoff, who recently started a Democratic weekly at Vale, Malheur county, in the sixth issue of his paper sounds the following cheery call to his legions:
"Now is the time for Oregon Democrats to bestir themselves if they desire to participate in the grand national victory of 1900. The Oregon Democracy is not to be blamed because it did not win the 1896 election. Just remember the tremendous odds it had to contend against, and the wonder is it came so near winning as it did. Oregon belongs in the national Democratic column, and a thorough organization and good rustling will place her there."

Truly, now is the time for the Democrats of Oregon to bestir themselves and extract all the happiness they can from the political situation, for post-election joy is not likely to be of the Democratic kind in Oregon, particularly when it involves the principle of forsaking our budding trade beyond the Pacific. Democrats of Oregon are not so likely to be frightened by the scarecrow "imperialism" as are some of their Eastern brethren, for they can put their hands in their pockets and find concrete evidence of the fact that national expansion is a good thing. It is a good thing for the semi-civilized tribes rescued from grinding oppression, and a good thing for the trade of this country.—Oregonian.

A GRAVE SITUATION.

The dearth of news from South Africa for the past two days cannot be considered good news, according to the adage, in England, says the Telegram. It may be that communication has really been interrupted, as reported, which is itself not a favorable fact for the beleaguered British troops, or it may be that the only news that can be sent out is not encouraging, and so it is suppressed for the present, in the hope that the tide of fortune will turn. In the meantime, however, the forces of the Boers are presumably augmenting, while the British cannot be materially reinforced for several days yet, at least. White's command seems to be in a position of some peril, while it is evident that careful British observers are not so confident about Kimberley and Mafeking as they would like to be. The whole situation is one of considerable gravity, and only the arrival of large reinforcements will change it in favor of the British.

The Pendleton East Oregonian finds fault with the style of the president's Thanksgiving proclamation. It thinks each man ought to be allowed to frame his own Thanksgiving proclamation. There is nothing to prevent now. This is a free country. But we fear the Thanksgiving proclamation of the East Oregonian would not be suitable reading for the general public, irrespective of politics or religion.—Salem Statesman.

Alaska is moving for territorial rights after waiting more than thirty years. And yet there are Americans who insist that the Filipinos must be given a republic and allowed to govern themselves, without any training in citizenship. Are they any better than the intelligent and progressive citizens who have inhabited the expansive possessions of ours bordering clear up against the North Pole?

Double Train Service to San Francisco.

Both standard Pullman and tourist sleepers will be attached. This new train is in addition to the present 7 p. m. Shasta Overland, and will give many passengers the desired opportunity to see enroute the Great Willamette, Umpqua and Sacramento Valleys without loss of time, and still arrive in Oakland and San Francisco at a reasonable hour.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.
