Try Harmony Whisky, a pure bourbon, for family and medical use. Sold by Ben Wilson.

Attention of the members of the Modern Woodmen of America is called to the meeting tonight at the K. of P. hall when Hon. R. E. Johnson will speak to the camp.

In the matter of the W. E. Rinehart estate, brought up in the probate court, an order was issued approving the final account and the administrator was released and bondsmen exonerated.

Yesterday was a lively day for the arrival of wheat teams, but today has been somewhat slack. For No. 1 the warehouses are paying 49 cents; while at the Diamond Mills they are offering 52 for heavy weight and 50 for 58-lb.

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer, one of the best papers in the Northwest, has changed hands, and formal transfer will be made December 1st. The names of the purchasers have not been given, but it is understood the deal is made in the interests of Senator John L. Wilson.

Yesterday's Spokesman-Review came out with a supplement containing splendid cuts of the different companies which compose the Washington volunteers. They are very clear, every feature showing up distinctly, and will be souvenirs worth preserving. The Review is always doing the right thing at the right time.

Some time since D. W. Mann sold his business interests in this city and bought property at Stevenson. He left this morning for that place and his wife will follow in a few days. We understand a Dalles young man has rented the house vacated by them on Kelly avenue and with his bride will soon take up their residence there.

Tomorrow at Hood River will take place the marriage of Miss Grace Graham to C. Bartsch. Miss Graham is a teacher in the Hood River school and a young lady admired by all. Mr. Bartsch was formerly in the butcher business at that place, but is now in business at Dawson City, where he has gained quite a competency. They will make their home at Dawson.

Persons who watched the deck hands load the freight on to the Regulator this morning, were in a query to know when they were going to stop and where all the wheat, flour, wagons, goods and chattels were going to be put. The last thing to be put on were two carts, which were resting on the deck, but most of them hung on to the atmosphere. The D. P. & A. N. boats are doing an immense business these days and leave every morning loaded to almost the fullest capacity.

At 4 o'clock yesterday morning at Hood River, Mrs. Lucy Bell, wife of C. A. Bell, proprietor of the Mt. Hood Hotel, died of typhoid fever, after an illness of but five days. She was 19 years of age, and was formerly Miss Lucy Ellison, whose father, now deceased, was agent for the O. R. & N. there, and was married three years since to Mr. Bell. The funeral took place today under the auspices of the order of Eastern Star.

As it is their wont occasionally to set aside their lessons and spend an evening in pleasant converse and sociability with a few of their friends, the Taine class had such a gathering at the home of Mrs. Wilson last evening. A number of choice selections on autumn, and other subjects as well, were read and some very pretty vocal and instrumental music rendered. The hostess then read a catchy bit of original rhyme, the end of each verse calling for the guests to supply the missing geographical name of some place in Oregon. This was very amusing and some of the unruly boys were threatened with being compelled to stand on the floor. Later, lunch was served and more music enjoyed. Altogether it was a happy as well as profitable evening for all concerned; just such a time as makes everyone enjoy life more and feel they have gained thereby.

On account of failing health from over taxation and too close application to office work, G. E. Stewart has found it necessary to resign his position as stenographer for Judge Bennett, and will leave the city in about ten days for Linn county, where he will spend some time recuperating at his uncle's farm. Mr. Stewart is a first-class stenographer, coupling with his knowledge of shorthand an experience gained first as a compositor and then as a journalist, which makes his copy the delight of every printer who chances to get hold of it; and Judge Bennett is unfortunate in losing his services. He in turn, regrets the circumstances which compel him to leave such a desirable employer, with whom he has been connected for the past four years. Mr. Stewart will also be missed in church circles, being a prominent member of the Christian church here. We trust, however, that he will soon recuperate and again be able to take up the work for which he is so well suited.

MARRIED.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Coyle, near Erskineville, Thursday, Nov. 2nd, by Rev. Hoskins, of the Moro M. E. church, George Evans and Elva Coyle.

Mr. Elmer Coyle acted as best man and Miss Maggie Fair as bridesmaid. The bride's home is at Erskineville, while the groom lives at Mosier, where they will make their future home.

An Important Difference.

To make it apparent to thousands, who think themselves ill, that they are not afflicted with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleansing, is to bring comfort home to their hearts. As a costive condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all druggists.

Help Wanted.

A girl who desires to do general house work, can find employment by applying to Mrs. C. J. Stabling, corner Eighth and Liberty street.

December Standard patterns are now ready at Pease & Mays.

LET THE CHILDREN ASSIST.

Supt. Gardner Asks for Donations for the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society From Our Schools.

A splendid practice which should be taken up by schools throughout the state is teaching the pupils lessons of benevolence by explaining to them the noble work which the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of Portland is doing, and asking them to make small contributions either on Thanksgiving or Christmas, or at any time. Many boys and girls who have been schoolmates of the children have been assisted by this institution and it would give the pupils much pleasure in thus donating clothing, eatables, etc., for their comfort.

During Supt. Gardner's recent visit to our city he called upon County Supt. Gilbert and City Supt. Landers and was much pleased with the reception he received from these gentlemen. Previous to his visit he had sent the following letter to Supt. Gilbert, which the latter has in turn caused to reach the hands of every teacher in the county, leaving the matter with them and asking that if they choose to interest their schools in the matter, contributions, with name of donor attached, be sent to his office on or before December 2nd. No doubt good results will follow. Mr. Gardner's letter is as follows:

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 20, 1899.

Prof. C. L. Gilbert,
Dear Sir:—The institution which I represent being partially supported by the state and partially by charitable contributions, I take the liberty of addressing you, knowing from past experience that it is in the power of the children of the public schools to materially assist the children of the state, who are unable to support themselves, by contributing small articles of provisions or clothing at Thanksgiving. I believe it to be an excellent lesson in charity, and I am sure the children take an interest in doing their share. Last year the children of some of the counties did considerable for us, and as the express company will do its share by sending us the contributions free, I take the liberty of laying this matter before you to be presented to the schools in your district, especially the larger ones along the railroad.

It is the practice of the children of the schools who wish to donate, to bring some small articles, such as potatoes, can of jelly or fruit, or small bundle of clothing to the school on the day before Thanksgiving. After collection, these things are placed in a box and shipped to us, and I must say do much to tide us over the winter.

The objects of this society are of course as explained at the head of this letter. We receive children from all over the state who are abused or neglected, take children by process of law from immoral parents, and in fact do everything possible to protect and elevate the youth of our state. We are now passing through our institution about twenty-five children each month, and for the past year have increased our average from twenty-two to twenty-five per month.

We have on hand at the home at all times from thirty to forty-five children and it is our practice never to refuse admission to a child in need. Should you think fit to assist us in this matter would be pleased to hear from you on the subject, and remain,
Yours respectfully,
W. T. GARDNER, Supt.
