REFORM IN CITIES.

The fifth annual meeting of the National Municipal League will be held at Columbus, Ohio, November 15th. Its most important business will be the consideration of the report of a special committee appointed in 1897 on "Municipal Program." The members of the committee are Horace E. Deming of New York, Professor Frank J. Goodnow of Columbia University, Dr. Albert Shaw of the Review of Reviews, New York; Charles Richardson of Philadelphia, Professor Leo S. Rowe of the University of Pennsylvania, Geo. W. Guthrie of Pittsburgh and Clinton Rogers Woodruff of Philadelphia.

After two years of study and investigation the committee has adopted a plan of city charter which it believes would solve many of the existing problems of municipal government. It favors a single legislative chamber, similar to that now working in this city, but it would fix the terms of councilmen at six years. The mayor would hold office for two years, and one-third of the councilmen would be elected at each biennial election. Special effort is made to surround the granting of municipal franchises with strong safeguards, a four-fifths vote of the council and the approval of the mayor being required. The election of councilmen at large instead of by wards or districts is recommended, and in order that citizens may have a choice of candidates unhindered by party lines, the nomination of candidates for elective municipal offices is to be by petition and not by convention. Spokesman-Review.

A DIFFERENT THING.

The Thanksgiving proclamation of the governor of Missouri, the Hon. Lon B. Stevens, contains this sentiment:

"Not in any period of the history of the commonwealth has it ever been possible to find greater cause for gratitude to our Heavenly Father than at the close of the present year."

If Governor Stevens will stick to this solemn opinion when, six months hence, as a delegate to the next national Democratic convention, he takes part in making the platform for Bryan to stand on, he will make a national sensation.—New York Sun.

But he will not do it, says the Salem Statesman. Not by any means. The Thanksgiving proclamation of the governor of Missouri was made for one time and occasion.

The platform of the governor of Missouri and his associates, planned for Bryan to stand on, will be for another time and another purpose. It is good Lord this year. It will be good devil next year. Such are the inconsistencies of Democratic politicians in these troublous days.

Spokane is having a moral stir-up, which is very creditable. The Spokesman-Review most aptly says: Men who build cribs for immoral purposes, and rent them for the high returns which vice is willing to pay, can not play indefinitely at the double game of respectability and vice. Soon or late their sins will find them out, and society will compel them to seek their level.

At Minneapolis one of those elevators which "can't fall" made a surprisingly close imitation of it last week. It went down five stories like a flash, and ten of the occupants were severely injured. Elevators which can not fall are something like fireproof buildings which "can't burn."
