SUNBEAMS FROM CUCUMBERS.

Mr. William J. Bryan went out into his political garden Saturday and gathered in a dozen election cucumbers, and proceeded with the skill of a political prestidigitateur to extract therefrom several smiling sunbeams, says the Telegram. Maryland was again safely Democratic. Kentucky was badly mixed up just now, but would be all right next year. The Nebraska cucumber, a fine, large, yellow specimen, afforded on dissection a flood of light. There was no doubt about Nebraska. Ohio needed more skillful treatment before the illuminating and calorific-conveying rays could be extracted, but they soon shone upon the operator's face and flamed from his tongue. McLean and Jones together had 50,000 more votes than Nash; therefore the Republican party is in the minority in Ohio, and can be easily beaten next year. The New York cucumber readily yielded a fine little beam in the statement that Assemblyman Mazet had been defeated, and another in the fact that the Republican vote had decreased, though not much light or heat could be obtained from the further fact that the Republicans had gained twelve members of the legislature.

However, the Lincoln farmer and professional orator succeeded to his own apparent satisfaction in extracting enough sunbeams from these election cucumbers to cheer him on his voluble way till the meeting of the next national convention.

The New York Sun divulges the following very interesting information: "Another disputed chapter in Admiral Dewey's career has been written aright through the revelations of his recent courtship. Evidently before the Spanish war began he had been told, as a reply to his application for special consideration, to 'go and get a reputation.' He went and got it, but the orders that drove him to Manila apparently were neither Secretary Long's nor Governor Roosevelt's."

In a stiff war with the Boers England has discovered some weak spots in its army, just as the United States discovered the "cankers of a long peace" when it went to war with Spain. A London dispatch says "the public is beginning, with some anxiety, to see what would have happened should any great power have taken the opportunity to attack Great Britain." In that event it would have been discovered that the other great power had weak spots in its army.

The little Orange Free State is annexing territory freely by proclamation. For a government with less than 100,000 inhabitants, its imperialistic appetite is immense. But if it doesn't annex things now in a hurry the opportunity may be lost.

Artemas Ward's mule story has been recalled by the episode at Nicholson's Nek. Artemas told of a young mule driver kicked by his team who informed his mother that he had come home to die. Her reply was: "So I perceive, my son; but where are the mules?"

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all the diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.
