LEADER OF REBELS KILLED

He and Alvarez Stirred the People to the Point of Insurrection.

FLAG RAISED IN ZAMBOANGA

Natives Elected Midel President of the Insular Government and Through the Diplomacy of Commander Very, of the Gunboat Castine, the Surrender of Alvarez and His Forces Was Brought About.

MANILA, Dec. 1.—8:30 a. m.—The steamer Salvador, from Zamboanga, island of Mindanao, which has arrived here, brings details of the occupation of the town by Commander Very, of the United States gunboat Castine.

The revolutionists in Mindanao were led by Alvarez and Calixto, who left Luzon some time ago and for the last seven months had been stirring up the people, winning a considerable following. The commercial depression and the lack of food resulting from the island's blockade set the people against the revolutionists and culminated in the assassination on November 15 of Calixto, a firebrand and the real leader of the revolution, by Midel, mayor of the town of Tetuan.

Midel, under a pretext, secured Calixto's presence in Tetuan and where the mayor's guards were stationed. The latter fired a volley, killing Calixto instantly. Midel at once repaired to the Castine and arranged with Commander Very for the occupation of Zamboanga. Commander Very asked that Datto Mandi, with 500 of his followers, stationed on a neighboring island, come to Zamboanga.

The following morning Midel raised the American flag over Zamboanga, the insurgents offering no resistance and evacuating the town. The Castine was saluted with twenty-one guns, and Commander Very landed 100 bluejackets and took possession of the town and fortifications. Datto Mandi's men arrived in the afternoon. They were armed with wooden shields and swords, and were used on picket duty.

Commander Very dispatched the gunboat Manila on November 15 to Jolo to convey troops to reinforce him. A company of the Twenty-third regiment, under Captain Nichols, arrived on November 17, and two more companies followed them shortly. Mandi's followers then returned home and Alvarez sought to arrange for a surrender of the arms and artillery pieces.

On the afternoon of November 20, Midel called a meeting of the local chiefs, who formally deposed Alvarez as leader of the revolutionists in the island and elected Midel president of the new insular government established under American sovereignty and control. The chiefs formally requested Commander Very to grant exemption from taxes until the re-establishment of commercial relations, permission to carry arms in the mountains, religious freedom and the power to conduct local government as they had previously done, which requests, pending the arrival of Brigadier-General Bates, the military governor of the district, the commander granted.

But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents, at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store. ## ROBERTS CASE IS HOPELESS

A Canvass of the House Pronounced Only Two in His Favor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: Brigham H. Roberts, the member-elect from Utah, will meet with a stalwart opposition when he appears to claim his seat in the house of representatives next Monday. A careful poll made by the Herald shows this conclusively.

To obtain as far as possible the sense of the members of the house of representatives, the Herald has caused to be made a careful canvass of the house. Each member who could be reached was asked how he would vote on the question of permitting Brigham H. Roberts to take and retain his seat, assuming that the charge of polygamy shall be proved true.

Responses have been received from more than two-thirds of the entire membership of the house. Of this number only two—one from Michigan and one from Georgia—declare themselves in favor of admitting Mr. Roberts regardless of the charge brought against him. The Herald's canvass shows an overwhelming sentiment in favor of unseating the member-elect from Utah.

Used By British Soldiers in Africa.

Capt. C. G. Dennison is well known all over Africa as commander of the forces that captured the famous rebel Galishe. Under date of Nov. 4, 1897, from Vryburg, Bechuanaland, he writes: "Before starting on the last campaign I bought a quantity of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used myself when troubled with bowel complaint, and had given to my men, and in every case it proved most beneficial." For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

Heavy Rainfall.

ASTORIA, Nov. 30.—The heaviest rain storm of the season visited Astoria today. The rainfall was three inches, and it was accompanied by a high wind, that at times reached a velocity of over sixty miles an hour. According to the reports of Weather Observer Johnson the precipitation for the month of November was 16.68 inches, and for the three months ending today 29.06 inches, an excess of 8.69 over the average for the corresponding months of previous years.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm Cures Others. Why Not You?

My wife has been using Chamberlain's Pain Balm, with good results, for a lame shoulder that has pained her continually for nine years. We have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors without receiving any benefit from any of them. One day we saw an advertisement of this medicine and thought of trying it, which we did with the best of satisfaction. She has used only one bottle and her shoulder is almost well. —ADOLPH L. ## MADE HEIR TO A THRONE.

Son of Queen Victoria's Fourth Son Is in Line, Through Several Renunciations.

Queen Victoria's sons have inherited from their father, the prince consort, a petty principality and throne in Germany. This is Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, a duchy with a territory of about 750 square miles—three-fourths of the area of Rhode Island—and a population exceeding 200,000. It is not a stronghold of power and influence, but a good deal of money goes with it, and makes it worth while to keep it in the family.

The prince of Wales renounced his rights to the duchy because he was heir to the English throne. The duke of Edinburgh accepted the inheritance, but he has no son to succeed him. The duke of Connaught was the next in line, but he and his son have renounced their rights. The heir to the throne is the son of the late duke of Albany, the queen's fourth son.

He is a schoolboy, in his fifteenth year, and has no prospects in England. He will now go to Germany to finish his education, and will cease to be an English prince. He will owe allegiance to the German emperor, and will probably serve his time in the army.

The inheritance has been arranged by Queen Victoria, whose will is law in the English royal family. She has provided for one of her favorite grandsons a snug and comfortable little throne on the continent, where he will have little to do, and where his income will be large.—Youth's Companion.

HAYTIEN CONSERVATISM.

Discard Innovations and Stick to the Old Laborious Method of Doing Things.

The Haytien is a wonderful example of conservatism. What, must be right. A few years ago the town of Port de Paix, owing to an unexpected progressive spirit on the part of the government, constructed some fine waterworks. The town was well piped, with hydrants at short distances on all the streets. Decorative fountains were placed in the squares, drinking places for man and beast everywhere. The natives, as usual, took not the slightest interest in this important and necessary undertaking. At last, when completed, in accordance with the custom of the country, the water system was opened with a series of fetes. The whole section of the country had a hilarious holiday—balls, processions, cock-fights, etc. When these were all over, says Harper's Magazine, the natives came to the conclusion that the waterworks must have been built to give an excuse for them, and the waterworks were no longer of any service, so they promptly smashed the whole system up and returned to carting the city's water from the distant river by ox teams. Now they tie their animals to the hydrants, fall over the fragments of the pipes scattered round the streets, and are happy.

SMART WOODPECKERS.

They Drop Bad-Smelling Berries Into Hollow Trees to Drive Grubs Out.

Prof. Eastman J. Clarke, with a party of students from Connecticut, has just returned from a long trip after natural history specimens in the Maine woods. Some weeks ago, while on the headwaters of the Allagash, he says he found a family of downy woodpeckers which seemed to be endowed with more intelligence than falls to the lot of the average bird. Woodpeckers feed upon worms that burrow into trees. As an active borer makes a gallery three or four feet long in a single season, the woodpecker is often obliged to make many punctures in order to get at his prey. The family of birds which came under Prof. Clarke's eye has adopted a labor-saving device which has proved of great service. The rankest plant that grows in the Maine woods is the India poke, the berries of which are charged with an alkaline juice that is very offensive to all animal life. According to Prof. Clarke, the Allagash woodpeckers, having opened up a gallery made by a borer, drop pokeberries in the orifice. The berries give out such an odor that the grubs are forced to come outside for fresh air, and the woodpecker does the rest.

The Walnut Crop.

The English walnut is said to be the most profitable of all nut-bearing trees. When in full bearing they will yield about 300 pounds of nuts to the tree. The nut sells on an average at about eight cents per pound. If only 27 trees are planted on an acre the income would be about $675.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Bled Quarts at a Time

"I am a knife maker and worked for a number of years in the New York Knife Co.'s factory at Walden, N. Y. First thing I knew I commenced to bleed from the mouth. Sometimes as much as a quart of blood would come up from my lungs at a time. Every time I coughed the blood spurted out. It was in the fall I got so bad, and the church people told me I had better make my peace with the Lord and prepare to die. For I would not live till spring. My home doctor couldn't do me any good, but advised me to get to New York City for examination. They finally took me to a medical college, and a whole lot of physicians made what they called a diagnosis. There were several students looking on. One professor had a little ivory hammer, and with this he pounded my chest and held his ear close to listen. After a while the professor looked at me solemnly and declared: 'One of your lungs is about gone and the other is affected. There may be a slim chance for life if you quit working in that knife factory.' I went back home, but didn't improve. One day I saw an advertisement of free samples of Acker's English Remedy for Consumption, being given away by our home druggists, Walker & Eaton. I got one of these bottles, and it relieved me. Then I bought more of the regular size, and my improvement was continuous, although slow. My doctors were astonished and so was I. After dark I hated to spit, because I was afraid it might be blood, and I wanted to know for sure. I have no fear now, for at last I am a solid man again. Although one lung is gone, the other is as sound as a dollar, and answers as well as two lungs, so far as I can see. I want everyone to know the facts and that is why I tell them here." (Signed) A. H. SIMPSON.
