NOT HIS BUSINESS AT ALL.

She Not Only Rode a Diamond Frame Bicycle, But She Had Him Arrested.

Bewildered, indeed, must have been the man with views about women and diamond frame bicycles when he found himself hauled before a magistrate, assailed with a judicial warning to mind his own business and fined five dollars, and all because he told a wheelwoman that no respectable woman would ride astride a wheel.

It is and has been since the dawn of life so much the habit of men to admonish women in general as to their uprisings and downittings, it is not surprising that when a man with clear-cut opinions as to just how girls should go sports meets with a young woman who is so radical as to prefer a diamond to a drop frame bicycle that he should condemn an exhibition which to him savors of immodesty.

Have not he and his fellows for countless generations defined modesty for women, who, as a sex, meekly accept their decrees; but here this upstart of a nineteenth century girl not only did not graciously receive his rebuke, but she declined even to argue the matter. And audaciously she mounted the former indecorous steel, thus affronting his vision, and away glided she, not vouchsafing him so much as a look.

She went, however, only to return with an arm of the law, that grabbed the rebuker and forced him tribunalward.

This dictator will in future probably confine his offensive remarks to the women whose misfortune it is to be related to him. One lesson in public manners at a cost of five dollars will probably suffice him.—Vogue.

Admiral George Dewey

Will receive the most royal welcome on Oct. 1st next, that was ever accorded to an American citizen.

You will find a complete biography of this great hero, including his brilliant victory over the Spanish fleet in the great, authoritative and up-to-date work of reference, the

New Werner Edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica

This is the only encyclopaedia on the market that mentions Admiral Dewey. It gives the date of his birth; how he spent his boyhood days; the part he took in the Civil War; how after the War he was employed on the European station; in the Naval Academy; his rise to the rank of Commander and President of the Board of Inspection and Survey; his command of the Asiatic Squadron; how on April 27th he left Hong Kong with his squadron, found and destroyed the Spanish Fleet, at Manila, on May 1st; his appointment as Acting Rear Admiral, the honors he received from Congress, and how on March 2nd, 1899, he was created full Admiral. It speaks of him as a strict disciplinarian, an all-around athlete, a daring horseman and a general favorite. It tells of his marriage to Miss Susy Goodwin, a daughter of the "fighting governor" of New Hampshire, who died in 1872, leaving a son, George Goodwin Dewey.

Governor Theodore Roosevelt Admiral Schley Admiral Sampson Capt. Clark of the Oregon and scores of other noted personages not even mentioned in any other Encyclopaedia receive the same attention in this edition of the

Encyclopaedia Britannica

It speaks of General Wood as Governor-General of Porto Rico; of General Henry as Governor-General of Porto Rico; of Aguinaldo's declaration of War against the U. S.
