WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Entertainment and bazaar at the Baldwin opera house tonight. Weather—Tonight and tomorrow, snow; decidedly colder; temperature at zero Sunday.

There is a surprise in store for all young people who attend the bazaar at the Baldwin tonight.

A girl who desires to do general housework (cooking excepted) can find employment by applying at this office.

For all kinds of the best home made candy call at the candy kitchen on the north side of Second street, between Court and Union. Retail and wholesale prices. 15-1w

A vegetable Christmas window is that displayed at A. M. Williams' this afternoon. The arrangement is particularly beautiful and arrests the attention of every passer-by. The dry goods window is also very prettily draped in the choicest of dress goods.

The snow made its appearance last night to the depth of almost five inches, the most of which, however, soon disappeared and only made the streets slushier. The storm was general, reaching the country districts somewhat sooner, so that the stage passed through quite a little snow yesterday.

This morning a marriage license was granted to Frank Reid and Maggie M. St. Martins. The wedding was to take place at the Catholic church this afternoon at 4 o'clock, but as the CHRONICLE has no desire to pronounce them man and wife before the minister has a chance, we will not be previous in our announcement.

It is stated there are more than 1000 women, the wives of rich men, in New York who spend more than $20,000 a year for dress. Women of this class, who have nothing to do but spend what belongs to other people, were doubtless born for some good in the world, but no one has been able so far to discover what it is.—E. O.

David Garrison, who was committed from the United States court on Nov. 14th for endeavoring to obtain a fraudulent pension, having been fined $1000 or 500 days in the county jail, was today discharged by order of J. M. Huntington, U. S. commissioner, under the statute which provides for the discharge of pauper convicts.

Many ladies who visit Mrs. Morgan's art studio have admired a painting of poinsettias, a flower which grows profusely in Southern California, but could hardly be made to imitate any flower so brilliantly colored. This morning she received several specimens of the flower sent from San Diego which are beautiful, and prove that the original are even more highly colored than the painting would indicate.

On account of the storm and disagreeable weather last night the attendance at the bazaar was not large; but those who were present say the musical program was excellent. Those who had labored so ardently to make the affair a success were greatly disappointed at the small house; but it is hoped they will be encouraged by the added numbers this evening, when a splendid program will be rendered.

Wednesday morning a telegram was received by Mrs. Bronson announcing the death of Mr. Bronson's mother, Mrs. Louisa M. Bronson, at 4 o'clock Tuesday evening at Santa Barbara, Calif. Being on the boat when the news arrived, it was thought best to delay breaking the sad news to Mr. Bronson until he reached home last night. While visiting her son in our city a few years since, Mrs. Bronson made very many warm friends, impressing all who met her by the charming manner of a perfect lady.

It is authentically reported today that the Sherman county bank, of Wasco, owned by a stock company, and of which V. C. Brock is cashier and J. M. Patterson president, failed to open its doors this morning. Particulars regarding the closing was not learned, but no doubt the principal cause is on account of the advances which the bank has made on the wheat crop, of which such an immense amount is being held, putting finances in Sherman county in bad shape. We trust that its doors will remain closed but a short time, and that business will soon be resumed.

Adam Koltzman, father of Harvey Koltzman, the young man who was charged with forgery and bound over in the sum of $500 to appear for a hearing on the 27th, arrived from Gresham last night to furnish bonds and release the boy. He expects to return with him to their home in Gresham on this afternoon's train. Many are of the opinion that the boy is the victim of another's jealousy. Be that as it may, should he be proven innocent he has been taught a lesson which he cannot soon forget in regard to the kind of company which a young man should choose.

In a report to the Portland Telegram Supt. Gardner, of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society says: "The donations from the merchants and the public schools in this last Thanksgiving were better in the aggregate than received last year. Some of our friends from outside counties generously remembered us, and in speaking of this we should not forget The Dalles, and our esteemed friend and agent, the Hon. George C. Blakeley, who interested himself with County Superintendent Gilbert and City Superintendent Landers to collect for us as much as possible in their city, and so well did their efforts succeed that besides a handsome donation of vegetables, fruit and clothing, they forwarded a cash donation of $33.25."

A change will be made in the post-office force on the first of the year, J. O. Mack, chief clerk, having resigned to accept a position as traveling salesman for a firm in Portland, and Forrest Fisher, who is now in the employ of Pease & Mays, will assume his position. Mr. Mack has made an excellent clerk, and Postmaster Riddell regrets to part with him. Since Oct. 1st, two months and a half, the volume of money order business has amounted to $20,000, and on his official visit to the office last Sunday the inspector found that the only error in the books was a matter of two cents off. He complimented the work of the office very highly and said the statements and book work are the neatest and best kept in the state. The choice of Mr. Fisher to fill the vacancy is a splendid one. He is a young man whom every one trusts implicitly and thoroughly competent to fill any position he may choose, having by his energy and application obtained an education far above the average.

F. M. Kagy, formerly business manager of the Northwest Herald, arrived in the city last night, coming to this place in the interest of the Native Son magazine, and has been occupied today in meeting our citizens and putting before them the worth of this publication. Mr. Kagy was a resident of The Dalles many years ago and meets many old friends. THE CHRONICLE has received many copies of the magazine he represents, and it is certainly a publication which everyone interested in Oregon should receive, if only for the valuable information it contains of the past history of our state. In looking over it we found such historical sketches as those of the early missionaries, among whom were given the names of Revs. Parrish, Waller, Gary, G. Hines, and Leslie, of the Methodist church; Revs. McCarthy, Faclair, Sellwood and Bishop Scott, of the Episcopal; Rev. Parker, Walker, Eels, Griffin and Spaulding, of the Congregational and Presbyterian; and Archbishop Blanchet, Bishop Demers and Father De Smet, of the Catholic church.

THE WORLD DO MOVE.

Five Days to Travel 150 Miles Then—A Few Hours to Carry News 3000 Miles Now.

While one hundred years ago it took five days to convey the sad news of Washington's death from Mt. Vernon to congress at Philadelphia, barely 150 miles away, yesterday from Washington, D. C., almost 3000 miles from the Pacific coast, in a few hours was carried the intelligence of the impressive ceremony which took place at Mt. Vernon on the centennial anniversary of that memorable day. The following documents conveyed the sad news to the body of legislators then assembled:

"UNITED STATES, Dec. 19, 1799.
"Gentlemen of the Senate, and Gentlemen of the House of Representatives: "The letter herewith transmitted will inform you that it has pleased Divine Providence to remove from this life our excellent fellow citizen, George Washington, by the purity of his character and a long series of services to his country rendered illustrious through the world. It remains for an affectionate and grateful people, in whose hearts he can never die, to pay suitable honors to his memory.

"JOHN ADAMS."
"MOUNT VERNON, Dec. 15, 1799.

"Sir: "It is with inexpressible grief that I have to announce to you the death of the great and good General Washington. He died last evening, between ten and eleven o'clock, after a short illness of about twenty hours.

"His disorder was inflammatory sore throat, which proceeded from cold, of which he made little complaint on Friday. On Saturday morning, about three o'clock, he became ill. Dr. Craik attended him in the morning, and Dr. Dick, of Alexandria, and Dr. Brown, of Port Tobacco, were soon after called in. Every medical assistance was offered, but without the desired effect. His last scene corresponded with the whole tenor of his life; not a groan nor a complaint escaped him in extreme distress. With perfect resignation and in full possession of his reason he closed his well spent life.

"I have the honor to be, with the highest respect, sir,
"Your most obedient and very humble servant,
"TOBIAS LEAR."

PEOPLE YOU ALL KNOW.

Tom Balfour is up from Lyle today. N. C. Evans, of Hood River, is in the city.

A. J. Brigham is a business visitor in town.

J. C. Yager is in from Grass Valley on business.

Louie Davenport came up from Mosier last night and spent today in town.

F. T. Esping, who has spent several days in The Dalles, returned to Antelope today.

Bert Barrett, who has spent the past week in the city, returned yesterday to Portland, where he is attending the dental college.

B. E. Snipes, who always looks so natural on the streets of The Dalles, is in town today meeting old friends and transacting business.

Tonight Mr. and Mrs. Truman Butler will leave for their old home in Le Compton, Kansas, where they will visit Mrs. Butler's parents. Mr. Butler will return in a short time, while his wife will make an extended visit. During their absence Mr. and Mrs. F. Cram will occupy their residence on Fourth street.

School Entertainment.

The largest audience that ever assembled in Dufur, enjoyed an evening's entertainment on Friday evening, Dec. 8th. The program was an entirely new feature, thus proving a novelty. The drills were well executed by all the departments. $92.55 was the sum taken in. This goes to the Dufur public school library and incidental fund. The people in that little village are wide awake to the needs of educational advantages and are prompt and liberal in their response. An entertainment was given last year, something over $70 being obtained. The school library now has over 134 volumes and this, with the $92.55 just obtained, will go a long way towards establishing a fine school library.

Uncle Sam's Duties.

"Look here, Ephraim, whar yo' gwine in sech a rig as dat?"
"To a masked ball, 'Linda. Ah's supposed to be Uncle Sam."
"Yo' doan say? Wal, come back heah, man, an' rock dese twins. Reckon if yo' an' Uncle Sam it's yo' place to take keah ob our new possessions. Reckon Ah'll dress up an' go to dat ball as Miss C'lumbia.—Chicago News.
