MOVED BACK FIVE MILES

Buller Is Expecting an Attack On the Railroad.

GUNS TURNED AGAINST HIM

Reports of Their Recapture Without Foundation — Fears Regarding Ladysmith.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—A dispatch to the Herald from Chiveley camp, dated December 17, says: General Buller's army moved back five miles today, the march beginning at 1 o'clock this morning, two brigades going to Frere in order to defeat a possible attempt on the part of the Boers to execute a flank movement to destroy the railroad on the British rear.

Buller's Guns Are Turned Against Him.

New York, Dec. 21.—A dispatch to the Herald from London says: Little credence is placed in the report that the guns lost by the British were not captured by the Boers. Had the story been true, General Buller must have referred to it. Sir Redvers' artillery cannot now muster much more than thirty guns, while the captured British weapons have no doubt been mounted in the Boer lines and can be used, since the ammunition wagons seem to have been lost with them.

Garrison Short of Ammunition.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The chief cause of uneasiness which brings back the shadow to English faces is a suspicion that the Ladysmith garrison is short of ammunition and incapable of a prolonged defense. The war office does not admit that Ladysmith is in serious danger or short of ammunition, but the censorship somehow has allowed these alarming reports to reach England. The censor, it is apparent, sometimes falls asleep, or is drugged by too candid and too inquisitive friends.

Boers Will Welcome Offer of Mediation.

New York, Dec. 21.—A dispatch to the World from Brussels says: Herr Holborn, in charge of the Transvaal agency here, asked today what truth is in the report that President Kruger is ready to sign a treaty of peace if Great Britain will ask for no further privileges for the Uitlanders, and will pay what the war has cost the Boers, answered: "No such proposals have been formulated yet. A contingency inviting proposals of peace would be welcome under certain conditions. If any government desires to mediate, the South African republic will treat."

College Building Burned.

AKRON, Dec. 20.—The main building of the Bucentel college, including all the laboratories, library, men's and women's dormitories, was burned to the ground tonight. The loss is fully $100,000, with $65,000 insurance.

LAWTON'S REMAINS AT MANILA

Arrangements Made For the Funeral of the Dead Soldier.

MANILA, Dec. 20, 8 p. m.—Major-General Lawton's body was brought from San Mateo to Manila this afternoon, his staff and a squadron of cavalry acting as escort. It was found necessary to bridge the river.

The funeral will take place from his late residence here, a mansion formerly occupied by a Spanish general. The body has been placed temporarily in a vault in El Pico cemetery, where many of the American soldiers have been interred, and a guard of honor will be maintained. When Mrs. Lawton and her four children shall have completed their arrangements for returning to the United States the remains will be taken on a transport, with an escort of officers, for final interment, as is thought probable here, in Arlington cemetery.

John L. Sullivan Is Broke.

New York, Dec. 20.—John L. Sullivan, who is being sued by a liquor firm for $1800 for goods purchased, testified in court today that he was without money or property. Afterward he stated that his earnings in the professional career had exceeded $100,000,000, and that he made $400,000 in the winter of 1883-4. He said: "I have been a good fellow, and I am broke. If anyone I knew needed money and asked me for it, he got it."

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My

CAUGHT IN A BLIZZARD

Two Men Had Perilous Trip on Lake County Prairies.

LAKEVIEW, Or., Dec. 16.—Dr. W. Kingston Vance and Dr. Hayman, two specialists from San Francisco, who have been traveling through this section, started from the Warner country, forty miles from here, yesterday morning with a two-horse hack to come to Lakeview through a blinding snow storm and three feet of snow. About noon they lost their way in the mountains, and the horses, not used to wading belly deep in the snow, gave out. They took the horses from the hack and floundered in the snow for a while on horseback, when the animals became completely fagged out and had to be abandoned. The men continued their journey on foot, wading through the snow up to their waists. As night came on they found some which to make a satisfactory deposit. If the contest occurs here it may be held by daylight, in the open air.

No Funds for Starving Alaskans.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The secretary of the treasury has notified the interior department that appropriations relating to Alaska, under control of the treasury, are specific that they cannot be applied for the relief of the Alaskan natives on Kodiak island, who are reported to be in destitute conditions.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is

INVESTIGATING FREIGHT RATES

Interstate Commission Is Looking Into Proposed Advances.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Heating was begun today by the interstate commerce commission in the matter of the changes in freight classification and freight rates by carriers using classification. Many complaints have been filed with the commission, alleging that discriminating changes in freight classification have been agreed upon to take effect January first next. To determine this question a hearing was held today.

Chairman Gill, of the "official classification committee," was the first witness. He maintained the proposed advances were due to the increased cost of railroad plants and maintenance, and that advances had been applied to classes of freight that could well pay them. He intimated that for some reason still further advances probably would have to be made.

A SURE CURE FOR COUGH.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use Without a Failure.

The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to the disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

My son has been troubled for years with chronic diarrhoea. Sometime ago I persuaded him to take some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After using two bottles of the 25-cent size he was cured. I give this testimonial, hoping some one similarly afflicted may read it and be benefited.—THOMAS C. BOWEN, Glencoe, O. skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Cold Weather at Prineville.

PRINEVILLE, Dec. 20.—The weather is cool and crisp here now, the thermometer registering about 15 degrees above zero in the mornings. A thin layer of snow lays on the higher hills, but very little feeding has been done as yet. Stockmen here are constantly in receipt of letters asking for prices on stock, both cattle and sheep. However, our people think this is too early to set prices for spring delivery, and prefer to wait for later market developments.

PEARY'S EXPEDITION

Accomplishments of the Great Arctic Sledge Traveler.

A Large Amount of Successful Work in Extending the Path Toward the North Pole—His Present Expedition.

It will surprise no one who knows the uncertainties of Smith sound navigation to learn that Mr. Peary was unable last year to force the Windward, carrying his supplies, nearer than 300 miles of the point he hoped to reach as his winter quarters and base of operations for his attack upon the pole. The Greely relief vessel Proteus was crushed and sunk at the south end of the channel in 1883. Sometimes the channel may be navigated with great difficulty, as in 1875, when it took Nares' vessels 20 days to advance 230 miles from Cape Sabine to Lady Franklin bay. Sometimes again the channel is comparatively free from ice, as in 1881, when Greely made the same journey in six days.

During the year his vessel was beset in the ice Peary was very busy with his sledge expeditions, and he has again justified the compliment which Sir Clements Markham paid him when he called the American explorer "the greatest of Arctic sledge travelers." His routes have extended over 1,500 miles, and he has covered much new ground and obtained most interesting knowledge about the geography of the region near Smith sound. Hayes sound, northwest of Cape Sabine, was thought to penetrate through the land mass to the Arctic ocean on the west, and thus separate Grinnell land from Ellesmere land. Peary has discovered that the so-called sound is merely a narrow inlet, and that Grinnell land and Ellesmere land form one land mass. The explorer has also surveyed and mapped some of the larger indentations on the west coast of the Smith sound route to the north; he has crossed the northern part of Ellesmere land, a journey never before made, and has connected his surveys of its western coast with those of Lockwood on the north, thus revealing a stretch of unknown coast line. From a geographical point of view there is no doubt that the large amount of accurate information Peary has collected for the enrichment of our maps fully justifies all his expedition has cost.

But he has done much more. The far north is his goal, and with enormous labor he has cached four tons of provisions for 250 miles along the channel he must ascend to reach the north of Greenland. These caches are not more than 50 miles apart, and the supplies they contain, with others he will move north, will enable him to reach a high latitude even if the Windward, next year, is unable to push on to Sherard Osborn fiord with the three years' stores she will carry to the explorer. He will thus make himself partly independent of his steamer, for even if she is unable to reach his northern base, the line of caches he has planted and will extend farther north may be replenished by such sledge journeys as he has made in the past year.

The explorer has thus done a large amount of successful work, both in extending exploration and in furthering the interests of his enterprise, which may keep him north for several years to come. None but the most dauntless of men could achieve what Peary has done in the past year, handicapped as he was by an unusually bad season, and by a serious accident that temporarily crippled him. His results thus far justify the hope that his further efforts will be crowned by the rich additions to geographical knowledge which this great explorer seeks to add to the work he has already done.—N. Grateful.

Gratitude has been defined as "a lively sense of favors to come." Like most cynical utterances upon life and conduct, the measure of truth it holds is not so absolute as to make it a standard for universal application. Here is a case in point: When the Klondike fever was rife, a New Yorker, out of work, penniless and despondent, touched the sympathies of a generous friend who gave him an outfit and sufficient money to reach the gold fields. The New Yorker prospered, and returned home recently to find his benefactor dead, and his widow and children impoverished.

At once and without solicitation he not only returned his friend's gift and the cost of the outfit, but bought and presented to the widow a small house; and here, happy with her children, she has taken up the trade of dressmaking, relieved from the anxieties of the future. Gratitude is not yet an extinct virtue.—Youth's Companion.
